COCKRELL'S COUNSEL IN BATTLE TO BAR JUROR

Remark Credited to H. Kamp That "He Could Not Have Been Won Over Had He Been on Nedderman Jury"

JUDGE TAKES MATTER UNDER ADVISEMENT

Juror Finally Asks Court to Excuse Him From Serving, but the Prosecuting Attorney Offers an Objection

About the eligibility of Hans Kamp of Pleasanton to serve upon the jury that will try David W Cockrell for bribery, a war of counsel again raged for two hours and a half this morning and there was still no decision at the noon hour Judge James G Quinn was expected at the opening of the afternoon session to decide whether Kamp should be excused for cause as the defense has demanded

Following the new law with regard to challenges the jury box contained its usual twelve members at noon, but the jury's composition had been several times changed, and more changes were in prospect before the case could settle down to actual trial Mrs Carrie S Smith of 2155 Vine street, Berkeley, was being examined at that time

The prosecution has so far exercised two of its five peremptory challenges and the defense four of its ten, so that the usual ratio has been well maintained Mrs L Bates and Mrs Bridges have been released by the state, and William H Atwood J S Corrigan, Mrs Nettie Rogers and George W. Hendy by the defense

TWO HOUR ARGUMENT IN CHAMBERS

The first two hours this morning were consumed in an argument in chambers as to whether Kamp should be kept or dropped The admission he made yesterday afternoon of having stated after the trial of former Chief John H Nedderman that he would not have swerved from his vote if he had started voting for conviction as a member of the jury in that case, was the ground upon which the defense argued for his dismissal. Its chief point was made on the basis of decisions that indicated the court was empowered, where even a slight doubt of eligibility was present, to release the juror Judge Quinn took the matter under advisement and, returning to court, further questioned Kamp himself The latter emphatically declared that he had no prejudices one way or the other in the case, nor had he had any prejudices as to the merits of the Nedderman charge. He declared his position was that, had he entered the jury room in the other case with a settled opinion one way or the other, he would have adhered thereto.

Kamp himself added a further complication to the situation when he declared that, in view of the difficulties surrounding his eligibility, he would like to be excused from serving by the court. To this the district attorney's forces at once objected, but the defense asked the court to grant his plea. Finally, Judge Quinn decided to withhold decision on either grounds for dismissing Kamp until after the noon recess

HENDY IS EXCUSED BY THE DEFENSE.

The defense excused Hendy and the examination of Mrs Smith, which was without feature, was concluded by the prosecution and commenced by the defense just before noon.

With nine peremptories still to be exercised the prospect of any immediate securing of a jury was exceedingly dim when court reopened this afternoon. It was generally believed that Kamp would be excused on a peremptory by the defense if he was not excused for cause, which would leave still another vacancy to be filled. How many others of the temporary jury the defense proposed to lose was not known. The prosecution had expressed itself satisfied except as to any new persons who might be called into the jury box.

The matter of Kamp's availability for jury duty was the first occasion on which jury investigation outside of court has come definitely to light. With the court's permission, Phillip M. Carey of defense counsel reopened his examination of Kamp after the jury box had been temporarily filled yesterday afternoon He demanded to know if Kamp, following the mistrial of former Chief Nedderman, had criticised members of the jury in that case for changing their verdict.

"I said," Kamp admitted, "that if I had voted in the first place for conviction I would not have gone over to acquittal. I said I could not understand how four of ten jurors could have changed over."

The prosecution, under Deputy

MRS. GLADYS COURVOISIER DUNN, Oakland society woman, who is on trial for slaying her child.

MURDER TRIAL OF FORMER OAKLAND WOMAN BEGINS

PITTSFIELD Mass July 24—Mrs Gladys Courvoisier Dunn, former Oakland society girl, today was placed on trial here, accused of the murder of her infant son, Allan Dunn Jr., following a quarrel with the child's father, J Allan Dunn, magazine writer from California

The slaying the result of a quarrel between the couple in their home in the Lenox colony, was followed by an attempt on the part of the young mother to end her life by poison

Insanity will be the defense Mrs Dunn, who was released on $10,000 bail after the shooting, was committed to the Northampton Insane Hospital, but was later released, whereupon she was charged with murder Her attorneys say that the shooting occurred after a quarrel, the defendant suffering from a period of dementia at the time

As Gladys Courvoisier, the defendant was well known in Oakland society and the art colony in San Francisco She figured in a number of sensational episodes, and was known as a fancier or blooded wolf hounds She attempted, eight years ago, to lobby through the legislature a bill forbidding one-armed men from driving automobiles, because a machine driven by a one armed man had run down one of her dogs She was married to "Pete" Madden, a naval lieutenant, later divorcing Madden She left for the East with Dunn about five years ago, their child being born there.

LOTTERY RAIDS NETTED OAKLAND $50,000 IN 1916

"Inside" disclosures of the practice of former city councils, in figuring as a part of the city's revenue money obtained from Chinese lottery raids, were made today in the meeting of the city council, when Commissioner William J Baccus told of estimating' the Chinese lottery income at $50,000 in 1916 and of its collection

The disclosure was made through charges filed against Captain Walter J. Petersen by Phil Reilly Reilly demanded that the city council take action to dismiss Petersen, declaring that in 1916, while the latter was chief of police, he had issued orders to his men that seventeen lottery houses were to be permitted to operate and that no new ones should be allowed.

This, Reilly held was in violation of his oath of office The council referred the matter to Commissioner F F Morse, despite Reilly's protest that this meant whitewash"

"I can tell all about that lottery matter," said Baccus "I was on the council then We were making up the budget, and the council called Petersen in and asked him how much could be raised outside of taxes—meaning raiding Chinese lotteries and collecting the fines He said they could probably raise $50,000 that way, figuring on past arrests The council decided to go ahead and do it. Commissioner F F Jackson gave Petersen the orders Whatever orders he gave the men were from Jackson, and the money collected in fines in the police court, was used by the city

"Later Mayor Davie, it will be remembered, told of the practice and announced that hereafter the city would not raise revenue in that way"

Morse said that he knew nothing about the matter save that he heard that Petersen had been instructed in the lottery matter and had acted accordingly. I will look into the matter of course," he said, "although it was long before my time"

Petersen said that he had never issued any direct orders to policemen to allow any lotteries to operate without molestation. "Reilly is a liar," he said "What was done in the lottery matter in 1916 is a matter of council record I have nothing to fear from any investigation."

MORSE ORDERS DISMISSAL OF CAPTAIN BOCK

Commissioner Says Testimony of Police Officer Shows Him on Too Friendly Terms With Gambling Interests

Deposed Man Will Carry His Fight to the Civil Service Board and Demand Hearing on the Formal Charges

Holding that testimony of Police Captain Charles Bock, given in the trial of former Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman, showed that Bock's associations with Chinese gamblers were such as to disqualify him as a police officer, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F F Morse today ordered immediate dismissal of the policeman Morse's order was dated to take effect today

Bock automatically is laid off duty, but the dismissal cannot be final until the Civil Service Board has approved it Friends of Bock said he would file an immediate appeal, making it necessary for Morse to bring charges before the board and prove them.

Bock's dismissal follows a suit, filed in the Superior Court by A M Armstrong, a local attorney, seeking to remove Morse from office on the ground that he had not dismissed Bock after his testimony in the Nedderman case This, Armstrong held in his suit, constituted neglect of duty.

BOCK ADMITTED HIS ACTIONS SAYS MORSE.

Morse holds that not only in the Nedderman trial, but in his own hearing, Bock made admission of improper intimacy with gambling interests Morse's statement is as follows

I have this day removed Charles H. Bock from the position of Captain of Police for misconduct, incompetency and failure to perform his duties under, and observe the rules and regulations of, the police department

I have taken this action as a result of my investigation held in the latter part of April At that time I called Captain Bock before me and required him to testify concerning his connection in the alleged police graft scandal Under oath he has admitted (1) improper intimacy with gamblers and law violators in this city, (2) neglect and failure to suppress crime and law violations, or to report the same to proper officers in the police department, and (3) participation in efforts to bribe the chief of police of this city to grant protection to certain lotteries and gambling interests The confession made by Captain Bock to me was again substantially repeated in the subsequent trial of the chief of police

"DISCREDITED," SAYS MORSE STATEMENT.

'It follows that Mr Bock has so completely discredited himself as police officer as to be no longer of value to the police department of this city This kind of conduct of police officers cannot be tolerated if the people of this city are to receive proper police protection As commissioner, I certainly intend to do everything in my power to prevent such palpable abuse of police duty Accordingly, I ordered the dismissal as previously stated'

Bock testified in the Nedderman trial to being on friendly terms with Mrs Wong You, a Chinese woman whose husband left her a gambling interest among other property He said that he carried a message from Nedderman to the Chinese, asking protection payments for the former police chief

Densmore's Acts in Mooney Case May Be Probed

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Congress should make a complete investigation of the activities of John B. Densmore, as special government investigator in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, Representative Blanton, Texas, declared today. Blanton's resolution was responsible for Secretary of Labor Wilson sending to the House yesterday Densmore's report.

Blanton criticised the secretary's action in refusing to give the details of Densmore's activities or an itemized statement of the expenditure of government money in the case.

The investigation should be held to determine these facts, Blanton said, and he has prepared another resolution asking for the probe.

Certain portions of the Densmore report on the Mooney case will not be printed "because of their indecency," Speaker Gillett said today. The whole report will be carefully scanned and all remarks of this character will be stricken out, he said.

The point of the report in question is an excerpt from the dictaphone testimony submitted by Densmore and quotes a conversation between a San Francisco man and woman who were connected with the case against Mooney.

BORREE KNOCKS OUT ENGINEER; SAVES COLLECTOR

Special to The TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—While stenographers screamed and fainted and masculine spectators stood about excitedly curious as to who would be the victor, Adjutant-General J. J Borree today knocked down and out Cassius M Phinney, civil engineer, in one of the most spectacular fistic duels ever fought in the capital city.

Phinney, with nose broken in two places and covered with contusions and cuts resultant from the beating sustained at the hands of Borree, is in jail here on the charge of beating P Schaeffer, a bill collector Schaeffer is badly battered himself following a skirmish engaged in earlier in the morning with Phinney.

The adjutant-general, with a disjointed finger and a few bruises on the face, is back at his office as if nothing had happened. The whole thing began over bills and bill collectors Borree and Phinney have offices close to each other in the Forum building here Some time ago, according to an official version of the fight and its causes, a bill collector entered the office of Phinney and attempted to collect money from the civil engineer

It is charged that Phinney became abusive on learning who the visitor was. High words were continued by Phinney, it is said, after the bill collector had backed into the hallway Borree heard the alleged abuse and, coming out in the hallway interfered At this time he warned Phinney to discontinue his abusive language in the future After more words the two men separated

Today Schaeffer entered Phinney's office to collect a bill. Phinney became abusive once more, it is charged, at last attacking the bill collector Borree heard the epithets and entered Phinney's office in time to save Schaeffer from a serious beating Phinney had the man onthe floor, it is charged, beating and choking him Borree dragged him from under the rain of blows

In the corridor outside Phinney's office the engineer and Adjutant-General engaged in another word battle more serious than the first, one Words led to blows, and in the fight which followed, Phinney was floored several times, finally falling for the count The police finally made their way through a circle of excited spectators, and took charge. Phinney and Schaeffer were taken to the emergency hospital, where their wounds were dressed, after which the civil engineer was arrested on a charge of battery preferred by the bill collector

VIENNA, July 24—The Hungarian reds continuing their offensive against the Rumanians were advancing today all along the entire line of the east bank of the Tisza river Reports received here stated that the red offensive was being directed by Bela Kun

(This apparently refutes the report that Bela Kun had been ousted as director of the Hungarian communist government or indicates that he has returned to power)

The red forces, in their drive toward Grosswardein, had captured the important towns of Szentes and Torok-Szent-Miklos, east of the Tisza between Budapest and their objective They also had seized large quantities of war material

In their defeat of the Rumanians the reds crossed the Tisza at numerous places between Tokaje and Csongrad. They were under command of Commissary Landler and former Lieutenant-Colonel Juliet, chief of the general staff

It is learned the reds also intended to attack the Hungarian white army, employing three divisions of infantry and thirty batteries of artillery Attacks are planned from several directions

Bela Kun has sent a note to the peace conference explaining that the reds were obliged to attack the Rumanians because the latter had disregarded 'will of the entente"

The reds it was added, desired to force the Rumanians to respect the will of the peace conference

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, July 24—The government has received a despatch from Major-General Ironside, commander-in-chief on the Archangel front, stating that the Russian troops under his command have mutinied and gone over to the Bolsheviki, giving over to the enemy the Onega front and the town of Onega The "reds" also attempted to capture the railroad front, but were repulsed

There are few British troops on the railroad front and none on the Onega front General Ironside now has the situation in hand and believes that the fresh volunteer British troops 'are equal to their difficult and perilous task"

It has been stated in the British House of Commons that the greater part of the allied army left on the Archangel front consisted of anti-Bolshevist Russian troops.

Archangel Called Nest of Reds

Slav Treachery Is Denounced

Russians Lazy, Says Officer

At least 95 per cent of the inhabitants of Archangel are Bolsheviki and from the beginning of the expedition into that district Russian troops under British command have mutinied, was the comment made by Lieutenant Thomas Watt, 339th infantry, returned this week from Archangel, where he had been on duty more than ten months on the despatches from Major General Ironside, commander-in-chief on the Archangel front, to the British government General Ironside reports that Russian troops under his command have mutinied and gone over to the Bolsheviki, giving to the enemy the Onega front and the town of Onega. The attempts of the 'reds' to capture the railroad front, the English officer states, were repulsed

'Hundreds of Russian troops have gone over to the Bolsheviki, declared Lieutenant Watt today At one time as many as 400 left our forces in a body I remember one day at Tulgas we had about 800 men and were having all that we could do to hold our position with that number Of these 400 Russian troops in a body went over to the Bolsheviki We were outnumbered and overpowered We did not wait upon our going We just left The Russians had surrounded the city. From our new position we shelled Tulgas and later went back to take what was left.

RUSSIANS IN BRITISH UNIFORMS EXECUTED.

There was one uprising when we had to take the machine gun out That time we executed some fifteen or sixteen Russian soldiers in British uniforms, who were being trained in the British machine gun school. There was another time when the Russian marines went on a rampage and we tried and executed a number of the leaders"

According to the American officer, who has returned to California from the first the failure of the Russians to do their duty was the cause of the unrest between British and American soldiers.

"Supposedly we were sent into Russia to fight their cause When it was seen that young Russian men were idling about the streets in full health and with no idea of entering military service, the troops grew restless In January or February to meet this crisis, Russian civilians were conscripted by the Russian government for duty in the allied armies and assigned at Archangel to the British command. They were given a full equipment of British uniforms, guns, ammunition and two months or so intensive training They were sent to the front lines For two or three days they would fight and then they would go over to the Bolsheviki, equipment and all. In addition they had all the knowledge of the position and strength of the allied army camps

'If one can get a chance to talk to a Russian, he can be persuaded to do anything," declares Lieutenant Watt. "The Bolsheviki, leaders promised Utopia. Before each man was held the gift of land, a cow, a horse, little work and much money The women of Russia were nationalized, at the age of 16 becoming public property The men were given selection three times a week in rotation In some districts near Archangel it was billed that beginning April 1, this law would actually go into effect Fully 85 per cent of the population of Russia is illiterate The majority are women The 'Red' is a man's movement The leaders want to establish a social anarastic government. When the 339th went into Archangel the Bolsheviki were not well organized They have grown tremendously in numbers and organization

BOLSHEVIKI TROOPS WELL ORGANIZED

'As soon as the German situation cleared up, German military officers took hold The warfare is carried on strictly German lines I would not say that the German government has anything to do with it," states the former Oakland Y M. C A. man," but these officers as individuals rather are lending aid

"We believed that it was far safer fighting at the front with shells whizzing and machine guns busy than to tarry for long in Archangel with the Bolsheviki

'It was to the Onega front that Company I was ordered when it refused to move until the men were given a reason for their fighting It will be remembered however that the men did go on the grounds of military loyalty It is this sector which General Ironside's report says has been taken by the Reds

50,000 BRITISH MAY AVERT DISASTER.

"When I read the British General's report' adds Lieutenant Watt my thought was that if the British can sent in 50,000 troops by the first of December they will be able to hold the situation As I see it at Archangel it would take at least a division Last year the first ship of any size entered the port December It is 200 miles through almost impassable country for a body of men to move to the railroad When the winter season comes what is in stays in There would be no way for the British to get away if they could not command the situation

"We often discussed what would happen to our 15,000 if the front line trenches were taken If they had broken all that we could have done was to put our backs to the wall and fight to the death"

Lieutenant Watt believes that the last of the American troops who were sent into the Archangel district have been withdrawn A few Y. M. C A. and Y W C A, workers were to have remained until the first of August, but with the going out of the engineers he thinks they have also left the station

BERKELEY, July 24—His uniform, that of a private, adorned with the silver bar of a captain, with the insignia indicating that he was in the balloon service, Frank Harrison Allen, aged 21 was arrested by the Berkeley police today on a charge of impersonating an officer

For two months Allen has been a familiar figure about Berkeley, appearing with a swagger stick and a swagger walk to go with it Handsome, dark hair and accompanied by a beautiful young woman, he attracted much attention He was seen frequently on the campus and aroused the general belief that he was in some way connected with the University of California.

Frank Swain of the Berkeley police force was among those attracted by Allen's appearance He noted the inconsistency in the uniform and began an investigation When Allen was arrested he gave the name of Jack La Grange, but a search of his pockets revealed discharge papers for Frank Harrison Allen When confronted with this evidence, together with fingerprint record and photographs from the Richmond police, he admitted his identity

Allen was arrested about four months ago at Richmond on a charge of issuing fictitious checks, but was released after a short time in jail He also served a short term in the state reformatory at Ione It was found that he had been living at 2320 Bancroft way Berkeley, with his wife, who came to the police station soon after his arrest.

She told the officers that her husband had been looking for work Further than that neither she nor Allen would discuss the case They said they desired to communicate first with a San Francisco attorney

Allen is said by occupation to be a stationary engineer His uniform bears two gold service stripes, indicating a year with the army overseas The discharge papers showed, however, that he had served only in this country at Camps Kearny and Lewis United States authorities will be asked to take charge of the case.

FRANCE-U.S. TREATY IS DEMANDED BY LODGE

President Accused of Violating Terms of Pact by Failure to Present It to Senate at Same Time as Peace Treaty

TAFT CORRESPONDING WITH DEMOCRAT HEADS

Former President Suggests Reservations in Ratification Action; Administration to Fight to Last on Changes

WASHINGTON, July 24—A resolution requesting President Wilson to submit to the Senate the treaty by which the United States would promise to aid France in the event of unprovoked attack by Germany was offered in the Senate today by Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee. Unanimous consent for its immediate consideration was refused by Senator Robinson (Dem.), Arkansas.

Senator Lodge offered the measure after a sharp debate, during which Republican spokesmen declared that the terms of the treaty required that it be submitted to the Senate for ratification at the same time as the treaty with Germany. The Lodge resolution pointed out that the treaty had been laid before the French Chamber of Deputies, been printed in newspapers in the United States and that Article IV provided that it should be presented to the Senate along with the German treaty.

Senator Brandegee (Rep.), Connecticut, read into the record today a magazine article quoting the text of the French-American document as requiring that it be submitted for ratification "at the same time" as the treaty with Germany.

TAFT SENDS HIS IDEAS TO DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS.

Former President Taft, who has written to several Republican Senators and leaders suggesting reservations to the peace treaty which might be acceptable to both sides, has opened correspondence on the subject with a prominent Democratic Senators Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, one of the leading spokesmen for the administration in the Senate fight, received a letter today from Taft.

The former President's communication to the Nebraska Senator was not made public, but it was understood to be of the same general tenor as those sent to the Republicans—suggestions for agreement upon treaty reservations or interpretations to facilitate ratification

Senator Hitchcock and other administration Senators declared today however, that for the present at least they would continue their efforts for ratification without reservation

DEMOCRATS FIRM FOR UNRESERVED ACTION.

Conceding that strength might develop to compel acceptance of a ratification resolution with qualifying clauses, the administration senators said the administration would oppose to the last any qualifying clauses which would require re-negotiation of the treaty

Although Senators McNary, Oregon., McCumber, North Dakota, and others conditionally favoring the league, expressed confidence that in the end most of the Democrats and many Republicans would unite in a middle ground, Democratic leaders remained unchanged in their attitude favoring unreserved ratification

President Wilson had no engagements today with Republican Senators for discussion of the treaty and the league covenant Senators visiting the White House yesterday were the last on the list of fifteen selected by the President, but it was said invitations to other senators would go forward as Wilson desired to confer with as many of them as possible before starting on his speaking tour

President Wilson's advisers said today the President had known for several days of the existence of the letters of former President Taft suggesting reservations on the peace treaty Some of the senators with whom Wilson has conferred recently have been in communication with Taft on the subject

Secretary Lansing, who returned to Washington today from Paris, had a long conference with the President at the White House during the forenoon, discussing the situation at the peace conference and other matters

NAUGHTY SHIMMY IS DANCE FLAYED BY BIG SISTERS

The naughty, wigglesome "shimmy" and the hula hula came in for a grilling today before the city council. The Big Sisters, Helen Swett Artieda, Captain W. H. Myers, who has been a "law enforcement" officer in the War Department, were all present to take a swat at the naughty dance. They want a law passed forbidding the highly popular shimmy contests—"before they go too far."

Captain Myers and Mrs. Artieda presented the San Diego "chemically pure" law for soft drink cabarets for the consideration of the council, and urged that the same law, perhaps modified, be in force here. The law will bar the following:

The "Shimmy."
The "Hula Hula."
"Twilight Waltzes."
"Moonlight Dances."

The law also provides that entertainers in cabarets be railed off or caged off fro mpatrons; that no tips be allowed; that the places close at midnight, so that those present might not waste too much time there; that a "public chaperon" be installed in every cabaret to see that all be conducted right; that copies of the laws decorate the walls of the cabarets instead of naughty pictures, that the revelers might be edified by contemplation of the statutes of the city; and that a police inspector make the rounds of the places every night.

The voluminous mass was referred by the council to Commissioner Morse for his perusal and decision.

SENATOR SHOWS FAITH IN JAPAN

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Declaring the treaty provision giving Japan control in Shantung had been "repeatedly misinterpreted and generally misunderstood," Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, told the Senate today it was unjust to suspect Japan's motives or to question the declaration of her statesmen that the territory eventually would be restored to China.

"It has been stated by one Senator," said Robinson, "that by the treaty Shantung with its 40,000,000 inhabitants is wrested from China and presented to Japan. The territory involved in this controversy is limited to a small land area of approximately 200 square miles and an equal water area. The total population of the leased area is approximately 165,000.

"Little dispute arises as to the origin of Germany's claims in this area. As a part of the movement of the nations to secure concessions in China, Germany in 1896 undertook negotiations for rights and privileges in the Kiao Chow region. These negotiations were successful. March 6, 1898, Germany concluded a treaty with China by which she acquired a lease of ninety-nine years on both sides of the Bay of Kiao Chow.

That Germany regarded her rights in Shantung as subject to seizure by the allied nations at war with her, is disclosed by her efforts to anticipate their occupation of the leased territory. Japan obtained possession by act of war and while in possession secured the agreement of China to recognize any settlement that she might make with Germany upon the restoration of peace.

"Japanese statesmen have repeatedly reaffirmed the purpose to return the ceded territory to China as soon as it can be accomplished in accordance with the agreement between China and Japan. No beneficial effect can result if we assume that Japan is acting in bad faith."

CHICAGO ROBBER SUSPECT IN JAIL

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—A man who said he was Thomas Morens, 36 years old, but who was arrested as Tom Gaetane, alias Tom Ascuitte, charged with being implicated in a robbery at the Winslow Manufacturing Company's offices in Chicago two years ago, when the cashier and guard of the office was killed, was taken into custody here last night.

Two men already have been found guilty of the robbery, in which $35,000 was taken, and of the murder of the two company employees, and have been hanged.

BRITISH DODGE OFFERS AS U. S. AMBASSADORS

LONDON, July 12 (By mail).—Most of the British statesmen who have been asked by Premier Lloyd George to accept the post of ambassador to the United States have refused, not because they do not want it, but because they cannot afford the cost, says the Daily Express.

"Washington is expensive, and the ambassador's wife who hoped to get through on £8000 or £10,000 ($40,000 to $50,000) a year, would so on find herself mistaken."

The Express adds: "Even Lord Reading, who is a rich man, found it rather expensive."

Taft Urges Changes to Save Treaty in U. S. Senate

President Wilson Blamed for Hostility of Congress

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A program of interpretations to be included in senate ratification of the peace treaty in order to insure support of the Republicans favorable to a league idea is suggested in letters from former President Taft to Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, copies of which are in the hands of some of the Republican Senators.

The letters suggest six "interpretations," covering the right of withdrawal, limiting the representation of dominions and colonies, asserting the prerogative of Congress to declare war under Article 10, confirming national control over domestic issues, defining the Monroe Doctrine, and reserving the right to terminate obligations under Article 10 at the end of ten years.

Taft wrote that these interpretations would not weaken the league covenant, but would, he believed, assure ratification. He suggested that he should not appear publicly at this time. The letters in part are as follows:

"Speaking generally, I wish to emphasize my conviction that the United States Senate might well ratify the present treaty, without any reservation of interpretations.

GOING TO PARIS A MISTAKE.

"The situation which confronts us now in reference to the ratification of the treaty is one created by very serious mistakes of policy committed by Mr. Wilson. The partisan character of his administration during the war, together with his appeal to his countrymen to elect a Democratic Congress in November, 1918, created a condition of personal and political antagonism toward him among Republican leaders which was shared by a majority of the American people. This was shown in the results of the election. Notwithstanding this, Mr. Wilson persisted in continuing the same partisan exclusion of Republicans in dealing with the highly important matter of settling the results of the war. He selected a commission in which the Republicans had no representation and in which there were no prominent Americans of any real experience and leadership of public opinion.

"With such a commission his unusual course in going abroad himself as President, greatly emphasized the personal element in the framing of the treaty and intensified the general tendency to oppose anything that he might bring home, because of his apparent wish to dictate the policy of the world and to monopolize the credit for it.

"In my judgment it would be most unfortunate if the cautionary influence of article X may not be retained in the crucial decade through which the world is to pass.

"To repeat, I am strongly in favor of ratifying the treaty as it is. Were I in the Senate I would not hesitate to vote for it, but the situation may require concession to secure ratification, and I suggest what I have already sent to you, a copy of which I enclose, as something that will secure a useful league of nations, which may be improved and which at the same time may satisfy the genuine objections of the Republican friends of the league in the Senate.

"Coming now to specific interruptions, it seems to me that the first achieves all that the draftsmen of the withdrawal clause intended, and as thus interpreted relieves that clause from a possible construction by which the actual withdrawal on two years' notice might be greatly hindered through the claims of the other members of the league.

"The second interpretation has to do with the presence in the league, as members, of self-governing dominions, or colonies of a home government, also a member. Certainly, in a small body like that of the council, it would be unfair to have a home government represented and also one of its dominions or colonies, and I cannot think it was the intention of the framers of the covenant that this migth happen. Yet I am bound to say that such a result is not excluded by the present language of the covenant in article 10 and article 4; nor does the language of article 15 necessarily exclude from the tribunal to recommend a settlement of a dispute, a home government where one of its dominions or colonies is a party; nor does it necessarily exclude a dominion or colony from such tribunal where the home government may be a party; yet,

"The third interpretation is an exact legal construction of the effect of article 10, and I do not see how any of the signatory powers can object to it. The conclusions in respect to the function of Congress under this article is the necessary result of the distribution of power under the Constitution, to which none of the associate members of the league can object."

FOURTH INTERPRETATION.

"The fourth interpretation is a mere statement of international law and the proper construction of the seventh paragraph of Article XV, which is only inserted to satisfy criticism of that paragraph, based on the unfounded assumption that some tribunal of the league will be found which will declare issues in respect to immigration of the tariff to be something other than a question of domestic policy. If, as all authorities show, immigration and tariff unaffected by treaties are purely domestic questions, then it cannot injure the league to say that which is undoubtedly a maxim of international law.

"The fifth interpretation defines the Monroe Doctrine. As the expression 'Monroe Doctrine' is used in Article XXI and as the United States is the author of the doctrine and has maintained it for ninety-six years, it is fairly within the limit of an interpretation for it to state what the doctrine has been made to be in the history of its development to the present day. As the time has come for its world recognition, the time has also come for its definition, and I believe the language used correctly states what we have a right to claim it to be and all that we have the right to claim it to be.

"These interpretations, it seems to me, reasonably answer all the reasonable or sincere criticisms made against the league except as they are met by the single reservation as to Article X. Mr. Root, in his letter to you, proposed the operation of Article X be limited to five years when the settlements of the war should be re-examined, with the view to the further operation of the article after a re-settlement."

GRAFT CASE JUROR CAUSE OF CLASH

District Attorney Wittschen's questioning, drew from Kamp the explanation that his criticism was not of the sides which the jurors originally took or subsequently assumed, but of their instability. He had been used to making up his mind in the beginning of deliberations on juries, he said, and of adhering to his position throughout. On this showing the prosecution fought the challenge, and it was taken under advisement by Judge Quinn.

Mrs. L. Bates was excused by the prosecution. Mrs. Charlotte A. Shurtleff of 2128 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, called in her stead, was excused by the court as she believed the trial would be too long and strenuous for her strength. Mrs. Mary E. Lewis of 1356 Broadway, Alameda, followed her and had not been challenged when court adjourned yesterday. J. S. Corrigan was excused by the defense, and Mrs. Nettie Rogers of 2019 Lincoln avenue, Alameda, occupied his place.

Carey's characterization of the prosecution's evidence and the prosecution itself as "tainted," drew a hot retort from District Attorney Decoto during the afternoon session.

"I say you are tainted," roared Carey, leaping to his feet. "I say you are tainted with the bad taint of putting self-confessed gamblers and criminals upon this stand and of depending for the case against this man on the testimony of rotten accomplices. How is it these men who have actually come into this court and confessed to misdemeanors and felonies have not been arrested. I charge right here and now that promises of immunity have been given them if they testify against these defendants, and I claim that is tainted testimony."

"Every statement you have made here is a falsehood," shouted Decoto.

"Then the best way for you to prove it" Carey answered, "is for you to arrest these self-confessed gamblers and felons."

"You are a deliberate and wilful falsifier," was Decoto's reply this time.

There was a ripple of applause in the back of the room.

"I claim the protection of this court," said Carey, looking toward the judge who, for several moments had been trying to make his voice heard above the din and who now threatened dire punishment if the warring attorneys did not desist.

"He's lost his head; that's the trouble with him," said Carey.

A few moments later Thomas O'Connor, also of counsel for defense, restored the entente cordiale. Some remark he made drew from Wittschen the statement:

"I see that Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Carey are thoroughly in agreement."

"Yes," O'Connor shot back, "and we are probably the only two Irishmen on earth who are."

AIRPLANE WINS FROM STORK IN NEW YORK RACE

NEW YORK, July 24.—In the first race ever staged between a stork and an airplane, the stork lost by ten minutes.

Byron Brooks, naval architect, the winner, was on Staten Island when he received the summons. He motored to Mineola, rented an aero-taxi and paused only to send the following message:

"Coming by air. Ask Jean to wait."

Brooks made the entire 75-mile trip from Staten Island to East Hampton, L. I., in an hour and 22 minutes.

BOY HIDES BODY OF COMPANION KILLED AT PLAY

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—When blood soaked through the plaster of the ceiling above the bed of George Miller and his wife, they called the police to investigate.

Above them for two days and nights had lain the naked, bleeding body of Frank McCauley, age seven, killed with an army automatic pistol.

Then George Miller Jr., age 10, told his story. He said he had found his playmate dying from the bullet wound. After the boy died, he said, he carried the body into the bath room, removed all the clothing and washed away the blood. Then, he said, he carried the body to the attic and hid it, too frightened to tell.

Blood stains were found in the bath room and in the closet through which a trap door leads into the attic. Blood stains also were found on the floor, but the lad had washed away many of the stains.

His story was told in a frank manner. He will retell it today to Coroner Smith.

For two days J. C. McCauley, Frank's father, had conducted a search for his son. Creeks had been dragged. No arrests have been made. The coroner and juvenile court will handle the case.

The most forceful evidence of the quality of Chinn-Beretta service is the fact that the public, through their patronage, have built up the Chinn-Beretta organization from two stores to a chain of seven. Had anything but sincere solicitous service been the Chinn-Beretta policy an exacting public would never have made this tremendous growth possible.

Chinn-Beretta policies remain unchanged and the courtesies of their eyeglass service is gladly extended to all whether patrons or not. The only point of difference is that Chinn-Beretta service is now dispensed from seven convenient stores in six of the largest cities of California.

He's a water Patrolman - - -

Modern methods of filtration and sterilization remove impure elements from your water. But filtration and sterilization alone are not depended upon to guard your health.

Patrols—Sanitary Patrols we call them—are maintained at the source of water supply, when water is secured from watersheds.

From three to six men guard, carefully, every watershed. They do much the same work as the well-known and respected forest ranger—but go further. They prevent fires in timber on watersheds; they remove the source of contaminating elements from such areas; they watch growth and encourage those things which direct the condition of watershed to a proper shedding of water in the best possible sanitary condition to reservoirs—where filtration and sterilization begin.

While we have arrangements whereby we can reach patrolmen almost instantly, we often do not see them for several days. They ride in the open—constantly alert, never idle; expert in judgment, zealous in the business of sanitation in behalf of you and your neighbors.

They guard your water at its source of supply, making the problem of filtration and sterilization simpler and more absolute.

PILLAGE AND MASSACRE OF JEWS SHOWN

NEW YORK, July 24.—"Pogroms in Poland and the Ukraine have been the worst in the history of the world, and the massacred Jews will run into the tens of thousands, denials or not," declared Lewis Marshall of New York today on his arrival from France.

Marshall, with Dr. Cyrus Adler of Philadelphia, has been abroad since last March. They represented the Jewish race at the peace conference. Marshall said the pogroms were due to anarchy and that no organized government exists where the outrages took place.

They have killed thousands in the Ukraine," he said, "and loot and pillage on a grand scale."

BEWARE OF REVOLUTION, BAUER WARNS GERMANY

WEIMAR, Wednesday, July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—In addressing the national assembly today Gustav Adolph Bauer, the premier, alluding to the recent strikes, warned the country against a hasty revolution, which he said would only be a counter revolution resulting in disaster. The premier admitted the great masses of the people had ground for discontent and said it was the government's task to remove any just reason for this. The remedy, he added, was a law regulating workers' councils and economic councils, which the government would draft.

The premier offered a long exposition of the government's policy, which he said was one of socialization. He said a democratic state possessing railways, electricity and mines would be in a position to give to Germany's economic life that form of contentment which he considered right and possible.

The government's policy, he added, also would be devoted to preventing the superfluous importation of luxuries and especially exclusion of all imports which would be likely unfavorably to influence the labor market.

"We shall need to work and to abhor revenge," the premier said in conclusion. "We shall have to renew our national life and give national thought on the foundation of the League of Nations idea. On the growth and the strengthening of that idea our hope must rest and from it must come a revision of the peace treaty."

STRIKE TO AID MOONEY VOTED DOWN BY LABOR

NEW ULM, Minn., July 24.—There will be no five-day strike in Minnesota beginning Labor day, as a protest against imprisonment of Tom Mooney, San Francisco labor leader. Radicals lost the resolution in the Federation of Labor convention last night by an overwhelming majority.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 24.—Rena Mooney, arrested with her husband after the San Francisco Preparedness Day bomb explosion today declared the John B. Densmore report, submitted to Congress yesterday by Secretary of Labor Wilson, means freedom for Tom Mooney and prosecution of District Attorney C. M. Fickert, who obtained the Mooney conviction. Mrs. Mooney addressed a crowd on a street corner from an ice cream freezer after police had barred her from Rice Park.

9400-TON FREIGHT SHIP LAUNCHED

Hawarden, the fourth vessel to be launched by the Union Construction Company on the Key Route fill, took the water last night at 8 o'clock in the presence of the officials of the corporation and a number of invited guests. Mrs. E. G. Burr, wife of the assistant general manager, broke the bottle of champagne, which was the signal for sending the 9400-ton freighter into the bay.

Within a week the sister freighter, Havilah, will be launched, the flaws which were found in her hull on the eve of her launching a fortnight ago, being corrected. The Hawarden and Havilah complete the first half of the ten cargo ships which were ordered from the Union Construction Company by the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The Hatchie, the first ship constructed under the agreement, is ready for delivery. Three more hulls are under construction.

AIRMEN BEGIN FLIGHT AROUND NATION'S RIM

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, July 24. — An army bombing plane, carrying a crew of five, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel R. S. Hartz, left the ground here at 10 a. m. on the first leg of a flight of nearly 8,000 miles around the rim of the country. The first stop is scheduled in Augusta, Maine, 560 miles from Washington.

The flight is the longest ever attempted by the army air service and will carry the machine through 31 states, over 95 cities and cover long stretches of the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts as well as the Canadian border.

Colonel Hartz was accompanied by Reserve Pilots Lieutenants Ernest E. Harmon and Lotha A. Smith and Mechanic Sergeant John Harding, Jr., and Master Electrician Jeremiah Tobias. The big machine rose from Bolling Field, circled the White House in low flight, then headed away on its course.

Direct flights between the points designated for the terminus of each day's flight will not be attempted. The first stop today will be Hazelhurst Field, Long Island. Tomorrow the airman will proceed from Augusta to Cleveland, 680 miles.

The general line to be followed will carry the machine in order to Duluth, Minn., Seattle, Wash., San Diego, Calif., San Antonio, Texas, Miami, Fla., and back to Washington. The actual measured distance of the route is 7,505 miles.

The machine used is a two engined craft known as the US-Martin bomber.

U. S. to Build World's Largest Ships

Two 1000-Foot Liners Are Planned

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Two gigantic ocean liners, larger than any ships now afloat and designed to cross the Atlantic in four days, are to be built by the shipping board. They will be 1000 feet long and of 30 knots speed and will be equipped for use as commerce destroyers in the event of war.

Announcement was made today by the board that plans for the ships had been completed and that work on them would be started in the near future. It is proposed to provide a special terminal for them at Fort Pond Bay, Long Island, and it may be that two similar liners will be constructed later.

The ships, which are to be built under the supervision of the Navy Department will be 50 feet longer than the famous Leviathan, now the largest ship afloat, and will have a gross tonnage of 55,000. Accommodations will be provided for 1000 saloon passengers, 800 second cagin passengers and 1200 steerage passengers.

The crew will number 1000 officers and men and the ships will be of the oil burning type with a cruising radius of 7000 miles, which will enable them to complete a round trip on the Atlantic without loading fuel overseas. They will be driven by four propellers on which will be thrown the strength of 110,000 horsepower.

In order that the vessels may be converted into commerec destroyers in time of war, gun emplacements will be built on the decks and the afterdeck will be constructed with a view of transforming it into a landing and launching space for seaplanes.

Senator Fall Explains Mexico Letters

No Direct Connection With Villa

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Senator Albert B. Fall, New Mexico, today made public correspondence referred to in an announcement at Mexico City yesterday as showing an attempt to arrange a conference between Fall and Francisco Villa.

None of the letters showed any direct communication or connection between the senator and the Mexican bandit leader.

Among the letters made public by Fall were two he wrote to Charles F. Hunt, El Paso broker. Included also was a letter Fall said he had been informed the state department had intercepted. This letter was said to have been written in 1917 to Villa by Hunt, offering to arrange a conference between Villa and several influential Americans, including Fall.

Fall also gave out a letter he wrote to Secretary Lansing March 12, 1917, after he had been informed that George C. Carothers, the state department agent on the border, had probably obtained a copy of Hunt's proposal to Villa. In this letter Fall declared he had done nothing illegal and he had no apologies.

CONFUSED WITH GOVERNOR.

Fall made public the correspondence following announcement in Mexico City that the Mexican government would publish letters recently captured at Juarez. One of the letters, purporting to have been written by Villa to Hunt, contained a reference to "ex-Governor" Charles C. Hunt, which it is believed here, caused Mexican officials to confuse Hunt with former governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona.

The first letter written by Hunt to Villa in January, 1917, said:

"If you will meet me at a place designated by you on the border I promise to bring to our conference one of the most eminent statesmen in the United States, with powerful influence with both our political parties relative to questions pertaining to Mexico. I refer to United States Senator Albert B. Fall, who appreciates the Mexican people and no living American knows the conditions in Mexico better than he."

Hunt also said in the letter that he had discussed "this question" thoroughly with Senator Fall. He added that he was taking this step on his own initiative.

Hunt then wrote to Fall stating what he had done. Fall replied at length, explaining his position under date of February 1, 1917. He said:

"I presume that you had simply written to Villa or some of his friends along the line of our conversation when I visited you at the hospital in El Paso and that if you had mentioned my name at all you had possibly, in doing so, stated your conclusions from this conversation.

"I stated to you that in the event Villa came to the border or had his representatives come, that I would have no hesitancy in talking with them only and discussing Mexican matters with them. But that I would not discuss with any representative of any faction anything touching Mexico except that as a preliminary thereto. There must be an absolute pledge of respect for American lives and property, of respect for treaty obligations, etc.

"I have very carefully refrained from aligning directly or indirectly with any of the so-called factions in Mexico."

EX-GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT.

REDONDO BEACH, Cal., July 24. Former Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona, in a statement to the United Press today, emphatically denied charges in Mexico City that he had attempted to arrange a meeting between Francisco Villa and Senator Fall of New Mexico and other prominent Americans.

"There is absolutely nothing to such statements," Hunt declared. "It must be some other Hunt. I cannot recall ever having had any correspondence on any subject with Villa. I have had no relations of any such nature with Senator Fall and have only met him once in my life, that having been about seven years ago."

The former Arizona governor and his family are spending a vacation at Redondo Beach.

INCREASE WEIGHT AND VITALITY WITH PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with the well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercises, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by The Owl Drug Co. in Oakland, Cal., and all good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones.

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders, owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL

Our 13th and Broadway store carries one of the largest stocks of Waterman Fountain Pens on the Pacific Coast.

We not only make all kinds of Waterman repairs, but we also take old pens in exchange and make adjustments of all kinds.

Any pen bought of us is returnable or exchangeable within thirty days and we guarantee Waterman pen points to wear for 10 years.

The Waterman expert in charge of this department should be consulted frequently by every user of a Waterman pen, so that you may get the full benefit of the Waterman service.

We have Waterman pens at prices ranging from $2.50 to $30 each.

CHAMOIS SKINS FOR AUTOS

Chamois skins (which are really sheep skins) of good quality are quite difficult to secure and are rather expensive.

We are fortunate, however in having an exceedingly good line of oil tanned chamois, especially selected for automobile use.

No one should attempt to wash their car without a good chamois for the reason that nothing will remove the small particles of water except a chamois skin.

If the car is left in the sunshine with these undried spots it immediately cuts the varnish and dulls the luster of the car.

Few people appreciate the importance of a good chamois in the garage and many a paint job could be saved or put off for several months if the car had been properly washed. Any size $1.00 to $2.50 each.

THE BEST SHAVING SUPPLIES ON THE MARKET

Get the Best if You Shave Yourself and Be Happy.

People who shave themselves are generally quite particular about the quality of the materials they use. For example, unless a razor strop is of the right kind, it is worse than useless.

Nothing is as exasperating as a poor razor and no person gets any comfort out of the use of poor shaving soap.

Unfortunately, a large proportion of shaving requisites are of an inferior quality and it is because people try to use materials of this kind, that many men think it is impossible to shave comfortably at home.

We carry only the best grade of razors, strops, soaps, etc. We have all of the successful standard safety razors with extra blades to fit them. We also have a splendid stock of fine old fashioned razors and a wonderful line of good strops. When you stop to consider that most of the barbers buy their strops of us, you can realize the quality to be found at our stores.

THE BEST GRADE OF PEROXIDE OF HYDROGEN

Some people think that all peroxide of hydrogen is the same and that quantity and price is the only consideration. This rule may apply to some articles, but not to peroxide of hydrogen, which comes in various degrees of strength and quality and it may be made to sell for almost any small price. The grade of Peroxide of Hydrogen obtained at our stores is the very best and inasmuch as it is generally used as a disinfectant, the necessity of obtaining the best quality is most evident. This is a point that will be well to remember in purchasing your next bottle of Peroxide of Hydrogen.

GET RID OF THE ANTS

The problem of ridding your premises of ants is entirely up to yourself. If you will exercise a little effort and will follow our instruction, we can tell you how to get rid of this disagreeable pest. The authorities of the United States Government and the scientists of the University of California have given the Argentine Ant question very careful investigation during the past few years and have come to some very definite conclusions as to the best method of getting rid of them.

Argo Ant Poison is made up from a formula after the findings of these scientists. Our chemists keep in close touch with the development of these investigators and we can assure you that Argo Ant Poison is the most effective method of eliminating ants known. 25c bottle.

SEND US YOUR KODAK FILMS BY MAIL

If you are away upon a vacation, send your Kodak films to us by mail and get the prints early. Our Kodak Department does a large mail order business and many of our customers have the pleasure of seeing the results of their snap shots before their return to town.

We doubt whether any concern in the West gives more careful attention to the developing of the work of individual photographers.

Every film receives the individual attention of an expert and every print is examined before it leaves the shop. In turning your Kodak work over to Bowman's you can rest assured that, as far as developing and printing are concerned, your work will be top notch. We do not claim to be able to print and develop our work in record breaking time, but we do know that the quality of our output is so superior that we are receiving rolls of films from all over the United States. Many of these films come from big cities where evidently the photographer has been unable to get work of the character of Bowman's.

FOOT COMFORT

If, at the end of the day, your feet are hot and tired, you will derive a great deal of comfort and satisfaction in sprinkling into your shoes a little of Bowman's Foot Comfort. People who have not used this foot comfort, have no idea what wonderful satisfaction it gives. Try a 20c can and get your money back if not entirely pleased.

NO MORE SUNBURN —NO MORE CHAP

Use Bowman's Benzoin Cream in Advance.

The popularity of an article generally stamps its quality. One of the most popular articles in our stores is Bowman's Benzoin Cream, a preparation that protects the face from sunburn, tan, freckles, chap, etc.

We know nothing to equal Bowman's Benzoin Cream as a preparation to use before subjecting the face and hands to the wind and the elements during an automobile or yachting trip.

It should be applied in advance of the trip and removed upon your return. We have been selling this preparation for a great many years and practically all of our customers who have used it are exceedingly enthusiastic over the results. It has healing qualities of unusual merit and does not seem to harm the most delicate skin.

It comes in bottles of two sizes—25c and 50c.

A WONDERFULLY FINE TOOTH POWDER

Most people use but very little tooth powder and some people, unfortunately, give small thought to the quality of the powder they use. Several years ago, we instructed our chemists to produce for us the best tooth powder that could be made. The matter of expense was not to be taken into consideration and the result of their efforts was the manufacture of Listerated Tooth Powder.

In recommending this splendid powder, we know what we are doing, for it is made after our own formula, of the finest materials possible to obtain. If you feel that a tooth powder of this quality would interest you, ask for Bowman's Listerated Tooth Powder. It sells for 25c a can.

HOUSEHOLD PAINT

You frequently have use for a little quick-drying black paint that you can apply to metal, wood, leather, straw and fabrics. "Blacko" is just what you want. For 25c you get a bottle and a brush—waterproof glossy black. Fine for touching up suit cases, leather trimmings, old straw hats, etc.

Raised Their Own Mileage Adjustment to

Fabrics - 6,000 Miles
Cords - 8,000 Miles

Diamond Tires kept on giving such masterly service—kept it up with such unwavering consistency—that they automatically lifted themselves out of the old adjustment class.

Think of it—formerly on Fabrics the adjustment was 3,500 miles—now 6,000 miles; on Cords, 5,000 miles—now 8,000 miles.

If a good tire which was the favorite of hundreds of thousands of car owners, proved itself so much better that we can safely—very safely—raise the adjustment bases more than 40%, it is a sure-mileage tire for you to use.

Now is the time to put on Diamonds all 'round.

The new adjustment bases also apply on all Diamonds now in use or in the hands of dealers.

FIREMEN PLAN PREVENTION DAY PROGRAM

That Fire Prevention Day in Oakland on October 9, will be observed with one of the most elaborate programs in the country, in point of disseminating valuable instructions for averting serious fire losses and losses of life, was today announced by Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead.

Plans are rapidly maturing for the day. The co-operation of all city authorities and civic bodies assures a brilliant success and fruitful results of the day, says Chief Whitehead.

The fire chief today conferred with Police and Fire Commissioner F. F. Morse, Chief of Police John F. Lynch and officials of the Chamber of Commerce on the Fire Prevention Day program.

An interesting feature of the program will be an address by Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Protection Association, from whom Chief Whitehead today received a letter, stating that Wentworth would be in Oakland on Fire Prevention Day and would speak to a large public gathering.

The secretary of the national association will give illuminating facts and figures that have been gathered in a nation-wide canvass and that display with great interest the minimizing of fire destruction by the caution practiced by the public.

Secretary Wentworth will stop over in Oakland while en route to Portland, Ore., to attend the annual convention of the Pacific Fire Chiefs' Association. Chief Whitehead, who is vice-president of the organization, expects to accompany Secretary Wentworth to Portland.

A city-wide cleanup of vacant lots, where dry grass threatens, was today started under the supervision of Chief Whitehead. Lots where grass has grown high are being burned by a special detail of firemen. A large fire truck is being used in the work.

United Cigar Store Clerks on Strike

CHICAGO, July 24.—Upwards of 300 United Cigar Stores clerks were on strike here today, following hasty organization of a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor last night.

Officials of the cigar stores declared the men were influenced by agitators and left their jobs without making any formal demands. Later they formed a union, it was said.

HAS CONFIDENCE IN REMEDY THAT AIDED DIGESTION

San Antonio Resident Expresses Her Appreciation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I suffered a general decline in health several years ago," relates Mrs. J. F. Kemp, who lives at No. 607 Barrett Place, San Antonio, Texas. I seemed to be on the verge of giving out entirely and grew discouraged and worried a lot over my condition. What little I ate, and I very seldom cared for food, seemed to distend my stomach and cause heartburn. I became extremely nervous and occasionally had dull head pains.

"One day I read of a case quite similar to mine in a newspaper and, learning that the woman had been helped by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I procured a box. The first change noticeable was an improvement in my appetite and the strengthening of my stomach to a point where my food was digested without distress. It was not long before I regained my strength and, as a result of the general toning up of my system, my nervousness disappeared. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on hand and use them whenever my system needs a tonic. I don't hesitate to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. Write for the free booklet on nervous disorders and "What to Eat and How to Eat."—Advertisement.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

Hearts Chilled After Romance at Hot Springs

MRS. MYRTLE DINGWALL KELLY.

Life in Health Resort is No Place for Cupid, Says Spouse of Actress.

Life in a health resort, far away from the glittering footlights and the shining streets of the big cities, is no place for Cupid. If love in a cottage is disillusionment, it's a wild, wild life beside life in a place full of sick people; at least, this is the gist of the story of the smashed romance of Myrtle Dingwall Kelly, fair Oakland actress, and Chester Kelly, hotel man and manager of the Agua Caliente Hot Springs, as disclosed in Kelly's divorce plans.

Kelly and the fair Oakland stage star were married in 1915, while he was manager of the Manx hotel in San Francisco and she was playing with Ferris Hartman in a local musical comedy company. After the honeymoon Kelly took over the hot springs, which, in the romance of the occasion, was deemed a beautiful spot to settle down.

Mrs. Kelly "got tired" of the quiet life, it is recited. Accepting an engagement with an opera company about to tour China, she left her husband a note, he says, stating that she was returning to her profession, because she could no longer stand the humdrum existence of hotel life.

Kelly's suit is to be filed next Monday through Attorney Leander James in the San Francisco courts, it was said today. Desertion was to be named as the grounds. Kelly says he is filing the suit with regret, but that he is too fond of his wife to stand in the way of her stage career.

EX-BELL BOY IN RAID ON HOTEL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The Victoria Hotel at Stockton and Bush street was the scene of an attempted holdup early this morning, when a former bellboy and an unidentified man entered the lobby of the hotel and pointing a revolver at Adolph Scharan, elevator operator, attempted to loot the safe. Clerk Fred Holmes, who was in another room, heard the commotion and went into the lobby when the bellboy attempted to take the boy to the inner compartment to the safe from his pocket, thrusting a revolver against Holmes' stomach to emphasize his demand.

Suddenly the second man cried, "Let's beat it." Both backed out of the hotel without securing anything, ran down the steps to the Stockton street tunnel and disappeared. The name of the former bellboy is unknown.

Education is the Most Powerful Factor in Americ a Today---

That is a fact. Now, do you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizens, want to see this factor in American life break and decay and become enfeebled? The teachers alone have not had a raise in wages for the past four years, when living costs have been met in all other trades by an advance in wages. The teachers of Alameda County today are asking more pay. BETTER PAY, BETTER TEACHERS, BETTER CITIZENS — make this plain to the County Supervisors. Write them and ask them to provide

NARCOTIC RULES MADE DRASTIC

Stringent regulations governing the quantity of narcotic drugs which may be prescribed by physicians in the treatment of addicts have been received by Collector Justus S. Wardell from the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Only the quantity needed in the treatment of a patient with the purpose of effecting a cure may be prescribed. Regulations issued May 11, 1915, provided that where a physician prescribed "more than is apparently needed to meet the needs of a patient in the ordinary case," he should state on the prescription the purpose for which the unusual quantity of the drug was to be used. This ruling revoked by the recent regulations.

"The act of December 17, 1914, as amended by the act of February 24, 1919," the new regulations states, "permits the furnishng of narcotic drugs by means of prescriptions issued by a practitioner for legitimate medical uses, but the Supreme court has held that an order for morphine issued to an habitual user thereof, not in the course of professional treatment in an attempted cure of the habit, but for the purpose of providing the user with morphine sufficient to keep him comfortable by maintaining his customary use, is not a prescription within the meaning of the act. In view of this decision, the writer of such an order, the druggist who fills it and a person obtaining drugs thereunder, will all be regarded as guilty of violating the law."

BOY, 8, AUTO THIEF; ACTS AS HIS OWN JUDGE

DENVER, July 24.—Acting as his own judge, following a confessed career as an automobile bandit, 8-year-old Jimmie Bland of Denver placed himself on probation in Judge Ben Lindsey's juvenile court, and in the same breath set free a youthful companion who had been arrested with him while the two were riding in a stolen machine.

Jimmie told of taking a small automobile, of learning how to run it, and then of stealing a larger car. He finally appropriated an electric for his own use. It was while driving this machine that he was arrested.

Jimmie confided to Judge Lindsey that he wanted to become a juvenile judge when he grew up "so he could always be near the kids." The judge promptly left his chair, placed Jimmie in it, and made him judge of his own case and that of his companion.

Jimmie's judgments were upheld by Judge Lindsey.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 24.—James D. Stephens, aged 60, fell into a grain separator this afternoon and was so mangled that he died five minutes later.

AERIAL TRAGEDY VICTIMS BURIED

CHICAGO, July 24.—Chicago today buried the victims of its strangest tragedy when funeral services were held for most of those who lost their lives Monday when the Goodyear dirigible, "Wingfoot Express," exploded in midair and plunged through the roof of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank. The list of dead in the tragedy was increased to thirteen late yesterday when Marcus Calliopy, bank teller, died from injuries.

Officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, owners of the Blimp, have issued a statement expressing willingness to aid the victims of the disaster in every possible way. The statement also declares the company will co-operate with the authorities in every investigation undertaken to determine the cause and fix the responsibility for the accident.

The coroner's hearing was resumed today and preparations for a general investigation are being made. The Chicago city council is considering an ordinance which would prohibit flying over thickly populated sections of the city or over any spot where large numbers of people are assembled.

Consider This Woman's Case.

Mrs. A. L. Devine of Los Angeles, Cal., says: "After I had suffered from a female trouble for years, not being able to do my housework or get any relief from doctors, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I want to tell the world the good this medicine does." This woman is perfectly justified, and should be commended for telling others how she regained her health.—Advertisement.

UNITY URGED IN FIGHT FOR ALAMEDA BASE

BERKELEY, July 24.—An appeal to unite in support of the Alameda naval base is made by Congressman J. A. Elston in a telegram received here today from Washington by his law associate Elmer E. Nichols. The telegram follows:

"Have received word that different constructions have been put on my wire to Mayor Bartlett regarding my interview with Secretary Daniels. My object in advising mayors of all eastbay cities, was to obtain co-operation of the whole eastbay community in presenting superiority of Alameda naval base. All eastbay cities agreed to submit matters to Helm Commission which has finally decided in favor of Alameda and I believe no eastbay community will want to dispute the finality of decision by Helm Commission. It would be fatal to eastbay interest to divide our counsels at this time and re-open matters. Although initial bill introduced by men designated Albany and as Berkeleyan I was as much interested to see site located there. I have understood all eastbay interest have decided to join hands on this matter, as it will require our best efforts to uphold Helm decision for Alameda base."

Taxes on Liberty Shipyard Site Paid

ALAMEDA, July 24. — The city received yesterday a check for $8728 in payment of the overdue taxes on the abandoned Liberty shipyard site. The money was paid by the Oakland Water Front Co., which sold the 160 acre site to the shipping board for $1,000,000. It is expected that the shipping board, which still owns the site, will resist further payment of taxes. The city has appealed to the California representatives at Washington to use their influence to have the shipping board pay taxes while holding title to the land in return for general municipal service the city furnishes.

RAIN HOPE OF FIRE-CIRCLED FOREST TOWNS

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—With cooler, cloudy weather, thunder storms and showers predicted for the next twenty-four hours, hope is expressed that the forecast will come true, thus saving a precarious situation in western and central Montana, northern Idaho and eastern Washington and check numerous incipient blazes in the forests on the western slopes of the Cascade mountains in Oregon and Washington.

Meanwhile, with high northeasterly winds prevailing, forestry officials for northern Idaho at Boise and at Missoula for western Montana and eastern Washington report fires raging, at many places completely out of control and the towns of St. Regis in the Coeur d'Alenes, Idaho, Thompson Falls, Henderson and Malden, Mont., in imminent danger of being completely wiped out unless there is a sudden change in the wind.

PRECIPITATION FAILS TO EXTINGUISH FIRES.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 24.—Reports of a slight downfall of rain on parts of the St. Joe and Couer d'Alene national forests reached Spokane last night, but indications that the precipitation was so slight as to have little effect on the fires burning in northern Idaho forests.

The Pack river fire, which has burned over more than 50 square miles between Sand Point and Hope still is uncontrolled. Fires were reported "springing up everywhere" on the Pend Oreille forest.

CROW, OREGON, IS THREATENED BY FLAMES.

EUGENE, Ore., July 24.—Brush fires near Crow, 14 miles southwest of Eugene, are rapidly approaching that village and all the farmers in the neighborhood are fighting them. The fire near Veneta, west of Eugene, is practically under control. It had spread to the edge of the green timber.

MICHIGAN FIRES RAGE UNCHECKED.

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—Forest fires in Northern Michigan have again assumed serious proportions, according to advices received here today.

It is reported that Dollar Settlement, on the Whitefish Bay shore, about 30 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie, was wiped out late yesterday, but that all residents moved out in time.

In the northern part of the lower peninsula, fire has broken out anew east of Mancelona. In Kalkaska county women in overalls yesterday joined in fighting the flames that threatened the village of Sharon.

WIFE STILL ALIVE, HUSBAND THINKS

BERKELEY, July 24.—Circulars containing a picture and description of his wife were ordered today by Helbert P. MacGregor, chemical engineer living at 970 Ventura avenue. With the aid of the circulars news of her mysterious disappearance will be spread to police departments and sheriffs throughout the country.

It will be a week tomorrow since Mrs. MacGregor, the mother of a two months' old child, scribbled a note of farewell to her husband and sister and left their home.

There has not been received a single credible report that she was seen since. All rumors have been traced, and there is not a clew, according to the Berkeley police who have had several men on the case. A hundred Boy Scouts also searched the hills and other ground near her home.

Mrs. MacGregor had been under the car of Dr. Paul Jones Anderson, mental specialist, and due to her condition the police believe it likely that she killed herself, although they are baffled in their hunt for the body.

MacGregor himself still holds to the opinion that his wife is alive and yesterday left a $100 Liberty Bond with Chief of Police Vollmer to be paid the person finding her.

BERKELEY MAY BID FOR U. S. CANNED GOODS

BERKELEY, July 24.—Berkeley may put in a bid for army supplies which are to be sold at Camps Kearny and Lewis. Mayor Louis Bartlett today appointed a committee of citizens to investigate. The War Department will sell canned goods in lots of 5000 cans and the mayor believes that these goods can be obtained cheaply enough to make it worth while for the city to aid Berkeleyans in purchasing.

Berkeley merchants will be interviewed on the matter. The members of the committee who will see if the high cost of living can be cut in Berkeley are: John Stuart, George Shaw, Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon, C. W. Shaw, W. W. Iddings, V. McHale and I. W. Hopper.

Coroner's Inquest in W. H. Souther Case

ALAMEDA, July 24. — A coroner's inquest to inquire into the death of W. H. Souther, who killed himself with a revolver at his home early yesterday morning, will be held at the Alameda branch morgue at 3 o'clock tonight. At the same time an inquest will be held in the Martinez case. Martinez was killed by a Southern Pacific crosstown car at Tynan avenue near the Alameda Bethlehem plant Tuesday night.

OLD MAN GROUCH BURNED AT STAKE

BERKELEY, July 24.—B[illegible] days are not beyond Captain Kidd days—even such highly efficient youngsters are human—and treasure hunts are on the program for the Berkeley lads who are now hiking through the high Sierras. This is the first long hike the Berkeley Scouts have undertaken.

An impressive service in the Berkeley hills preceded the start. The Scouts and parents and their friends met on Cragmonthill and the boys repeated the Scout oath and law and pledged themselves to be true Scouts on the trail. The Scouts went to Stockton by rail and there will obtain their pack burros and take the trail.

Special tests had to be passed by all who went on the hike to prove that their scoutsmancraft fitted them.

Another section of the training camp will start Monday at Lafayette. There will be a treasure hunt; too; a minstrel show and the burning of "Old Man Grouch" at the campfire.

Charles H. Hunt, scout executive, has offered an aluminum cooking kit for the best camping song composed.

If you saw it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

Kessler-Porter Wedding Home Ceremony

MISS MARY LYLE RITCHIE, who will be bridesmaid this evening at the wedding of Miss Katherine Kessler and Warren Davis Porter, the service to be held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Epley E. Kessler, in Santa Clara avenue. Fifty or more guests will assemble for the ceremony, to be read in a bower of summer blossoms.—Scharz Photo.

Surrounded by masses of pink hydrangeas and greenery things from the forest, Miss Katherine Kessler will plight her troth tonight to Warren Davis Porter at the home of the bride's parents in Santa Clara avenue. Fifty or more relatives and friends will be present to witness the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Alexander Allen of St. Paul's Episcopal church—a service marked by the utmost simplicity. The bride will wear a wedding gown of white satin, en train and a veil of tulle fashioned in bonnet effect. She will be attended by Miss Mary Lyle Ritchie as maid of honor, and have as her ring bearer little Miss Jane Aley of Kentucky, who arrived some time ago with her mother, Mrs. Charles Richard Aley, to attend the wedding. The bridegroom will be attended by Kenneth Kessler, brother of the bride, just out of the navy.

Other out-of-town guests for the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hart of Salt Lake City, Utah. Mr. Hart is a nephew of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. E. Kessler.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will leave on a motor trip which will extend over several weeks. Later in the season they contemplate making an extended trip to eastern points.

The bride has been the incentive for many of the smartest social affairs of the past few weeks. She is a graduate of Miss Head's school, and one of the most popular members of the Eastbay younger set. Mr. Porter is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS SERVICE.

Greetings are being extended Vance Baumgartner by his friends in the bay cities since his return on Tuesday from the east after his discharge from the United States army. Mr. Baumgartner arrived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner, who left six weeks ago to join their son at Camp Stewart, Newport News, following his arrival from overseas on May 27. Young Baumgartner enlisted in the United States army when he was barely 19, going over with the second army. He saw active service in the Toul sector and returns with few scratches after many interesting experiences in the war zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner, who spent the past winter in Honolulu, returned to their home in Oakland for a short stay in the early summer before going east to be with their son while he was awaiting his discharge. En route to the Pacific Coast they made a number of stops along the Canadian line, visiting several places of interest. After a long absence they have again opened their home at 280 Lenox street, where they will remain during the early fall and winter months.

Their daughter, Miss Marion Kergan, expected to go east this month to visit friends, but because of the heat on the Atlantic Coast has delayed her visit until the cooler months. She left a few days ago with a party of friends for Dutch Flat for a fortnight's outing.

Motor Truck Victim Well-Known Here

Advices from Nevada tell of the death near Carter Station there of Charles A. Olds, prominent citizen of Gardnerville, and widely known in Alameda county. Olds met death when the motor truck he was driving became uncontrollable, went over a bank, throwing him from his seat and crushing him. William Frevert and Neil and Guy Anderson, friends of Olds, found the body. Rushing many miles away to the nearest telephone, the men secured aid from Minden. The body was taken home to Gardnerville by Merritt Olds, a brother. Olds is survived by a widow, Mrs. Edith Olds; a brother, Merritt J. Olds; four nieces, Louise, Lenore and Jessie Olds and Neva I. Holmes; two aunts, Mrs. Fannie Blackie and Mrs. G. Briggs, and two uncles, Will and George Olds. He was 38 years old and was buried at Gardnerville.

Makes Whisky of Currants and Water

PENDLETON, Ore., July 14.—Attracted by an unusual amount of drinking among the Indians on the reservation here and among a number of whites in the vicinity, Alf Oftedal, federal officer, and Superintendent Schwartzlander, of the reservation today made an investigation which resulted in the arrest of Alberto Duarte, a railroad section hand at Cayuse, and the confiscation of a 30-gallon vat of home-made liquor.

The liquor was a fermented concoction made from about half a bushel of dried currants and water. It was hidden in the basement of the bunk house. Duarte, it is reported, admitted that he is the manufacturer. No formal charge has been placed against him pending a further investigation as to his activities in disposing of it.

PAYS $5000 FOR BAG OF PAPER WADS

Charity may be sweet to most people, but it's bitter to Frank Thomas Silva, owner of a lime kiln near Santa Cruz. For what the phrenologists would call his "bump of charity" has cost him $5,000. He has appealed to the Oakland police, through Sheriff Howard Trafton of Santa Cruz county to find the men who tricked him out of his money.

According to the complaint from Santa Cruz, two Italians approached him, and told him that high honor had been done him—he was to be made the dispenser of a large charity fund collected by wealthy San Francisco Italians for the poor, they said. They had the Santa Cruz allotment in a satchel—and wanted him to play good Samaritan with it. Frank Thomas Silva was overjoyed.

They wanted security—just as a matter of business—and suggested that he put up five thousand dollars, merely as a matter of form to guarantee efficiency of his charity. In the joy of the occasion he agreed.

When he opened the satchel he found that it contained nothing but wadded paper.

AMERICAN LEGION GROWS RAPIDLY

While awaiting the national charter which will probably make it Post No. 1 in the state of California, officers and members of the local body American Legion, are making progress in the membership campaign. Veterans, returning daily from Germany and France, also from service in American posts, are joining the organization, which had its inception at Paris on March 15. At this time enlisted men and officers of every A. E. F. division represented their outfits at the convention.

Although the local post is not yet officially declared as such by the national organization, American Legion officials say that there is no doubt as to the organization's acceptance and eventual recognition.

Before applying for the charter, the men were members of the War Veterans of Alameda county, first veterans' association to be formed in California. Feeling the need for contact with other similar organizations, the local post on June 2 applied for its charter in the American Legion.

BLAMES SUITOR FOR FRAMEUP

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

WOMAN FAILS BOLD BANDIT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Whether Mrs. Florence Courtney, Klimm Apartments, 460 Ellis street, will be found guilty of selling liquor to Department of Justice operatives is a moot question. The comely young woman of 25 years charges a frameup and on the strength of her assertions United States Commissioner Thomas Hayden reopened the case. The charges of violating war-time prohibition were made by volunteer and paid operatives of the national department.

That the charge was made as a result of spite work on the part of a disappointed suitor is the plea made by Marshal Nuckolls and Eugene J. Mooslin, Mrs. Courtney's attorneys. They also charge an attempt was made to "frame" the young woman while she was under custody in the United States Marshal's office last Tuesday.

John B Griffith, volunteer booze operative of the Department of Justice, gained admission to her apartment last Saturday night, according to Mrs. Courtney's version, and told her that his thirst was of the unquenchable sort. Griffith, through a previous conversation with her several days before in a neighborhood candy store, and because of his humorous remarks on prohibition, gained her confidence and found out that she had liquor in her apartment.

On entering her apartment Saturday night, brushing by Miss Anna Ellis, her guest, who had answered the bell's ring, Griffith pleaded his thirst before her and got her to let him have a half-filled bottle of whiskey. He left the apartment for a minute, returning with a friend, who later turned out to be a Department of Justice operative. They drank the liquor, which had been taken from its cache, and, leaving five silver dollars on her dresser, departed. Her arrest followed, according to the woman's story.

CHINESE BOYCOTT OF AMERICAN GOODS PREDICTED.

That a Chinese boycott of American goods looms on the trade horizon, as a result of President Wilson's statement that makes America solely responsible for the Shantung decision at the peace conference, is the belief of Captain Robert Dollar, long identified with Oriental trade. In an interview, he said that he hoped an official denial of American responsibility might be made known to the Orient.

Dollar does not look for a voluntary return of Shantung to China unless something else just as good is offered the sunrise empire. China will be satisfied, he said, if the allies in concert assume responsibility for the Shantung decision, but that any admission by the United States delegates of our sole responsibility would bring permanent discontent. A trade boycott of immense proportions would result, said the steamship owner, ruining American industry in the Orient.

HOLD-UP FOILED BY WOMAN'S COURAGE.

Walking rapidly up beside her at Jackson and Gough streets, a hold-up man, dressed in the army uniform, yesterday afternoon attempted to rob Mrs. Dolly Magnus of several thousand dollars' worth of jewels and rings. Mrs. Magnus, proprietress of a millinery store at Geary street, was walking from her home, 1949 Jackson street, to the business establishment, when the attempted robbery occurred.

No one was in sight at the time of the attempt, which Mrs. Magnus says occurred at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The man ran along side of her after following her for several blocks, and, pressing a revolver to her side, demanded her rings and jewels. Mrs. Magnus told the police she brushed aside the gun and ran down Jackson street. The man ran away in the opposite direction.

RICARDI JURY IS UNABLE TO AGREE.

Unable to agree on the alleged guilt of C. Vincent Ricardi, attorney accused of embezzling $1,000 from Alberto Rolatti, a client, the jury sitting on Ricardi's case stands dismissed today. Judge Dunne has set Saturday next for a rehearing of the case.

Rolatti accused his attorney of taking the money while he, Rolatti, was detained in jail on a bunk steering charge.

PORTLAND AVIATORS BUY SIX PLANES.

Six Portland aviators are speeding homeward today, after completing the purchase in California of three land planes and three hydroplanes. The party was headed by George E. Love.

Regular air routes from Portland are to be established, according to plans of the aviators, the first being to Seaside, a distance of 110 miles. The hydroplanes will be used on this route.

TRUCK RUNS WILD: FOUR WOMEN HURT.

Shoppers in the vicinity of Grant avenue and Geary street were subjected to what resembled a tank charge in modern warfare yesterday, when an automobile truck, turning the corner, ran wild, and, after knocking down three women and pinning another against a wall, crashed through the plate glass window of a large jewelry store on the corner. It required heroic efforts on the part of traffic policemen and volunteers to rescue the victims.

The following women were given hospital treatment: Mrs. T. J. Farren, 284 Tenth street, internal injuries and contusions; Mrs. C. L. Wisecarver, 553 Fourth avenue, contusions and cuts; Miss Annie Wisecarver, her daughter, cuts and bruises; Mary Healey, 638 Main street, Vallejo, friend of the Wisecarvers, cuts and bruises. The machine was driven by William Stevens and is owned by a coffee-importing firm at 447 Battery street. The steering gear gave way. All of the women, except Mrs Farren, returned to their homes. Her condition is serious.

SULLIVAN REGAINS SEAT IN INSURANCE EXCHANGE.

After many months of controversy, John A. Sullivan, brother of Judge Matt I. Sullivan, an insurance man, has been given back his seat in the Insurance Brokers' Exchange, following his eviction because he violated a rule of the organization and engaged in business other than insurance. A reviewing committee, sitting on the case, said that a state job like Sullivan's—as an employee of the State Harbor Commission—was never sure and that Sullivan might lose it on a turn of the political wheel. And so he was readmitted to membership. It was adjudged a regular job.

TWO BREWERS FINED HUNDRED DOLLARS EACH.

Fines of $100 each were levied against Max Weiss and Joseph B. Pape, brewers of Ukiah, for selling beer on which no internal revenue had been paid. The charges grew out of action taken two years ago, when it was charged that beer had been shipped from the brewery without first being stamped. At that time the brewers paid $5,000 for the alleged violation. Federal Judge William H. Sawtelle rendered the decision yesterday.

FIND MAN GUILTY OF ASSAULTING WOMAN.

Charged with assaulting Miss Helen Howe in Golden Gate Park, William Fink, arrested on April 19, has been adjudged guilty in Superior Judge Roche's court and will be sentenced next week. Fink was formerly an instructor for a Stanyan street riding academy. A jury of ten men and two women made the conviction.

CUPID SHATTERS 'CAREER' DREAMS

Love laughed at ambition when a few weeks ago Miss Sara Kloss started for Boston with dreams of a career. But en route she met Captain Wolcott Paine Hayes of the Ninth United States cavalry. Yesterday cards were received from Rev. Charles L. Kloss and Mrs. Kloss announcing the marriage of their daughter and the gallant soldier as having taken place at Hachita, New Mexico, on July 15.

Captain Hayes and his bride are en route to Oakland to remain a few days before sailing for the Philippine islands, where the officer has been ordered.

Mrs. Hayes with her parents came to Oakland a few seasons ago and became immensely popular with the younger set. She was gifted as an interpretative reader and had much to do as director with local amateur productions. Her father, Rev. Charles Kloss, succeeded Rev. Albert W. Palmer as pastor of Plymouth Congregational church.

The wedding following the brief courtship took place at the summer home of the Kloss family in New Mexico, where a reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Kloss and their children was being held this season.

Captain Hayes for the present is stationed at Fort Scotzenberg, Philippine Islands.

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Acting on instructions from Attorney General Palmer, federal officials here took into custody Anticito Ortega, 19 years old, who is charged with embezzling a large sum from the Mexican government.

THOUSANDS PUT IN JOBS BY STATE

According to the annual report of the state public employment bureaus for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, filed with J. P. McLaughlin, labor commissioner, 153,529 positions were filled in the nine cities where offices were maintained entirely by the state, in addition to 91,489 positions furnished in Los Angeles, Stockton and other towns where the state had been co-operating with the United States employment service, making a grand total of 245,018 in all.

Oakland's total of 38,326 placements is comprised of 30,640 men and 7686 women. This is an increase of 17,056 over the placements of the preceding year and the business has practically outgrown the quarters at 401 Tenth street.

The San Francisco office at 933 Mission street placed 51,538 men and the women's department at 241 Pacific building, placed 5923. The total of 57,461 is an increase of 6221 over the placements of last year.

Sacramento placed 11,945; Fresno, 11,375; San Jose, 9832; Chico, 8285 and Marysville, 3488.

Almost every occupation is represented in these figures and the leading industries include transportation, hotels and restaurants, agriculture, shipbuilding and domestic service.

U. S. RESTRICTS OPIATE SALES

Physicians may hereafter prescribe to drug addicts only such quantity of narcotic drugs as is required in each individual case under treatment to effect a cure, according to regulations made by the bureau of internal revenue and received today by Collector Justus S Wardell. Heretofore the ruling permitted the physicianto prescribe more than such necessity called for, merely requiring him to indicate on the prescription for what purpose the unusual quantity was intended. This surplus prescription is hereafter prohibited.

The regulations state that any over prescription of such narcotic drugs, evidently intended for the purpose of supplying the user with sufficient quantity for his comfort, has been held by the Supreme Court to be not a prescription within the meaning of the law, in view of which decision the physician, the druggist who fills the order and the person obtaining drugs thereunder will, according to the regulations, all be regarded as guilty of violation of the law.

Scented Feat by ACHMED ABDULLAH.

But he had one dissipation, one vice, one temptation—as he owned up to himself, with a little twinkle in his blue eyes—and that was Thomas Berkley, the young detective who somehow had come into his life. Years ago—but that is another story altogether.

And he yielded to this temptation as a rule, as he did now.

"I am very busy, Tom," he said. "I know. But, please—"

"All right." Carstairs picked up the seed with a fine pair of pinchers and looked at it.

"Pshaw!" he said, in disgust; then negligently he tossed the seed aside and reached for the book with which he had been busy at the other's entrance.

"Tommy," he said, a little impatiently, "I thought that you were going to let me see something out of the ordinary, judging from your excited, bustling manner. Clear out, now; I've no time to lose."

"But," stammered the detective, "the little seed—" pointing at it.

"Common trash. Ordinary. I have seen and smelled thousands like it."

"You may have—sure! It may be ordinary to you, all right," returned Berkley, who was familiar with the other's quite unconscious snobbishness where his particular science was concerned. Then, when Carstairs smiled, flattered, he went on: "But it is not ordinary to me, or to the rest of New York. You see"—he wrinkled up his nose—"the smell of this little seed—"

"Of course it smells. Why, man, that is its main characteristic!"

"Yes, but what is it?"

The professor patted his very bristly, upstanding hair into some sort of order and reeled off a long Latin name, adding something about

"—perennial — tropical — parasitic — tuberous flesh roots — Africa—"

"Stop!" exclaimtd Berkley. "You say this comes from Africa?"

"Yes."

"What part of Africa?"

"Why do you want to know all these details?" asked the professor. And Tom, who had been about to tell him the whole story, suddenly reconsidered.

It was an automatic mental action. Hitherto he had never known the other to take a personal interest in any of the crime investigations which meant his bread and butter. Yet this time, in spite of the fact that a moment ago he had been impatient and evidently anxious to return to his work, Carstairs' eyes held a flickering flame of interest—of anxiety, even. Back in his taxicab, Berkley had suspected that the professor might be interested, but had seen no reason why he should not take him into his confidence; the only reason why he had not told the whole story immediately upon his arrival was that he had not wanted to bother the other.

Now he made a complete turn. Glibly he made up and told a story about a row and a murder in a tough negro saloon.

"They knifed an unknown black," he added. "No identification of any sort, but didn't seem like an American. The police found this in his pocket—the box and the seed—and they guessed the dead man might have been a sailor from some British-African ship. That's the reason—"

"Oh, I see!"

Berkley's quick-registering nerves caught the faint sob of relief, and he returned to his first question:

"What part of Africa does the seed come from?"

The professor burst into a lengthy, rapid explanation, using a variety of native African words chiefly distinguished by their clicked, gutteral, grunting sounds, and absolutely unintelligible to the detective.

But Carstairs had his frankly human side. He laughed when he saw the hopeless, puzzled expression on the younger man's face, got up, went to one of the bookshelves, and returned with a large map of the French Kongo.

"Here," he said, "take a look at it yourself." He pointed at a spot in the far interior. "See that?" he asked.

"Yes, professor."

"That's Loudima, a little upriver post, trade factory, French colonial garrison, tiny brick mission church, and the rest. And this"—drawing his finger to the east—"is the Kioulu river. Thick forest to the north. Regular matted jungles. The Babembes live there."

"And you think that dead nigger was a—what ye call it—Babembe?"

"Not at all."

"But—"

"Wait, Tommy. Do not come to rash, illogical conclusions. Try a little science."

"Show me."

"I will. You see, the Babembes gather these seeds, and they trade them for corn and salt and hides with the Bakambas—there to the south, below the river."

"Oh—and what do the Bakambas use them for?"

"For some of their heathenish rites. I never looked into it very closely, but I know that they value the stuff and pay high prices for it."

"No medicinal value?"

Carstairs shook his head. "Not the slightest."

"Nor poisonous?"

"About as poisonous as a violet or a carnation." The professor looked up, impatient to return to his work. "I guess that murdered coon was a Bakamba. They always carry a few of the seeds about with them. Strange, though," he added, as if to himself; "I've never heard of a Bakamba following the sea: they're regular upland people, jungle people. Can't understand how he got here."

He was about to open his book when the detective cut in with another question:

"These Bakambas—are they at all skilled?"

Carstairs closed his book again and looked up with a sigh.

"Tommy," he said, "I can give you an education course between drinks. You ask as many questions as a child."

"But are they skilled?" insisted the younger man.

"They belong to what is known among the Gallas as the Iron Tribes. That means they have a crude way of smelting iron ore, and fashioning it into some sort of steel. That is as far as their skill goes. They know nothing about gold, for instance—"

"Silver?"

"Nor about silver."

"This little box there," asked Berkley, pointing at the crude silver receptacle that had held the seed—"it isn't by any chance their workmanship, is it?"

Carstairs examined it.

"No," he said. Then the ethnologist in him came to the surface. "It is—let's see—yes! It is Arab work. Doubtless the work of some nomadic Arab who drifted out to West Africa and had only crude instruments to help him. Let's have that microscope over there, Tommy. Something here that looks like an inscription."

He studied the cover of the box through the sharply magnifying lens and looked up with a smile.

"Know anything of Arabic?" he asked.

"I? Heavens, no!"

"All right. I'll translate what it says here. It has been scratched in with a knife, very faintly. Worn off, I should say, in spots." And he read out, word for word, halting once in a while to give the exact English meaning:

"In the Name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful, the Omniscient, King of the Day of Judgment! This, then, is your Kismet, and you will know that it is about you, like a stone about your neck, like the shadow of your body, like the pulse of your heart. For that, too, there is a reason. This, then, is your Kismet—"

Suddenly Carstairs stopped. His face turned deathly white. His lips worked. Unaware he seemed of the detective's presence,

He bent close over the little silver box. His lips mumbled the words as he read:

"This, then, is your Kismet, O Breaker of Trusts—"

GIVING WARNING

A kind little man was Jacob Jones, and one inclined to be rather careless with his money. Perhaps his principal failing was giving to sturdy loafers about the town, in spite of his daughter's repeated commands to the contrary. She was a member of the associated charities, and knew that no one was allowed to go hungry unless he was unwilling to work.

"You're too kind hearted and easy, father," she would say. "Don't, please, provide those fellows with any more change for getting drinks—because I know that it is what they use it for."

"But they look so hungry," he would protest, to which she would say nothing.

Going out one afternoon, Mr. Jones was accosted by a man who whined out some words to the effect that he wanted a "copper" to get a sandwich. Mr. Jones' hand was in his pocket and half way out again, before he recollected orders. Then he looked as sternly as possible at the man who towered above him.

"Go away," he said, "else I'll surely give you something. I'm too easy."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Winifred Black Writes FOLKS AND THINGS about

Winifred Black

She wasn't seriously hurt after all—the little girl who screamed so loud—but the neighbors were frightened.

She was just terrified and hysterical.

Her father and mother didn't like something she did, so they whipped her rather hard and the little girl screamed and the neighbors interfered.

The father and mother were charged with cruelty. But when the case came up before the county probation committee, which looks into things of this sort in that part of the state, the little girl went on the stand and testified that she deserved the whipping.

The father and mother testified that the child was hysterical—that's all.

And nobody did anything about anything.

How could they—under the circumstances?

Probably there wasn't anything to do. But I keep wondering about hysteria and children who are whipped and parents who do the whipping.

Is whipping one of the recognized treatments for hysteria, I wonder?

I have never heard a regular practicing physician say that he thought it was—and isn't hysteria just a form of nervous derangement of some sort?

Nerves are strange things. They play the oddest kind of tricks, and the queerest thing they do is to make people believe that they don't really amount to very much.

I knew a woman once who got up in the night and killed herself. Her friends knew there was something wrong with her, but the family said, "Oh, she is just a little nervous!"

"NERVES" AND "NERVES."

Perhaps if they had whipped her good and hard when she began to be what they called "nervous," it might have saved her life.

There is a little boy who lives near me right now who comes home from school every once in a while shaking from head to foot with "nerves."

He is a beautiful boy, manly, bright and unusually intelligent. But his teacher thinks that "nerves" should not be encouraged, so she slaps him and shakes him and boxes his ears whenever she gets a good excuse—but somehow the little boy's mother doesn't understand that teacher's point of view and she has taken the little boy out of this school and put him into another—and he has gained three pounds and looks like a different child since they have made the change.

So you see there are "nerves" and "nerves" and methods and methods.

I wonder if any human being who stops to think about it really believes that you can't bring up a girl or a boy without whipping the child once in so often.

What good do the whippings do? Ask any teacher in the public schools and she will tell you that the worst children to manage are the children who are whipped at home.

When you whip a little, helpless, defenseless child you might just as well say to that child:

"I am mad and I don't know what to do about it, so I will take it out on you."

If I couldn't manage a little, foolish, headstrong, willful child without behaving exactly as that child would like to behave to me—I'd give up the job.

Either I would have more sense and more self-control, and more generosity and more tact than that child, or I ought to be sent to the home for the feeble-minded and kept there until I had learned something about human nature—and how to read and control it.

Now that the country's DRY let's go back to the good old PROHIBITION DRINKS- Sulphur n' Molasses Gruel and Flaxseed Tea.
FRR
CHEER UP COLUMN BY ELSIE ROBINSON

Good Evening, People!

I don't believe in this compromising with EVIL. If you're going to do a thing, DO IT, I say—and don't put a lot of fancy tags on it that makes it look as if it was something else. Now, take this business of the PROHIBITION DRINK. Somehow or other this country has managed to wish itself dry. I don't know who did it. I've asked everyone I know if he had a hand in it and every last man of 'em has acted as if I'd gone out of my way to insult him. Which is real foolish, because, between you and me, I never for a minute suspected that a single one of them had a thing to do with it. Other men may have worked for it, but not the men I know. However, the fact remains—we're DRY. And now we are embarked upon a tour of discovery that makes this little trip to the pole look like a kindergarten puzzle. We're trying to find a line of gargles that will take the place of the late lamented.

COMPROMISE WITH EVIL?

"An' right here is where I say—why compromise with Evil? Someone or other who has carefully preserved his incognito, decided that drink was AN EVIL and has appended that opinion as a national decision to the Constitution. Which must be SOME surprise to that document, considering the husky and thirsty times in which it originated. But there it is—and now we're looking for substitutes. Already they are cropping up on every side—the Bryan Croquet Ball, the Chautauqua Cat Tail, the Jenny Six, the Baby's Neck—and other alluring, suggestive and deliberately malicious titles.

Now, that's no way to stamp out a scourge. Why imitate the nomenclature of the Evil One? It's degrading, cheapening—not to say tantalizing to anyone with a memory and a heart. Time was when names like those—but enough—enough! Writers aren't supposed to have feelings.

No, let's put aside this unworthy trifling with vain regrets and come right out strong on the side of righteousness. Let's not concoct a lot of insidious reminders, but go back to the innocent and wholesome drinks of our childhood days. Now, there was that annual brew of Sulphur and Molasses, for instance. We all remember it. Mother used to mix it up once a year in the big yellow mixing bowl and dose the whole family with it. Three times a day for three days—then lay off—then go at it again until purple spots appeared on the ears. I'm not quite sure about that last, but I think it was purple spots. At any rate—that was a GREAT drink. There's a little highball that ought to satisfy the most broken arched reformer that ever trod on joy.

A CUP O' GRUEL.

Then there's gruel. Here we are with all these young soldiers coming home from France with their blood all het up because they've been fighting an' naturally we want to celebrate yet we don't want to put any wrongful suggestions into their young heads. So what could be better to toast them in than a nice, warm cup of gruel? Or, hold on—I've thought of something even better—

FLAXSEED TEA! At last I have it—the great American drink! Flaxseed Tea. If I don't get the Croix de Bryan for that there ain't no justice in the country. Simple, straightforward—what more could you want in the way of a drink? And ABSOLUTELY NON-HABIT-FORMING!

Of course I could go on and elaborate this theme—but you get the idea. There's simply no end of pleasant, wholesome drinks that are familiar to every family. Cod Liver Oil—what could be daintier for a liqueur? Why, there are a thousand things. So, come on, brother—take your stand as a true American—and have some nice shampoo suds on me!

REVELATIONS of a WIFE by ADELE GARRISON.

How Madge and Harry Underwood Settled Themselves for Their Little Talk Together.

I shall not soon forget the varying sensations that came to me while traversing at Harry Underwood's side the short block of Fifth avenue between the corner of the Public Library grounds at Fortieth street and the corner of Thirty-ninth street, round which we turned.

Terror and humiliation were my portion. Fear that Dickey, Grace Draper or even some casual acquaintance should see me walking in apparently friendly fashion with this social pariah hastened my steps to a gait far quicker than the one I usually employ.

I was cowardly enough to shrink, physically and mentally, from the scene I knew would ensue if Grace Draper should catch sight of me. Not that she would care a whit if Harry Underwood and I walked the entire length of Fifth Avenue and back again. But the pentup malignancy of her enmity toward me couldn't be restrained if she saw a chance to humiliate me by a scene.

But, of course, the terror which most obsessed me was the possibility of encountering my husband. What Dicky would think, what Dicky would say were he to see me walking with Lillian's recreant husband when he supposed me to be aiding Lillian in a difficult task confronting her, I shrank from imagining.

The fact that I was aiding Lillian in one of the most difficult tasks she had ever faced wouldn't help the situation in the least. I couldn't explain my presence at Harry Underwood's side except by betraying my connection with Lillian's secret work, about which Lillian, fearing Dicky's careless garrulity, had forbidden me to speak.

"HE'D NEVER OBJECT."

I breathed a little sigh of relief as we rounded the corner into Thirty-ninth street. Harry Underwood looked down at me reassuringly.

"You don't need to worry now," he said. "There's no danger of encountering her in this block."

"It isn't that," I murmured involuntarily.

He bent toward me—his face wearing the old quizzical expression I so disliked.

"Afraid Friend Husband might pop up in our path?" he asked with intuition that seemed diabolical. "That ought not to trouble you. Old Dicky is about the best friend I've got. He'd never object to your lunching with me."

His tone and manner spelled absolute conviction, at which I marvelled. Was it possible that he had no conception of the aversion with which Dicky regarded him because of his caddish desertion of Lillian, Dickey's life-long friend and mentor? Evidently not, for he began to talk of Dickey as if he had just left him around the corner.

I was glad indeed when our entrance into the Fleur de Lis stopped his flow of reminiscences. I saw his brilliant black eyes roving critically over every appointment of the attractive little tea room, as the manager, a stately, grayhaired woman, came smilingly toward us.

"Would you like to sit near the window," she asked, "or will you take your favorite table?"

I fancied that she gave an almost imperceptible glance of curiosity at my imposing looking escort, and I was thankful that she didn't know my name, or, in fact, anything about me save the fact that I had lunched quite frequently at her tea room.

"I would like my usual table," I answered, and she stepped aside to greet other comers while I led the way to the table I had liked when I had lunched at the tea room in the winter, the one nearest the immense open fireplace, which was one of the charms of the tea room.

Now, on this May day, there was no need for a fire, and some one's discriminating taste had put an immense bunch of pussy willows in the copper kettle which swung from the crane. But the table was one so far back in the room that it was admirably adapted to afford us the freedom from intrusion necessary to our talk.

"By Jove, this isn't a bad looking dump at all!" Mr. Underwood said, looking at the quaint patterns and colorings of the chintzcovered chairs, the really good pictures on the wall, and the dainty china and linens with which the tables were appointed.

"But what a gloomly-looking waitress"; he lowered his voice discreetly as the girl, the one who always took my order, placed two glasses of water on the table, laid the menu card before us, and stepped aside for a moment to answer the imperious demand of a woman at a neighboring table, who was evidently dissatified with some portion of the food placed before her. "She'd give me the jim-jams if I had to have her serve my meals very often. She looks exactly as if she were about to say, 'Mourners will pass on this side, please.'"

To Be Continued.

PARIS, July 24.—Flame throwers are being employed with great success in fighting a locust plague in the south of France, says a despatch from Avignon.

LAWYER GETS PARDON FROM GOV. STEPHENS

SAN JOSE, July 24.—Carrying the governor's pardon in his pocket Attorney W. M. Beggs arrived here from San Quentin prison just a day after his son, Phil Beggs, was welcomed home after eighteen months' service in France.

During all of the ten months that he served in the penitentiary Mrs. Beggs worked loyally and faithfully for the liberation of her husband, interviewing all of the prominent figures during his trial and a long series of letters to the governor were the result. A. M. Free, the attorney who prosecuted, all of the members of the jury, Judge Franklin Griffin and prominent business men and bankers all joined in urging the governor to pardon Beggs.

Attorney Beggs was one of the most prominent members of the local bar association and was accused and convicted of extorting money from a clerk who had been accused of stealing from his employer. He fought the case for years through all of the courts of the state and ten months ago, being forced to the wall, he was committed to San Quentin.

Beggs was only one of a number of prominent local attorneys sent to prison by A. M. Free. The others convicted by him were Jackson Hatch, who looted the estate of a client of $34,000; Frank Dreischmeyer, who embezzled more than $100,000 from clients and Marshall Black, who looted a building and loan association of more than $100,000.

All were finally pardoned.

Gets Acquainted With Police in Pawshop

Joseph Hill is not very well acquainted with the Oakland police—yet. But he's learning something about them today, as the result of an adventure with Inspector Jack Mulhern last evening. Hill entered a second-hand clothing store and attempted to sell a suit of clothes he carried. He did not notice a stranger in the back of the store, but, after he had struck a bargain for the suit and received the money, the stranger stepped forward and arrested him. Mulhern says that he found the man in possession of several suits. He is being held for investigation.

KNICKERBOCKER LEAVES ARK.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Father Knickerbocker came out of his ark today and stepped upon dry, if somewhat soggy, ground. It was the first day since July 15 that rain was not falling in New York.

Coast Shippers Told to Organize Pacific Trade Campaign Planned

Assurance that if they can furnish concrete suggestions for the use of new vessels on trans-Pacific trade routes, the United States Shipping Board will do everything possible to assign Pacific Coast built ships to the Pacific Coast trade, was given representatives of the shipping interests of California at a meeting in San Francisco yesterday by John H. Rosseter, director of operations of the Shipping Board.

The meeting, which was held in the Chamber of Commerce offices, marked the first definite action of California shippers in the interest of a large fleet of vessels to handle the growing sea trade of the state.

URGE SHIPPERS ORGANIZE.

In explaining the government's readiness to cooperate with them, Rosseter told the shippers and ship operators present that they must bear these three things in mind:

That the available merchant marine tonnage is not as great as reports indicate at this time.

That shippers must realize the necessity of boats in transpacific trade returning with imports sufficient in volume to equalize the outbound cargoes;

That Pacific coast shippers must organize to help themselves and to provide capital with which to acquire home port ships if they desire to make permanent the foreign trade possibilities looming before the people of the west coast at this time.

WILL NAME COMMITTEE.

"The time is near at hand when you will be given the opportunity to buy ships from the government," he declared. "What I am going to ask you now is how ready are you to meet this opportunity. And can you expect to get ships if other parts of the country are ready to buy them outright for their home ports?"

Rosseter's talk before the conference will result in the appointment of a committee representative of the Chamber of Commerce, the Freight Forwarders' Association, Foreign Trade Club, Drayen's Association, San Francisco Importers and Exporters' Association and the Pacific American Steamship Company. The duty of the committee, the membership of which was left to Vice President George C. Boardman of the Chamber of Commerce, will be to extend suggestions for upbuilding the Pacific Coast's foreign trade and to give concrete examples of shipping board activities that it is felt are subject to constructive criticism.

TONNAGE IS LIMITED.

"The real production of steel ships was barely started a year ago, and on December 31 had barely exceeded 2,000,000 tons," said Rosseter. "Up to that time the use of all the government ships, their operation and direction, was not in the hands of the Shipping Board. But on January 1 the Ship Control Commission assumed control of these vessels in co-operation with the various war departments of the government.

"The development of Pacific commerce has been the absorbing passion of my life, but when I went to Washington I had to separate myself exclusively from local thought to give attention to the complex problems of the Atlantic, the Gulf, the Pacific and other localities. And the disappointment that you hear on this Coast is but an echo of the feeling in every part of the country."

Old Circulars Lure Couple to Oakland

Attracted by literature mailed him two years ago by Edwin Stearns, secretary of the Alameda County Development Commission, Jacob Houck, accompanied by his wife, has just arrived here from Tucson, Ariz., and expresses his intention of buying a farm near this city and later investing money in some local business enterprise.

They say that the literature they received concerning Oakland and Alameda county did not in the least exaggerate the facts. Mr. and Mrs. Houck express themselves as delighted with this community and expect to reside here permanently.

British Auto Firm To Copy Americans

LONDON, July 24. — A large British engineering company has announced its entry into the field of motor car production with a model which is openly regarded as an attempt to meet American competition by adopting American methods of mass production. The company hopes to put 20,000 cars on the market the first year. This car, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London, is to be of 16 to 20 horsepower, to carry five passengers and sell at approximately $1490. Thus far only one car has been built and this was for testing purposes.

Interned Aliens Will Regain Freedom

WASHINGTON, July 24.—All interned civilian enemy aliens except those guilty of advocating anarchistic doctrines, and those who desire to be repatriated, will be given their freedom soon by the United States.

Attorney General Palmer said today that as Congress had not acted on the recommendation of the Department of Justice that a law be enacted permitting the deportation of persons interned as hostile to the United States, the department had decided to release the men from the detention camps.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope, Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound, with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you.

ONE OF WOMAN'S GLORIES--- A LOVELY COMPLEXION

WOMAN was created beautiful, and it is her duty to maintain and to enhance, if possible, that with which she has been endowed. Aside from the graces of mind and soul which every woman possesses, her complexion is her greatest charm. Many aids of more or less value have been offered to help woman to maintain and to promote the natural beauty and transparency of her skin. It has remained, however, for Santiseptic Lotion to furnish the simple, the natural, stimulus to Nature in keeping woman beautiful. Santiseptic clears and whitens the skin; it acts as a gentle astringent to close up enlarged pores and it takes off the "shine," giving the skin that permanent, soft, velvety texture which everyone so much admires. Santiseptic also will relieve the skin from the effects of outdoor exposure. It prevents and corrects the discolorations and the blemishes caused by sunburn and windburn, tan and freckles, it is good for any skin, affection, no matter what its nature or cause may be. Take a bottle of Santiseptic when you go on your next outdoor trip. You will find many uses for it. Use it every day and insure an attractive and healthy skin. Santiseptic is prepared scented and unscented, with powder in tints of white, flesh and brunette. You can procure Santiseptic at almost any Oakland drug store or department store.—Advertisement.

MURDER CASE RECALLED BY DIVORCE SUIT

Judge Ti W. Harris, who in 1907 as a deputy district attorney assisted in the prosecution of Percy S. Pembroke in connection with the murder of Thomas W. Cook in Fruitvale, for which George W. Blaker and John Schneider were convicted and sentenced to San Quentin for life, and on account of which Pembroke was later sentenced to prison for eighteen years for participation in the robbery of the victim, today presided at the trial of the suit in which Mrs. Minnie E. Pembroke was plaintiff against Pembroke for divorce. Judge Harris awarded her a decree on her testimony that Pembroke threatened to kill her. Pembroke married the plaintiff at Hollywood, Los Angeles county, in 1916, after his release from San Quentin on parole.

Pembroke was tried for the murder of Cook in 1907 and acquitted. George W. Blaker and John Schneider, associates of Pembroke, were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder.

According to the evidence in the case, Pembroke and the other two boys followed Cook at night after he left the Fruitvale store, near what is now Twenty-third avenue, and fractured his skull with a piece of pipe, robbing him of about $70 which he took away from the store. Pembroke testified that when he heard the crash of the pipe on Cook's head he turned and ran away.

Pembroke testified that he was with the other boys where they waited for Cook. He said they coaxed him to hit the victim of the intended holdup, but that he refused to do so. He went along with them as they followed Cook, but was overcome with fear when he heard the smash. It was shown that he received some of the money taken from the victim.

DOCTOR ADVISED HIM TO TAKE IT

A. F. Roberts, Successful Cattle Dealer, Gains Sixteen Pounds in Sixty Days Taking Tanlac.

"One of the best doctors in Colorado advised me to take Tanlac, and it has not only overcome my troubles but I have gained sixteen pounds since I began taking it sixty days ago," said A. F. Roberts, who lives at Rocky Ford, Alberta, Canada, a few days ago.

Mr. Roberts is one of the largest cattle dealers in his section of the country, and before moving to Canada a short time ago, he had spent most of his life in Colorado, U. S. A.

"I can now understand why Tanlac enjoys such wide popularity both in Canada and the United States," continued Mr. Roberts, "and since it has done me so much good, I know that it is a very dependable medicine and deserves all the praise that is being given it. For the past two years I have suffered from stomach trouble, and when I commenced taking this Tanlac, it was almost impossible for me to retain anything I ate. I was very nervous and never got a good night's sleep, and finally got so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. I often had dizzy spells, and was bothered a great deal with constipation.

"My physician certainly knew what he was doing when he prescribed Tanlac for me, for it has done the work for me, as I am as healthy and strong now as I ever was in my life. In fact, it has done much more for me than I expected it would do. I have a fine appetite and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I never have the slightest sign of stomach trouble of any kind. I am no longer bothered with constipation and never have those dizzy spells any more. I have regained all my strength, too, and that nervousness has left me, and I sleep like a log every night. In fact, I am simply enjoying perfect health again, and I give Tanlac credit for it all."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

Plays & Players

"POLLY WITH A PAST" NEXT FULTON ATTRACTION

David Belasco's successful comedy, "Polly With a Past," is to be the attraction at the Fulton Playhouse next week, with bewitching Nana Bryant as "Polly." The quaint humor and delightful atmosphere of the sparkling play should prove of unusual drawing power among Oakland's theatergoers, who long have looked forward to its production with great eagerness.

The play proved a tremendous success in San Francisco, as elsewhere. Ina Claire as "Polly" packed the Columbia Theater for four weeks last fall. Nana Bryant has always been anxious to play the famous role of the demure, capricious, lovable "Polly" and her friends and critics —synonmous terms—predict she will create fully as much of a furore in depicting the characteristics of the clever, sweet, entrancing "Polly" as did Ina Claire. She is to be supported by Paul Harvey, Cliff Thompson and the full strength of the Maude Fulton company.

The famous Henry Arthur Jones drama of emotion and thrills, "The Lie," is drawing huge crowds to the Fulton this week. Nana Bryant's ability as an emotional actress is being tested to the full and she is giving a powerful portrayal.

TWO EXCELLENT FILMS ON AMERICAN PROGRAM

An exceedingly enjoyable picture program is that which is now being presented at the American Theater, Harold Lockwood in "A Man of Honor," a delightful romantic drama, and May Allison in "The Uplifters," a clever comedy drama of humorous adventures in Bohemia.

"A Man of Honor" is a tale of romance, love and adventure, the exciting scenes of which are enacted on a picturesque island on the Pacific. The story has to do with hidden treasure, bold pirates, mysterious happenings and the thrilling adventures of a young American.

"The Uplifters" tells the story of Hortense Troutt, a dissatisfied stenographer, who believing that she is one of the downtrodden working class, becomes an exponent of "unshackled freedom" and cast her lot with the denizens of New York's Bohemia.

The play, which a picturization of Wallace Irwin's widely read Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, is full of action and surprises.

A Pathe News Weekly and John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra complete the program which will be shown at the American the remainder of this week.

VAUDEVILLE AND MUSIC ROUND OFF T. & D. SHOWS

Another ten-strike in popular favor has been struck by the T. & D. Theater in the inauguration of vaudeville and the retention of Signor U. Marcelli and his big orchestra of twenty-five artists for another season to play both afternoons and evenings. This move, coupled with a program of two big screen stars in their latest successes, has made all roads lead to the T. & D.

Today Anita Stewart comes direct from the Tivoli Theater in San Francisco to appear in "Mary Regan," the third big photoplay masterpiece from the star's own studio; Mae Murray is on the screen in "The Delicious Little Devil" and Irving Jones and Roy Johnson, vaudeville funsters. In addition and incidental to these attractions the program until Saturday includes T. & D. Chatter, a budget of wit, and a Chester Outing.

Sunday Charlie Chaplin arrives for a week in "Sunnyside," his latest comedy, as the first of the big star bookings announced by the T. & D. Theater management.

SHERLOCK HOLMES FILM GRIPS YE LIBERTY PATRONS

Surrounded by an excellent company, Landers Stevens is giving an admirable touch to that romantic figure, "Sherlock Holmes," which he is portraying the last part of this week at Ye Liberty Playhouse. George Cross, the Australian actor, is given to "Dr. Watson," a novel reading; Hugh Metcalfe is back temporarily as "Larrabee"; George P. Webster is playing a brief engagement as "Moriarity" and Georgie Cooper, Claire Sinclair and Marion Dupre are handling the feminine roles. A big cast is appearing in the contributory roles.

Immediately after the production of "Sherlock Holmes," which ends on Saturday evening, another big road attraction will come in for a full week commencing Sunday afternoon. It is called the Variety Follies of Nineteen-Nineteen—a monster vaudeville show carrying several carloads of equipment, a special jazz orchestra and drapes and curtains valued well into the thousands. This production will obtain for the full week, with daily matinees.

"Oh Boy!" TO BE NEXT WEEK'S ORPHEUM BILL

"Oh Boy!" That's the name of the latest and greatest novelty in picturedom the "Filmusical comedy." It is the most remarkable feature film in years. It's more than a film; it's a musical comedy played in pictures, and it's the musical comedy augmented with pictures; a little of both and better than either.

Albert Capellani, the celebrated director, he who created Nazamova's "Out of the Fog," "The Red Lantern" and "Eye for Eye," conceived the novel idea and produced the big picture. The cast is entirely composed of stars—June Caprise, one of the great comediens of today; Creighton Hale, musical comedy idol and star with Pearl White in the "Iron Claw" and other serials; Zena Keefe, noted stars appear in it. It starts mous for her work with the late John Bunny; Joseph Conyers, original "Hick Constable"; W. H. Thompson, veteran star of stage and screen; Lefty Flynn, famous Harvard football hero; Grace Reals and other noted stars appear on it. It starts at the Orpheum next Sunday matinee.

This week "The Shepherd of the Hills" continues to pack the Orpheum, breaking all picture feature records.

UNDERSEA BATTLE OF DIVERS IN KINEMA FILM

Two men in diver's outfits in a desperate undersea battle for a woman is the most enthralling scene in Maurice Tourneur's presentation of the famous Drury Lane Melodrama, "The White Heather," now at the Kinema.

The same quality of cast, the same artistry in production, the same lavishness in scenic effects which characterized "Sporting Life," Tourneur's other big picture, is found in this new triumph.

Scenes in the underworld night life of London, the Stock Exchange, and the heather-clad hills of Scotland are the background for the stirring action which culminates in a fight to the death between two rival divers at the bottom of the sea.

The TRIBUNE Kinema News Weekly, "Rowdy Ann," a two-reel Christy Comedy, a Gaumont Review and Timely Topics are on the same program.

JAPANESE MARVEL IS PANTAGES HEADLINER

When Tameo Kajiyama learned English he must have attacked it from every conceivable angle, and there are Pantages patrons who will believe that he studied most of the time standing on his head when he learned to read and write the alphabet. Kajiyama is not a mind reader, but he gives a demonstration of mental gymnastics of a most amazing character. He calls it an exhibition of mind concentration, introducing a demonstration of what is called "multiple action" of the brain.

While telling his audience stories, Tameo reads a newspaper with his back to the blackboard and copies backward the headlines from the paper. In another demonstration he takes five names of seven letters each, given to him by the audience, and writes them upside down, backwards and straight up in a single line across the blackboard, alternating a letter from each name in consecutive order, and copies them in perfect alignment.

Cecilia Rhoda and George Crampton have returned in a new act called "Aspiration." It is all done in song, and the climax is reached in a scene from "Aida."

Clyde Hager and Walter Goodwin are singing comedians who present songs of their own composition. "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," one of their famous songs, is included in their act.

Monroe and Grant have one of the best trampoline acts which has come over the Pantages circuit. It is a speedy and filled with plenty of life and thrills. The Three Girls From Harmonyland, easy to gaze upon and handsomely gowned, go over strong in songs. "The Heart of the Rose" was especially well done. Other acts making good are Lawrence and Edwards in a comedy sketch and Helen Schalder, 'cellist.

"OTHER MEN'S WIVES" SHOWING AT FRANKLIN

Dorothy Dalton is a frivolous society butterfly caught in the web of circumstances in "Other Men's Wives" this week at the Franklin. Vanity and love of ease led her into an entanglement the consequences of which form the basis for an absorbing story of society life.

Penniless, she moved in millionaire circles, dependent upon the bounty of her friends for invitations to town and country mansions and running up huge bills for gowns. But when they tried to use her for a cat's paw the luxury loving girl awoke to a realization of her position.

Travels with Burton Holmes, a Christy Comedy, Paramount Pictograph, comedy cartoon and International News Weekly complete the program.

"THE SHERIFF'S SON" IS BROADWAY ATTRACTION

Fear is made the foundation of one of the most thrilling photoplays ever brought to the screen in "The Sheriff's Son" at the Broadway Theater today and tomorrow.

Cursed by an inheritance of timidity brought on by a spectacle in the eyes of his mother before he was born, Ray portrays the character of a spineless youth who must fill the shoes of his dead father in a cattle-thief ridden country. A comedy and other attractions are on the same program today and tomorrow.

Saturday J. Warren Kerrigan will be seen in a special screen release, "The Drifters," and "Captured by Cannibals" will make up the second half of the program. Sunday Rex Beach's mystery drama, "The Crimson Gardenia," will be shown for two days.

SCREEN PICTURES SUDDENLY FAIL

Lieutenant John M. Lyle, new secretary of the manufacturers' bureau and late of the United States aviation service, is perfectly at home when flitting about in an airplane far above the ground, but when it comes to manipulating a stereopticon he is not nearly so proficient. This fact was developed yesterday at the luncheon of the bureau in the Hotel Oakland.

William A. Beard, vice-president and general manager of the Sacramento Development Association, was giving an illustrated talk on the "Iron Canyon" irrigation project at Red Bluff.

It devolved upon Lyle to throw the pictures on the screen and the speaker, facing the audience and with his back to the screen, called for the first picture, saying:

"My friends, you are now looking at a picture of the last steamboat that made a trip from Red Bluff. In this picture you see the passing of steamboat navigation on the Sacramento river at that point."

The audience looked in vain. There was nothing to be seen but the bare screen. Still looking down at the audience without observing the fact that the machine was not functioning, Beard said:

"Now we will pass on to the next picture."

Lyle made another effort. The machine sputtered and spat and fumed, but the only impression on the screen was a streak of colors that did not harmonize.

By this time the audience had begun to smile and the speaker became aware that all was not going well with the pictures. After a brief intermission Lyle got some action out of the stereopticon and the lecture proceeded.

PETTY THEFTS ARE ON POLICE SLATE

Entering through a rear window, a burglar last night ransacked the room of Christie Megelidia, 511 Cedar street, and took $10 in cash, a book of war savings stamps and other valuables.

W. A. Donahoe, 708 Washington street, was another burglar victim. The thief took a suit of clothes and valuables.

A sneak thief took the garden hose at the residence of Mrs. C. A. McDaniel, 401 East Twenty-first street, according to the police report.

While the automobile of J. Llewellyn, 1635 Broadway, stood on Broadway at a late hour last night, some one took a casing from the tire rack. A similar theft was reported by S. W. Winters, 2148 Stewart street, Berkeley.

Gee Young, 383 Sixth street, today asked the police to find his overcoat, which was stolen.

Charges Against Soldier Dropped

Charged with being implicated with Byron Shell, a sailor, in the theft of an automobile belonging to E. M. Vall, 2242 Seventh avenue, Private Clarence Wimble was discharged in police court today so he could join his company in Hawaii.

It was brought out that Shell is accused of stealing the car and asked Wimble to ride with him.

Merchant's Yells Rout Two Bandits

Two thugs, armed with revolvers, today attempted, in broad daylight, to hold up M. J. Brannon, in his store at 26th and Adeline streets. Leveling guns at the man, they ordered him to give up his cash. Instead, Brannon shouted for help. The men fled. The police are investigating.

Woman Took Poison Through Mistake

Police were called to the emergency hospital last night to investigate Mrs. C. Langben, 691 Tyler street, who was suffering from the effects of taking several bichloride of mercury tablets.

Physicians worked more than an hour on the suffering woman, before she recovered.

Mrs. Langben told the police she thought the poison tablets were Asperin tablets. She took them from a darkened closet for treatment of a cold.

Mrs. A. Aldridge, 665 South Elmhurst strete, was visiting Mrs. Langben at the time she took the tablets. She tried to revive Mrs. Langben with first aid treatment. Failing, the police ambulance was called.

Slayer of Mother Gets Life Sentence

MOUNT AYR, Iowa, July 24.—Roy Emerson, Creston, Iowa, undertaker, convicted last Saturday of murdering his mother, today was sentenced by Judge Homer Fuller to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

STRATEGY USED BY COUNCIL ON ST. PROTEST

Overruling a protest against the proposed improvement on Twenty-third avenue, and then revoking the proceedings, an act unique in council procedure, was staged today. Commissioner W. J. Baccus stated that the assessment district was too small, but that if the council sustained the protest to it the work could not be proceeded with again for six months.

"I am going to ask that the protest be overruled," he said, "then the work rescinded. This will allow us to start new proceedings tomorrow with a new assessment district, thus satisfying the protestants and still not delaying the work." This was ordered. The street is a main thoroughfare in East Oakland.

ROOSTERS MUST WEAR COLLARS

The city council today at last found a solution for the problem of Oakland's roosters. Today the fourth protest came in from East Oakland, where frate neighbors say that various owners own roosters who make the welkin ring o' early mornings.

"I am preparing a scientific law" said Commissioner F. F. Morse, "that will solve the difficulty. It's the invention of the city attorney; a collar that is placed around a rooster's neck, and that keeps his head down, much as a check-rein keeps a horse's head in a certain position. We will make it mandatory for the roosters to wear one of these.

"Here's the science—a rooster can't crow unless he can stretch his neck out. This prevents it. No stretch—no crow—and East Oakland can sleep again!"

The council is skeptical—but waiting.

DEMAND CALLED EXORBITANT

After holding a three-day conference, the California Zone, Pacific Coast Allied Printing Trades, and the California Typothetae (employing printers) adjourned late yesterday and the delegates have departed for their homes.

Most of the day was devoted yesterday to a discussion of the wage scale submitted by the printing trades to employers, calling for $1 an hour for a 7-hour day. A committee comprising the following was appointed by the printing crafts to discuss with the employing printers in conference the scale submitted: Pressmen, E. H. Elford; typographers, M. T. Ayres; bookbinders, T. J. O'Leary; stereotypers and electrotypers, McArthur Johnston; photo engravers, E. R. Neiss.

Delegates to the Allied Printing Trades conference expressed themselves as highly pleased with the friendly and cordial manner in which they weer received by the employing printers and say that Oakland has set an example for other cities in this respect.

Members of the committee from the Allied Printing Trades discussed freely and openly with the employers in conference the question of hours, wages and working conditions, and the employing printers were equally frank, according to those who took part in the discussions.

It was held by the employers, however, that at this time the wage increase demanded is exorbitant and that the reduction in hours asked would also prove too much of a handicap.

As a result of the joint conference the Allied Printing Trades' decided to refer to the individual crafts the proposition made by the employers. It will require such separate approval, according to union officials, to reach a final decision. In the meantime it is said that the work of the allied crafts will continue without interrupition. When the various crafts have taken a vote on the question the employers are prepared to submit a concrete proposition, it is said.

Declares Widower Stole Wife's Love

Thomas Hood, laborer, today sued his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Maud Hood, for divorce, and at the same time sued Fred Thurston, a widower, for alleged alienation of her affections, asking for $5000 damages.

Hood alleges in his suit for damages that Thurston pursued Mrs. Hood, causing her to learn to love him and to lose interest in her home and three children, two boys aged 8 and 2 years, respectively, and a little girl aged 5.

In the complaint for divorce Hood alleges that his wife, after she met Thurston, neglected the children and refused to cook their meals. The Hoods were married in 1908.

BOSTON MAY BE STATE IF PLAN IS CARRIED OUT

BOSTON, July 24.—The forty-ninth state of the Union would be the "state of Boston," under a plan submitted to the legislature by Representative James H. Brennan of Charlestown. He presented a bill providing for submission to the voters of the question of creating a forty-ninth state comprising the cities of Boston, Revere and Chelsea and the town of Winthrop.

"The people of Boston must fight for the right of self-determination," said Brennan. "That is proved by the conduct of the Republican legislature of 1919 in loading us down with unjust taxation."

TWO LITTLE BOYS JUVENILE WARDS

Two boys, 5 and 6, children of Charles Martelock, machinist, who has been missing from his home at 5932 Adeline street for the past month, without any trace of his whereabouts, were today declared wards of the Juvenile court by Judge Dudley Kinsell and given into the care of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, with an order for county support of $11 a month. At the time of his disappearance Martelock was working at Hanlon's shipyard. Early in the forenoon he threw down his tools and told his fellow-workers he was tired of that sort of existence. Walking out of the yard he vanished from all knowledge of his wife and friends.

The children are the offspring of his marriage to Julia Brandien, some eight years ago, and whom he deserted very much after the manner of his desertion of his present wife. Mrs. Minnie B. Martelock, whom he married five months ago, it is charged.

CITY WAGE RAISED TO AVERT STRIKE

The basic wage of laborers in the city employ is to be paid at the union scale of $5, thus avoiding the threatened building trades strike. Recommendation for the raise by the civil service board was filed with the council today, after a delay of a week, thus settling the dispute that had threatened a walkout of city employees this week.

The matter was adjusted last night at a special meeting of the two members of the civil service board and placed before the council today. The raises, which mean a raise of $1 a day for unskilled laborers and raises of from 25 cents a day upward for higher grades, will add $100,000 to the expenses of the city.

INSPECTOR OF CITY MARKETS IS DISMISSED

The much-rumored dismissal of Harry Smith, chief market inspector, who some time ago announced that he would refuse to resign, and insisted that Commissioner F. F. Morse dismiss him, occurred today. Commissioner Morse served notice to the city council of Smith's dismissal and named J. S. Sullivan to his place. The dismissal and new appointment were confirmed.

Smith says that his friendship for Mayor John L. Davie was the cause of his dismissal. He says that he was told that he might remain in office if he would "mend his ways" in regard to association with the city's executive. He filed the following today in answer to the dismissal order:

"Mr. F. F. Morse, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety, City Hall, Oakland, Cal.

"My Dear Commissioner: After due consideration in regard to our conversation last evening, I beg to advise you that I am of the same frame of mind in regard to my friendship and attitude toward Mayor Davie.

"If this is not satisfactory, or is in any way embarrassing to you, the only avenue I can see for you to take would be to ask the council for my dismissal at any time.

"Assuring you that our business relations have been in every matter satisfactory and that this move is purely political, I am

"Yours very truly,

"H. C. SMITH,

"Chief Food Inspector."

Martenke, 30; Mrs. Paul Jansen, 28.

After the cases were dismissed the police offered the opinion that names and addresses were fictitious.

The defendants are residents of Honolulu.

Put Up Every Pound of Fruit You Can Get This Summer

Delicious Jams, Jellies and Preserves made by this recipe:

Many a woman hesitates to try putting up fruit at home.

She fears she will only waste expensive materials.

It really is very simple. Just make your preserving syrup with ½ Karo (Red Label) and ½ sugar instead of sugar alone.

You can then be as sure of your results as the woman who always has "luck" with her preserving.

Nice fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the fruit juices. It blends the sugar with the juice—brings out the rich "fruity" flavor, and insures firm jams and jellies that never "candy" in the glass.

A well-filled fruit pantry will give you much pleasure this winter, when fresh fruits are scarce and high, if you just use Karo Syrup with your sugar.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

K. OF C. PLANS BIG PEACE CONVENTION

The peace convention of the Knights of Columbus, to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., August 5, 6 and 7, will be the largest convention, from point of numbers and amount of business to be transacted, that the Knights of Columbus have held since their foundation as a fraternal order thirty-seven years ago.

Prominent men in the army and navy and in civil life will address the convention, which will hold its first session in the K. of C. council building in Buffalo and then transfer the sessions to the Statler hotel there. Archbishop Hayes of New York has been invited to address the convention.

It is expected that more than a thousand Knights from all parts of the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Porto Rico, Cuba, Mexico and Panama will be present at the convention. The delegates from Oakland are Wm. J. Hayes and J. A. Kennedy. Last year in New York City the Knights held their prophetic Victory convention at the height of the war, and this year their convention has been styled the Peace convention, to signalize the gradual transfer of the organization's energies from war relief work to public work, necessitated by the nation's return to a peace basis.

One of the principal activities upon which the convention will decide is the newly launched K. of C. plan for a nation-wide system of night schools. Prominent educators from all parts of the country will meet in New York the week of July 27 and arrange a concrete program to be presented to the K. of C. supreme council. This program will include in its scope the educational advancement of the 600,000 members of the K. of C., and such other members of the general public who desire to take advantage of the courses the Knights will establish. The object is to give a quickly assimilated course in practical and cultural subjects.

The Knights have taken a definite stand in regard to the spread of extreme radicalism in this country, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty having delivered an ultimatum to bolshevists early in the year. The convention will ratify his declaration and emphasize the K. of C. position.

FIND STOLEN CAR AFTER 10 MONTHS

An automobile alleged to have been left in the garage of Tony Vargas, Thirty-fifth avenue and East Fourteenth street, by Eugene Sankey, who is now held in San Francisco city prison, was claimed by its owner, G. H. Blake of 1901 Lafayette street last night, after Blake had searched for several weeks. Blake promptly notified the police. Patrolman Shields interviewed the garage man and Vargas admitted that he suspected the Blake machine was stolen property, but he had neglected to notify the police.

When police inspectors went to take Vargas into custody on the complaint of Blake, he could not be found. It was recommended to Chief of Police Peich that his garage license be revoked.

According to Vargas' statement to Patrolman W. A. Shields, the car left with him by Sankey before the latter went to France with the American forces.

The car was stolen September 18, 1918.

Ninety days in the county jail was the sentence announced by Justice Robert Edgar of Berkeley today for Frantz Johansen, 505 Clay street, Oakland, who pleaded guilty to making threats against his divorced wife, employed in the household of Hans Fay, 3122 Claremont avenue, Berkeley.

Women Find 'Adonis' Not Guilty

Ah Ling Is Freed by Fair Jurors

Ah Ling, "The Chinatown Adonis," and said by the police to be the most handsome man in the Oriental district, is free of a charge of opium selling today, following trial by the first police court jury composed entirely of women in the Oakland police courts.

Ling, faultlessly attired, the very essence of sartorial splendor, appeared in court with the manners of a Chesterfield, and smiled. He was acquitted.

Incidentally Sergeant Robert Forgie, the court bailiff, got a shave when he saw the jury.

The women's jury was the invention of C. R. Christopher, court officer, who had to get a panel in ten minutes, and couldn't find hangers-on in saloons to subpena as is the usual custom. He was "stuck" until the big idea dawned, and he hurried to the shopping district and "grabbed" fair jurors from bargain counters and a candy store.

He worked havoc around Fourteenth and Clay streets with his little jury summons, and irate husbands had their dinners late because wifie was held for the jury. However, Ah Ling, the Chinatown Adonis, should worry. He is held guiltless of even owning an opium pipe.

Ling was arrested by Inspector Angel Favait of the State board of pharmacy, and accused of selling opium. He was defended by Judge J. J. Allen, his defense consisting of a general denial. The defendant is young, handsome, and athletic looking. The judge pointed out that such a specimen of manhood couldn't possibly be a dope fiend. He invited the jury to look him over. The jury did.

In the meantime Judge Samuels looked the jury over, and its fame spread all over the city hall. Policemen came over to have a look. Detectives crowded the corridors to "pipe the female jurors." Even the janitors hung around and watched. The jury box looked like a fashion show. So did Ling. All hands smiled, and it was a merry, merry trial. Even "Bill" Hennessey, the prosecuting attorney, dropped the gruff manner that is his usual wont, and wasn't harsh at all with the prisoner.

The women caught in Christopher's jury net and forced to serve on the panel last evening included: Mrs. May D. Clayton, 1830 Castro street; Mrs. Mackie Merrick, 1554 Madison street; Miss Hazel Forau, 2021 Brush street; Mrs. Mary Dickson, 2327 San Pablo avenue; Mrs. Bertha Wade, 1900 San Pablo avenue; Miss Mazie Isbell, 2815 Linden street; Mrs. Rose Gray, 596 Nineteenth street; Mrs. Grace Miller, 601 Hobart street; Mrs. Bertha McInory, 1709 Clay street, and Mrs. Loretta Shiebert, 5230 Market street.

FLOOD WATERS TO IRRIGATE LAND

The primary purpose of those behind the Iron Canyon project, which includes a great storage reservoir on the main Sacramento river a few miles from Red Bluff, is the conservation of flood waters for irrigation and other purposes during the summer months, according to W. A. Beard, vice-president and general manager of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, who spoke yesterday at the luncheon of the manufacturers' bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Oakland.

Expressing appreciation of the interest which the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is displaying in the undertaking, Beard said that the believed this community would be greatly benefited if the project goes through, as the Sacramento valley is Oakland's back country, and upon the development of that valley largely depends the future growth of this city.

The speaker said, in part:

"Those behind the movement have foreseen, for several years, a time when irrigation development in this valley would absorb available water supplies, and effort has been directed toward securing the development of this project, with a view to preventing, if possible, a period of arrested development in the Sacramento valley, due to lack of water for the expansion of irrigation.

"The outstanding fact of the present day, with reference to plans for the development of this great project, is that the water scarcity so long foreseen by the wise ones is now immediately imminent. The expansion of irrigation in the Sacramento valley during the past few years has been very rapid, due chiefly to the expansion of the comparatively young rice industry; and today the waters of the Sacramento river are practically all appropriated, and a very large proportion of the waters of this stream at low stage are now diverted and in use.

"It is to meet this condition that we are trying to bring about the construction of the Iron Canyon project, including the great Iron Canyon reservoir, which will impound, according to federal engineers' report, enough water to provide for the irrigation of 225,000 acres.

"We are hoping to secure the construction of this great project by the federal government and we are looking to the Honorable Franklin K Lane, secretary of the interior, for its development."

$70,000 Cannery Fire is Blamed to I. W. W.

ARLINGTON, Cal., July 24.—Facing a constant bombarding from exploding cans of fruit, Riverside and Arlington fire fighters today battled with flames that destroyed about two-thirds of the buildings of the Arlington cannery here, causing a property loss of $70,000, throwing 200 cannery workers out of employment, and probably putting the plant out of business for the remainder of the season.

The fire is believed to have been incendiary, as I. W. W. agitators recently placarded railway stations and industrial plants in the Riverside, Colton and San Bernardino district.

Agricultural Bill Passed by House

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The House today passed the agricultural appropriation bill, after passing the Senate amendment allowing homesteaders to leave their farms during droughts without losing any of their rights. The bill is without the daylight saving repeal rider, which caused the Presidential veto of the original bill, and now goes to the President for signature. It is the last of the regular appropriation bills.

COMIC OPERA ON LAKE CALLED OFF

There will be no performance of "The Gondoliers" on Lake Merritt. Decision to abandon, or at least to postpone the plan to raise money for the Community Placement Bureau by the vehicle of Gilbert & Sullivan's comic opera was reached today, and the reason is set forth in a statement by Jesse Robinson, chairman of the general committee. This statement follows:

"After serious consideration of every angle of the project to produce "The Gondoliers," Gilbert & Sullivan's famous comic opera, on the waters of Lake Merritt for the benefit of the Community Placement Bureau and the American Legion, the committee in charge has decided to indefinitely postpone the benefit.

"The expenses of staging the opera as originally planned, and of procuring the necessary accommodations for a huge audience will be so high as to make any considerable profit for the benefit of the same impossible.

"It should be stated in justice to the "California Singers" and Mr. Frederick Schiller that the artistic side of the enterprise was fully prepared, ready to go on at the original date and would have gone on except for the technical difficulties of staging and providing seats.

"While it is still necessary to provide funds for the continuance of the work of the Community Placement Bureau in the placing of returned soldiers in positions in civil life and the committee intends some time during the autumn months to stage a big benefit for this worthy cause, nothing definite has been decided upon."

COUNCIL TO HEAR TEACHERS' PLAN

Tomorrow night the case of the teachers will be presented to the Alameda City Council at a special postponed meeting.

Councilman E. J. Probst went on record today as favoring the increase in salaries for Alameda city's educators.

Speaking of the situation in Alameda, C. J. Dufour, superintendent of schools, has written to Mrs. Sue L. Fratis, president of the Alameda County Educational Association as follows

"Last year the Alameda city school tax was 14.1 cents. However, we cannot say that the 14.1 will be asked of the city council this year or not as the school budget is not yet completed. What Alameda teachers will ask of the council is an amount which, with the portion granted by the county supervisors will give the desired raise in salaries to the educators which the people of Alameda have gone on record as favoring."

UTAHAN SAYS HE IS GUILTY OF POLYGAMY

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—Confessing to polygamy, W. E. Whipple, husband of Mrs. Ula C. Whipple, principal of La Jolla public school, is held in the county jail today for officials from Provo, Utah, to arrive to take him back to that state, where he must answer to a warrant charging polygamy and desertion of minor children.

Born of Mormon parentage, Whipple, according to his own statement, has had somewhat of an adventurous career which culminated in one of the class rooms at the San Diego normal school where he was arrested on the Utah warrant.

A little over a year ago, Whipple, who enlisted in the army in Colorado, arrived at Camp Kearny. At a social affair at La Jolla, he was introduced to Miss Ula Chalmers. Three months later, Miss Chalmers became the bride of Drill Sergeant Whipple and a short time later the bridegroom left for overseas with the one hundred and fifty seventh regiment and served more than eight months in France. During his absences, Mrs. Whipple continued her teaching and upon his return a few months ago, Whipple entered the normal school here and within a short time would have received his certificate.

"I'm ready to make amends and I shall rectify my mistakes of the past," he said today.

The young bride expressed absolute confidence in her husband.

She says:

"I do not condone my husband's past, but I have absolute faith in his future intentions. Neither shall I or my parents place the least stumbling block in his road. I know there is some good and sufficient reason for the act."

Whipple confesses to having married first in 1905 and two children were born in this union. For about eight years he lived with this wife and domestic troubles entered and he left. A few years later, he met and married wife No. 2, and this was legal, he believed, as he heard that wife No. 1 had secured a divorce, although he admits never having been served with any notice.

Wife No. 2, he admits deserting and makes no explanations for his third alliance.

WAGE FIXED FOR WOMEN WORKERS

The Industrial Welfare commission announced today a new minimum wage scale for experienced women and minors employed in factories and packing plants at $13.50 per week.

Under this scale an adult woman is declared experienced after two weeks' employment, during which period a minimum scale of $10 per week or 21 cents an hour is paid.

Minors are given 18 cents an hour for the first two weeks and then serve an apprenticeship of nine months, which is divided into three periods of three months each, the scale being divided as not less than $9 per week, $10.50 and $12, after which time the new $13.50 scale prevails.

Home work is abolished and part time for adult women is fixed at 35 cents an hour, and 25 cents for minors. Piece work not less than 28 cents an hour for a 48-hour week of not more than 8 hours a day. In cases of emergency where overtime is necessary, the maximum overtime period is fixed at three hours a day, ranging from 35 to 50 cents an hour.

MORGAN HEADS PLAN TO GIVE AID IN EUROPE

By ROBERT J. PREW.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 24.—The stupendous plans being fostered in the United States for the financial and industrial relief of Europe extend not only to France, Great Britain and Italy, but Jugo-Slovakia, Czecho-Slovakia, Poland, Rumania and Greece; subsequently to Germany and Austria and perhaps ultimately to Bulgaria and Turkey.

It is regarded as highly significant that J. P. Morgan, probably the foremost banker of the day, has arrived in Europe coincident with the first joint meeting in London of the supreme economic council and the international shipping board. These two great organizations will meet for the first time jointly next week. The council will handle all of the economic and financial problems arising from the peace terms, while the shipping board, which will sit in London permanently, will control all cargo space.

Much light has been thrown on the inside plans of the American finance group by Louis Aubert, famous French economist, in a lengthy article in the Figaro.

"Europe is exhausted but Uncle Sam is richer than ever," says M. Aubert. "America holds the world's biggest gold reserve. American industries are intact. America is prepared to gather the most fruitful crop ever garnered. America possesses an abundance of cotton, wheat, meat, leather, oil, sugar and copper—everything that we lack and must obtain to keep us alive and our workshops going. But how can we pay for these commodities when we have already invested heavily in American dollars?"

The gist of the relief plan as outlined by M. Aubert is to arrange for long-term credits from American exporters to European importers for the stabilization of American exchange and to make it possible for Europeans to secure credits in the United States.

WITNESS IN FORD CASE 'FORGETS'

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 24.—H. H. Esselstyne, former commissioner of public works, Detroit, resumed the stand here today in Henry Ford's million dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune.

An interview Henry Wise Wood had with Ford, in which, Wood said, Ford told him he would not make war munitions under any consideration, was discussed.

Esselstyne, classed by Attorney Stevenson as an "unwilling witness," could not recall a letter which he addressed to Colonel Roosevelt a short time after a dinner attended by Ford, Wood and himself.

It was at this dinner, Wood testified, that Ford announced that he would not, in case of invasion of this country, manufacture a dollar's worth of munitions.

After reading his own letter and being shown newspaper articles quoting Ford as making the statement, Esselstyne's memory failed him.

American Legion's Membership Grows

BERKELEY, July 24.—At the regular meeting of the Berkeley Post of the American Legion twelve new applicants for membership were received. After disposing of routine business, the evening was turned over to Major Maurice S. Tabor, officer in charge of insurance from headquarters of the Western Department, in San Francisco.

Major Tabor gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the benefits and advantages of various forms of government insurance and afterward in informal discussion answered many questions that had been puzzling the members in reference to insurance questions.

The executive committee plans to have some topic of paramount interest to the service man ready for discussion at each meeting.

Dry Law Fails to Close Cabarets

Gotham Gets Buttermilk Thrill

NEW YORK, July 24.—The call of the cabaret is not being downed by prohibition, save in a few dreary spots.

Reports from large cities in all parts of the country brought out the fact today that punchless punch is drawing thrill-hunters to an extent scarcely suspected.

New York, for instance, where white lights burn brightest, has surrendered some of its gayest gilded amusement shops, but others are clicking right along, selling grape juice, ginger ale, lemonade and buttermilk at prices high enough to satisfy the most talented jyy chaser. Prices of food have been boosted to meet expenses. Some entertainers have received the blue envelope, but there is some optimism over the future. And liquor is not unobtainable to a good winker.

In St. Louis they have poohpoohed at prohibition. Cabarets are gliding along, peddling two and three-quarters, adding entertainers and catching the night hawks. Theaters are doing an increased business.

Baltimore's cabarets are operating at about half-speed with watered beer and soft drinks. Food prices are increasing. Many saloons have turned in their licenses.

Cleveland theaters are speeding up, but 50 per cent of the cafes there have closed. Some, however, are making good on a soft drink basis, with strong food prices. Entertainers entice patronage.

Chicago's cabarets are not closing. Crowds are placid, but are satisfied with better entertainment and higher food prices. Lobsters have grown cheaper. Community singing has helped some.

In Pittsburg the cabarets fought back feebly and most of them have been closed for sometime. Night restaurants there are doing a poor business with prices increased. Theaters are doing well. Hotels are reaping a better harvest, with dancing permitted. Near beer and fancy soft drinks are more popular.

San Fancisco saw only one cabaret of importance closed. After-theater crowds, however, have vanished. Cafes are making a strenuous effort to keep the white lights burning.

HOLDEN TALKS ON RAILROAD PLANS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Commenting on reports that the dates for the unmerging of the S. P. and Western Pacific Railroad has been set and a new federal manager of the Western Pacific already selected, regional director Hale Holden, who passed through this city last night for the north, issued the following statement through L. A. Giamboni of the Publicity Bureau of the U. S. Railroad Administration here:

"I am unable to add anything to my statements made on the 19 inst. in reference to the Western Pacific Railroad. I then stated that with the return of peace conditions the U. S. Railroad Administration was reviewing conditions relating to a number of consolidations of which the Western Pacific is one, but no conclusion has been reached so far as I am advised.

"I have no information in reference to Col. Mason, who before going to France was general superintendent of the road. (Statements have been published that Col. C. W. Mason was to become regional manager of the Western Pacific after unmerging of the lines from the S. P.) I do not know when he expects to return from abroad, nor whether he expects to enter railroad service, although I should assume that to be likely as that is the case of nearly all railroad men who went abroad in railroad service.

"The administration will reach a conclusion in this as well as other similar matters in due course and if it decides that it will be in the public interest to make any change in present arrangements, will without doubt announce its decision as soon as it is reached. It is premature, however, at this time to draw any inference as to actions in this matter."

Accompanied by District Director William Sproule, Holden returned yesterday from an inspection of lines in the south. He expressed satisfaction at conditions found in the western district. He will return to Chicago by the northern route.

INFERIOR FRUITS SOLD HERE, CLAIM

Complaints are being made to County Horticultural Commissioner Fred Seulberger regarding alleged inferior fruits and vegetables sold in this city, but he has advised such persons that he legal authority ends when such commodities are removed from the boxes or packages in which they reach the market.

The fruits and vegetables complained of are stacked in piles and, according to Seulberger, the complaints are subject to action by the city board of health if the commoditions complained of are rotten or unfit for human consumption.

Seulberger says that he is keeping a close watch for packages of fruits and vegetables that do not come up to the requirements of the new state standardization act, and will be pleased to take up complaints along that line. He says that there has been a marked improvement in such packages since it has become known that violation of the standardization law is punishable by fine or imprisonment, or by both fine and imprisonment.

The horticultural commissioner says that the public is entitled to better protection in the purchase of food commodities and that so far as he is concerned he will go the limit in prosecuting persons who practice fraud without regard to the position such persons may occupy in the community.

WILSON POINTS BROKEN, CHARGE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Acceptance of the League of Nations with reservations to protect independence of American action, was advocated in the Senate today by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin. The right to determine domestic questions, to administer the Monroe Doctrine, and to decide upon its course in any case arising under Article 10, he asserted, should be more fully protected by reservations.

Of President Wilson's fourteen points, the speaker said, only six had been complied with in the treaty, while four had been "clearly violated" and four "not included at all." Among these violated he mentioned the stipulations relating to open covenants, disarmament and impartial adjustment of colonial claims. He expressed the opinion that the league provisions would not be effective in forcing disarmament.

"The country ought to know," said Senator Lenroot, "that with very few exceptions the members of this body, irrespective of party, are in favor of a league of nations. And the country ought to know that with very few exceptions the Republican members are in favor of the league now proposed, provided reservations are made protecting the rights and interests of the United States.

"Partisanship is being charged against Republicans in the consideration of this treaty," said the Wisconsin Senator, "a charge which I know, at least as to the overwhelming majority of Republican Senators is utterly without foundation. But I do say that if Senators across the aisle would only forget that President Wilson is the leader of the Democratic party and remember that this is an American question, I am confident we could come to an almost unanimous agreement as to reservations for the protection of the United States."

'BRIDE HUNTER' WARD IS SUED

EUREKA, Cal., July 24.—Three actions for the foreclosure of mortgages against the Charles Willis Ward properties in this county, consisting of a dairy farm at Carlotta, a hulb farm at McKinleyville and Ward's home here, have been filed by a local bank, it was announced here today. The aggregate amount sued for is $41,000. Twenty other stockholders in the properties are named in the suits.

Ward, who is 64 years old, came into prominence recently in San Francisco when he preferred sensational charges against Mrs. Alice Wilson, mother of Alice Wilson, whom Ward alleged was his contract wife.

E Battery Members to Hold Reunion

Members of E Battery, some of whom have only recently returned from France, will assemble at a reunion banquet at a local cafe on August 11, when the Oakland unit of the 143d Artillery, organized and commanded by Captain Walter J. Petersen, will meet as a unit for the first time since the armistice was signed.

The organization camped at Arcadia, the Baldwin estate, in the south, before going overseas, and was one of the crack units of the National Guard artillery forces. A special program has been arranged for the affair.

Tanner proposes to establish an auto stage line to operate between this city and Los Angeles. SAMUELS HEAD OF OAKLAND'S JOHNSON CLUB

A special organization committee will be appointed the next few days to complete the organization details of the Oakland "Johnson for President Club," preliminary organization of which was completed last night with the selection of Judge George Samuels as chairman, and Preston Higgins as secretary.

The committee of nine, to be named by Judge Samuels, is also to get in touch with the Berkeley and Alameda Johnson Clubs, already formed, to coordinate the work of launching an Alameda County Johnson boom and aid in formulating a sentiment for Johnson's candidacy for the presidency in the East.

The meeting in the Hotel Oakland last night, at which the plan was launched, was attended by former Senator Edward Tyrrell, John W. Stetson, Harry Encell, George Gross, Rev. William Nat Friend, John F. Mullins, Frank Anderson, W. J. Hamilton, Harry Williams, J. H. Williams, James Oliver, Roscoe Jones, T. P. Hogan, William H. Donahue, Fred Stuart and others.

The meeting was designated as one of friends of Senator Johnson, rather than as members of any particular party. James Oliver, recently returned from the East, told of the Johnson sentiment there, stating that the East was gradually coming to realize that in Johnson will be found a tower of strength at the coming presidential campaign for the Republican party. "The thing for us of the West to get out of our heads," he said, "is the idea that Johnson has no chance in the East."

Former Judge William H. Donahue said that he had heard from M. C. Chapman, who recently returned from the East, that Johnson is already looked to as foremost among two or three of the men in Republicanism deemed presidential timber.

Reports were read of recent political meetings in the East in which Johnson figured. The Johnson rally, held recently in Providence, Rhode Island, was the biggest political rally held there in years, according to a report read by Secretary Higgins.

Discussions of ways and means of forming and operating the club were the principal matters discussed at the meeting last night, and the chair is to call another meeting for final organization after the committee report has been drafted.

Picnic Excursions Attract Hundreds

One of the largest picnic excursions of the season will take place next Sunday when 600 members of the organizations visit the picnic grounds along the line of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern railway. Four hundred members of St. Patrick's Alliance will gather at Pinehurst and 200 members of the National Union will journey to Madrone park. The railway management has arranged for a special train to carry the outing crowd.

Thief Picks Lock While Crowds Pass

Picking the lock of a showcase in front of the jewelry establishment of W. S. McCullough, 437 East Fourteenth street, last night while many pedestrians passed him unsuspectingly, a thief stole five watches and made his getaway successfully.

The proprietor was waiting on customers when the thief began picking the lock. The watches were inexpensive, two pocket watches valued at $2.50 apiece and three others valued at $3.50 each.

Worst Cases of Blood Diseases Cured by Chinese

Sing Herb Specialists achieve wonderful results by use of simple herbs

For many years past we have been making a most careful study of the effect of Chinese herbs in the treatment of severe cases of inherited and infectious diseases.

We have had wonderful success in the most obstinate cases—many of which had been treated repeatedly with injections of "606" with no improvement.

Owing to the nature of the cases, we cannot run testimonials, but we will gladly show you laboratory reports on many of the worst ones and tell you the wonderful results that we have achieved.

Sufferers from the worst forms of blood disease have found almost immediate relief under our methods of treatment, and in many cases we are now able to guarantee relief within a certain period of time where treatments are faithfully carried out.

If you need help, if others have failed to cure you—consult us. It costs nothing for a consultation and if we do not accomplish what we promise your money will be returned.

No matter how long you have had the trouble—no matter how bad the case—no matter whether it is a man or woman—we can help you.

In our treatments we use over 500 varieties of herbs—every one imported from China, Japan and Korea, where they have been used for centuries. It is nature's way of cleaning and purifying the blood, and when this is done the disease is cured.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1919.

TRUTH IS SUFFICIENT.

Opponents of the peace treaty garble the facts so grossly at times that it is necessary to speculate whether they are merely ignorant tyros or stupendous liars. For example, here is a quotation from an editorial despatch from Washington printed on the front page of a contemporary:

"The President also gave the senators some of the reasons why Japan's claims on China were agreed to. The most important of these was that Japan had been exceedingly backward about entering the war on the side of the Allies. The secret treaties with England and France were negotiated as an incentive to Japan to get in and help drive the Germans out of China. It was not until after England and France had agreed to support Japan's claim to large portions of China's territory that Japan did get in."

Rarely has a statement containing more plain falsehoods than this achieved circulation. Let them be dissected.

Japan was not backward about entering the war. She served an ultimatum on Germany to evacuate the China outpost a few days after England declared war, August 4, 1914, and became a formal and active belligerent in September, 1914. Japan immediately started naval and military operations against German ships in the Pacific and the German garrison at Tsingtao in Shantung.

This was two years and nine months before the United States entered the war on the side of the Allies; ten months before the sinking of the Lusitania; two years before the sinking of the Sussex and two years and seven months before the German decree of indiscriminate submarine piracy. The charge against Japan at the time of her declaration of war was not that she was backward, but that she was too precipitate. Her sole justification, and the only one she advanced, was that she was party to an agreement (not a secret one) with Great Britain dated ten years before.

The secret agreements between Japan on the one hand and Great Britain, France and Italy on the other, by which the European governments agreed to support Japan's claims regarding war questions in the Pacific area north of the equator, were signed in February and March, 1917. This was two years and six months after Japan had entered the war and two years and four months after she had captured the enemy outpost in Tsingtao, had taken possession of the Kiaochow German-leased territory and had driven the Germans out of the Caroline and Marshall islands. It was two years after she had sent naval forces to assist the Allies in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic.

In view of these indisputable facts, it is plain that the statement that the secret treaties were concluded as an incentive to induce Japan to enter the war is either willful distortion or the fruit of incomprehensible ignorance. And this being the case, it may safely be assumed that the President did not make such false explanations to members of Congress.

The truth about the Shantung settlement in the peace treaty is bad enough. The secret treaties of 1917 were sought by Japan after it became certain that the United States and China would enter the war and for the sole purpose of making it difficult, if not impossible, for the American delegation at the peace table to speak effectively for China's interests. The European signatories of the treaties stood by the agreements and the United States did fail and abandoned China, at least for the hour.

It serves no good purpose, not even in the case of the opponents of the peace treaty, to depart from the facts and to try to confuse the public mind. Neither does it contribute to a speedy and desirable settlement of the issue to spread the propagandists' falsehood that "the whole of the great province of Shantung" and its 40,000,000 population has been taken from China and turned over to Japan.

The territory involved is that covered by the German lease of 1898 and is about 200 square miles in extent, and of which the population is about 100,000. Bearing in mind the history of the acts of the Chinese government pertaining to this territory, the Shantung clause in the peace treaty, distasteful as it may be to the people of this country, is not so serious as to justify formidable opposition to ratification of the treaty; providing that Japan fulfills at an early date her promise to restore this territory to China.

APATHY OF VOTERS.

When only about 15 per cent of the registered voters of California went to the polls on July 1st to vote on the proposal to issue $40,000,000 of State bonds for the construction of highways the public conscience gave no evidence of being impressed. Minority voting at State and local elections has become so habitual among the citizens that the scandal of July 1st drew forth only one comment, so far as THE TRIBUNE has observed, and that was in these columns.

In the last two years the citizens of this city have seen candidates for municipal office nominated by 25 per cent of the registered voters and elected by a majority of less than 40 per cent. They have seen important State laws enacted by less than a majority of the registered voters.

If this was a condition that prevailed alone in California undoubtedly outside criticism would drive the citizens of this State to serious introspection. But it is not a local situation. It is the rule in all States and communities where the direct primary has prevailed for any length of time. The tendency to apathy has been uniform throughout the country.

An interesting comment upon this tendency is found in a recent number of the Oregon Voter. It is pointed out in this journal that of sixty-nine measures adopted by the people of Oregon since the new election system in that State went into force in 1904 only nine received a vote of one-half of the registered voters of the State. The other sixty were adopted by less than one-half of the registered voters. In the last ten years only one measure has been accorded a majority vote equal to half the registered votes. Two constitutional amendments were adopted by a majority vote of less than 20 per cent of the registered vote, and thirty-nine constitutional amendments which were adopted by the people were engrafted into the fundamental law by 39 per cent of the registration. Tabulation of the figures of votes at each of the eleven elections are worth studying. They show the percentage of the registered voters that discharged their duty on election day and the number of issues settled:

Total Vote Cast.		Measure Carried By.
1904..... 3	72%	1904..... 3	47%
1906.....11	71%	1906..... 8	54%
1908.....19	71%	1908.....12	44%
1910.....32	68%	1910..... 9	40%
1912.....36	65%	1912.....11	41%
1913..... 5	60%	1913..... 4	36%
1914.....29	58%	1914..... 4	41%
1916.....11	69%	1916..... 6	40%
1917..... 7	41%	1917..... 4	24%
1918..... 7	32%	1918..... 3	18%
1919..... 9	28%	1919..... 5	17%

Here is shown a steady decline from a 72 per cent vote in 1904 to 28 per cent in 1919. The vote enacting constitutional measures declined from 47 per cent of the registration in 1904 to 17 per cent in 1919. Two important acts involving the expenditure and accounting of State funds were passed in Oregon in 1918 and 1919, respectively, by a vote of 16 per cent of the registration.

The observation of the Oregon Voter that the system of popular government adopted nearly twenty years ago in the hope that the people would take the trouble to rule has degenerated in practice to a system whereby minorities amend the constitution and adopt laws, is fully justified. It does not apply alone to Oregon; it applies to California and every other State. And the most distressing feature of the situation is that the majority of the voters are content to let the minority rule. The majority seem to be indifferent both as to the character of the men whom they send to the capital to make their laws, and to the passing on to the minority of such legislative measures as are submitted for enactment by the people.

So long as this indifference prevails it is difficult to see any prospect of remedying a system which may not be intrinsically bad but which at least causes the majority of voters to be so satisfied that they do not take the trouble to discharge their duty of voting under the system.

Forest fires are raging in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho, denuding vast areas of timber, menacing towns and cities, destroying valuable property and seriously affecting the watersheds in many districts. When the forests are burning government officials talk of fire control methods and spend great sums in fighting fires. THE TRIBUNE has urged fire prevention and fire control methods in and out of season. Despite the discouraging response on the part of the government it is still hoped that ultimately there will be adopted an intelligent policy of forest preservation—one under which the major portion of the appropriations for the forestry bureau will be devoted to safeguarding the forests against the starting of fires. Such a policy would mean both economy and preservation.

The Chicago Daily News observes that, though he did not say it, the President indicated that the League of Nations is the galluses that must be relied upon to sustain the world's peace trousers. If this simile is acceptable, the Senate would be guilty of reprehensible action in breaking the League of Nations, but hardly subject to a breach of promise suit for breaking the world's heart.

NOTES and COMMENT

The story of the Willows man who gave up $9000 to a soothsayer who promised to put him in a way to become a second Charley Chaplin is not without interest. The transaction on its face does not indicate that the aspirant for movie honors and profits was abundantly equipped in the head, but he may have relied upon his feet, as the Chaplin feet are very important.

The Doughnut Queen is married. She is entitled to that consummation. She contributed very serviceable munitions, which if they did not end the war, alleviated considerable of its distress. She started the doughnut furore by making them in the Salvation Army huts in France for the boys over there. She put the doughnut on a pedestal, as it were.

* * *

If it shall be established beyond doubt that the Auburn man deliberately set a forest fire, it may require some study to decide just what should be done or with him. Starting forest fires is a crime peculiarly heinous and infinitely difficult to trace. This is the only instance reported this summer of such crime being run to earth.

The government sale of 1,500,000 pounds is not likely to relieve the prune stress to a great extent. They are not to go in less quantities than carload lots. A carload of prunes is rather larger than the usual family package.

The account that tells of requisitioning a stepladder to harvest corn at Antioch probably is a moderated version of the facts. If the cold truth were known, an airship was requisitioned for the work. It won't do to tell the whole truth about the agricultural wonders of California.

The newest use for the airship is suggested by a funeral director. An airship employed as a hearse would certainly be an innovation. It might get some of its passengers nearer heaven than they would otherwise get, for one thing.

Robert M. Fitzgerald qualifies as a prophet. In the twenty-years-ago items he is reoprted as predicting that golf had come to stay. Such a prediction may have been daring then, but we see now how it was justified, and admit that the prophet is entitled to bask in the honors of his prescience.

The prohibition enforcement bill that has been passed by a big majority is so binding that hints are thrown out that the President may veto it. There is a considerable sentiment even among certain drys that it is not good policy to rub it in.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The Worchester, Mass., Evening Gazette, referring to the candidacy of Hiram Johnson for the presidency, raises the question of the last presidential campaign in California. The Gazette says: "The national committee apparently steered the candidate up against the wrong combination. In any event, Mr. Johnson and his friends did not think they had been sufficiently recognized. Their dignity was somewhat ruffled. Their feelings were fractured. They proceeded to get satisfaction by taking it out on Mr. Hughes and the Republican party." Of course all California will recall that this is exactly the opposite of what actually happened, etc. —Fresno Republican.

NOT SO BAD.

This here is surely Monday, and I know there's something wrong;
I'm feeling fit and perky, and my work moves right along.
I got my check as usual on Saturday afternoon,
And, acting just as usual, I struck for John's saloon.
He's bought a sody-fountain, and he served up ginger-beer.
I wasn't much excited; it seemed so jolly queer
That I went home real early to put the kids to bed—
The 'stonished little rascals, they stood me on my head.
Then we took in the movies, the little wife and I—
I noticed John had closed up when later we went by.
Now this is Monday morning; I left my check with Liz.
By golly, it works funny—this prohibition biz!

PERSHING'S FUTURE.

It has been the practice of the American people to bestow political favor on its great soldiers, but it has not been the practice to hand over to them vast estates and great wealth. Great Britain, on the other hand, confers ornamental titles upon its heroes, raises them to the peerage and endows them with riches. It does not assume that a successful field commander is necessarily a statesman or possesses any political promise, and, as a result, it rarely encourages an officer victorious in wars to enter the arena of politics.

The political future of General Pershing, however, is a matter of interesting speculation. He is not a magnetic figure. He is not the kind of man whom his men naturally shout for. In fact, he has not been in intimate touch with the rank and file of the great army which he organized and whose operations he directed. Those operations were too far-flung, too complex and too gigantic for any one man to do more than plan them from his post in the rear of the lines. And so it happens that the tens of thousands of soldiers who are now returning to civil life feel no personal enthusiasm for General Pershing. Nor do they compose the backbone of any nation-wide movement for his elevation to the presidency or to any other office.

Even so, General Pershing is a man of great strength. His return to America will be made the occasion for a triumphal reception, and if he is made chief of staff he will be daily before the American people, and the country will get a first-hand opportunity to take his measure, an opportunity denied them as long as he remained 3000 miles away.—Richmond Times-Despatch.

"Well, business is pretty good," said the stout man. "I haven't had an order for a year and a half, but expect to get one next spring."

At this point the curiosity of a bystander got the better of him. Calling the short man aside: "What's your stout firend?"

"A traveler," was the brief reply.

"Well, he certainly has puzzled me. What's his line?"

GOETHE'S LEAGUE.

Had Goethe's conception of German unity, sketched roughly at Weimar in 1823, found a lodgment in Bismarckian brains, history might have been writing a different chapter, and no national assembly would have been necessary today.

For Goethe's idea was that Berlin and Vienna, as exclusive centers of influence, formed a peril to culture. He would have had freedom to move at will through the thirty-six states without having his traveling chest opened. Dollars and Groschen should be of equal value everywhere. There should be no frontiers, and no talk of inland and outland among the German states. His idea, in short, was that of a Germanic League of Nations, "one in love." Good high roads and railroads—then a thing of the future—he put in the front place as empire-making material. The Mailed Fist he does not mention.—London Chronicle.

The ancient "dew ponds" of England have their modern counterparts on the Rock of Gibraltar, where drinking water is obtained by the condensation of the abundant dew in especially prepared basins.

The primitive process consists in making a hollow in the ground and filling the bottom with dry straw, over which is placed a layer of clay. On a clear night the clay cools very rapidly and the dew is condensed into water in the basin.

The pond is improved by putting a layer of asphalt or Portland cement under the straw. At Gibraltar the present practice is to use wood instead of straw and sheet iron instead of clay.—New York Tribune.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Why Science Says "Athletic Heart" Is Unfortunate Bogey

(Johns Hopkins University.)
BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.

With outdoor sports, hpsyical training and athletics more popular than ever, the deluge of queries which reach me about the fabulous "athletic heart" demand more than an abbreviated answer.

Whenever you read a newspaper account of an "athletic heart" or hear some old-timer tell about it, you may set it down as a bugaboo conjured up by ignorance, tradition and neglect of such available heart instruments as the polygraph, the electrocardiograph and the sphygmomanometer.

At Harvard University, for several years now, Dr. Roger I. Lee has done his utmost to find at least one "athletic heart," but he finds it necessary to seek comfort in the vigorous statements of Sir James MacKenzie, the eminent English authority on heart disease, and to say that an enlarged heart from exercise or athletics is "an unfortunate bogey."

To be sure, it is not possible to dispel a bogey at once. Indeed, it is probably in this instance undesirable to do so, because there does lurk some possible damage to the hearts of three or four boys in every ten from inherent, native deficiencies. These boys must be weeded out and prevented from competitive or severe gymnatics and sports.

Says Prof. Lee of the Harvard University medical department: "A search through the literature showed that there was no agreement among physicians of what constituted an athletic heart."

If the heart deviates in any way from an arbitrarily assumed standard of normality it is at once judged abnormal. Investigation now shows that there is by no means a unanimity of opinion as to what constitutes a normal standard.

The measure of the blood pressure is often said to be an absolute gauge of heart power. Yet Dr. Lee has been able to prove that in 2000 young men 20 per cent had blood pressures that might have been expected to show abnormal hearts.

Irregularities of the heart are by no means limited to those who row, play ball, tennis and take part in muscular sports. The mere fact that a heart is irregular, "drops a beat" or "skips a beat" is now known, thanks to such medical tools as the polygraph and electrocardiograph, to be wholly consistent with a "sound clock," as the heart has been called.

There is a widespread conviction that muscular labor and athletics often cause an enlarged heart.

Examination of the heart by the X-rays is about the only method that can be reasonably depended upon to give solid information as to the heart's size. The X-ray tube must be at seven feet distance, with air breathed out of the lungs. In this way it has been found that the hearts of athletes who had been rowing, sprinting or playing games were the same at two, four and more years of such work as immediately before and after the contests. In fine, the hearts of selected athletes examined either before the active training seasons, at the height of the training or long afterwards show no appreciable differences.

Crazed Mother Shoots Her Little Girl Without Warning and Then Commits Suicide; Cause of Deed Not Known

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

HOLLISTER, Cal., July 24.—Apparently swept by a sudden craze, Mrs. J. D. Berwick early today placed a gun at the head of her nine-year-old daughter, Jessie, and blew the child's brains out. She then shot herself through the head, dying shortly afterward.

Mrs. Berwick is the wife of the local manager of the Hammond Lumber Company. Berwick is unable to account for the woman's act.

RECOVERS KISS MONEY.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—"He gave me $20 for a kiss and then took his money back," was the complaint made to the police by a pretty waitress here. Officers are looking up statutes to fit the charge.

The Jingles in The Headlines

By Harve Westgate

Reports come in from north to south, from Watts to Shasta's peak, that every stream is lined with those who outing pleasures seek; ant flivvers flit on every pike, and rows of tents you'll find, as thousands start vacation joys and leave their cares behind.

No doubt it's wrong to take away a chunk of China's land, and if they set old Ireland free, the world may call it grand; it's well enough to help the French, and give to Belgium, too, but what about the price of beef to make a Yankee stew.

They need more coal in Italy, some late reports have said, and in Berlin and other towns they're getting short of bread; we really should do something for the Servians, by heck, but how about the spud price here, which cost two plunks a peck.

THREE GIRLS TAKE POISON BY MISTAKE

Ant Paste Spread on Bread in Dark Room Under Impression It Was Syrup; Lives Saved After Battle

Recovering at their homes from the effects of accidental poisoning, self administered, Agnes and Bernice Linderbeck, 112 Eleventh street, and Gladys McGivney, 1109 Madison street, have decided that they will look before they eat hereafter. Partaking of ant paste, in the belief that it was molasses, brought the two girls to the verge of death. Only heroic treatment at the Emergency Hospital saved their lives, which, for a time, were despaired of.

It all happened in the dark kitchen at the Linderbeck home. A party of young folks from the neighborhood had been invited to a party given by the Linderbecks. Games and dancing and music were in order. A hunger, known only to youth, possessed the three girls, who are chums. The dainties served at the party supper did not satisfy three lusty appetites that craved real sustenance.

Reversing the order of Lady Baltimore's famous remark on cake and bread, the three girl chums decided that they wanted sturdier foods of the wheat rather than sweets of the confectioner. Thin slices of bread, encasing lettuce and nuts and salad dressing may be very well for parties—but for real growing appetites they simply didn't exist.

And so the young women slipped away from the light and games into the darkened kitchen they went tiptoeing, so that other participants of the Linderbeck hospitality would not hear them. Blinded for the moment through entrance into the darkened kitchen, they did not notice that the jar of ant paste was taken down rather than the molasses container. Both jars are similar in shape and size.

Slices of bread were covered with the ant paste, and the young girls, laughing at their coup in eating without interruption, partook freely. It was only after several bites of the poison had been swallowed that the girls noticed the peculiar taste of the supposed molasses. Simultaneously with their discovery that they had eaten the ant paste, the chums were taken violently ill.

Screaming, they burst into the lighted rooms, where other members of the party were enjoying a dance. A telephone call was immediately made for the Emergency Hospital ambulance and the three girls were taken to that place where physicians worked over them a full hour before recovery was assured. Following a rest at the hospital, the girls were taken to their homes where they are stopping today. No after-effects are anticipated by physicians of the Linderbeck and McGivney families.

DRY CAMPAIGN TO COVER EARTH, POLE TO POLE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A campaign for making the whole world dry was being worked out here today in a joint conference of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of America and superintendents of all state leagues.

Prohibition campaigns in South and Central America, Mexico, British Isles, Asiatic countries, Africa and New Zealand shortly will be inaugurated by the Anti-Saloon League, in cooperation with the World League Against Alcoholism, it was announced.

A campaign to insure rigid enforcement of war-time, constitutional and state-wide prohibition in this country also was being formulated.

SHIPYARD MEN MAY SPLIT ON WAGE SCALE

Out of the executive session of Pacific Coast shipbuilders with international delegates representing 200,000 ship workers in promulgating a new wage scale to replace the Macy agreement today came the news that the employers are seeking to deal as separate districts rather than by a coastwise agreement. This action was met with bitter opposition at yesterday's conference in San Francisco and the delegates representing the Pacific district metal trades council are said to have threatened to walk out of the conference unless the employers would consider the new agreement as being for the entire coast.

Los Angeles, with its two big yards, the Craig and Los Angeles Shipbuilding companies, is not represented at the conference. This is due, it is said to their determination not to accept a wage agreement which contains a proviso for a closed shop. Shipbuilders of Seattle are at odds, it is said, with those of the bay district on the question of the wage adjustment board feature of the agreement.

A longer working year, due to climate, will put the bay yards in a better position to compete in the open market than the northern yards. They are said to be strongly against any coast wage scale claiming that the California yards could obtain the cream of workers if the wage scale was the same here as in the north.

The session yesterday was brought to an abrupt close to permit further conference between the shipbuilders which was called by their chairman, A. S. Gunn, assistant general manager of the Bethlehem shipbuilding corporation. The wage agreement discussion was resumed this afternoon in the Rialto Building.

So far little consideration has been given the blanket demand for wages submitted by the employees. F. C. Metcalf, secretary of the California Metal Trades Council, said today that the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council neither has accepted nor rejected the blanket proposal of the shipworkers.

HEIR TO DOGE MILLIONS IS METAL WORKER

Oakland Machinist Reluctantly Files Claim to the Vast Estate Now Being Distributed by Italian Government

So that his family may have a bit of luxury, enjoyed in the years gone by by the Doges of Venice, to whom he claims relationship, Oscar Gradenigo, an Oakland machinist, residing at 1125 Union street, has filed a claim in the Italian courts for a goodly slice of the $35,000,000 fortune left by the Countess Gradenigo over thirty years ago. This fortune, unclaimed until recently, is now being divided among relatives of the woman of nobility, whose death brought to an end the direct family line of the rulers of the once powerful Venetian republic.

Disliking publicity and all that goes with the filing of such a claim, Gradenigo hesitated long before turning over seemingly indisputable evidence of his relationship to Giovanni Gradenigo, fifty-seventh Doge of Venice and the last ruler of the now defunct republic. It was only to give his wife and family the things they couldn't have at present that he brought his claims to Attorney M. J. Mazurian, who in turn began immediate action for a share. A Texas machinist and a Louisiana hodcarrier have been declared legal heirs to parts of the estate and when division is made will become millionaires.

PAINTING BEST EVIDENCE.

At the modest home in Union street today Gradenigo hesitatingly exhibited a copy of the original painting of the fifty-seventh Doge, which hangs today in the palace in Venice. There is a marked resemblance between the portrait and the Oakland machinist. Their noses especially are alike in shape. Giovanni Gradenigo was known as the "Doge of the great nose." Both the Oakland man and the portrait show an unmistakable aristocratic bearing.

It was last Sunday when Gradenigo decided upon action in obtaining for himself and his family what he terms "his portion" of the Gradenigo fortune. At that time an agent for an insurance company, visiting with the Gradenigos, told the machinist of a news despatch which he had read wherein other heirs to the estate, living in America, had been officially recognized by the Italian courts and would come in for shares. The Pope, according to the despatch, had already received a portion of the estate.

DOCUMENTS ARE FORWARDED.

His claims were such as to justify Attorney Mazurian to file claims with the American consul in Rome and also with the king's minister at the Italian capital. Valuable documents and photographic copies have been forwarded in support of the claims.

"My father was old-fashioned," said Gradenigo today in his little machine shop at 1704 Seventh street, "and, although aware of the Gradenigo fortune and his rightful claim to part of it, he never did anything. All he asked was to be let alone and his quietness brought about inactivity so far as legal striving was concerned. The fortune was never discussed in the family, although we knew about it for thirty-four years.

"After the fall of the Venetian republic, descendants of the Doge Giovanni, fifty-seventh in the country's history, scattered to all parts of the world. From Italy his family went to Zara in Dalmatia, where they became leaders under the Austrian rule. This was in the sixteenth century. I remember the gates of Zara and the family inscription on them.

SOLICITOUS FOR FAMILY.

"I have been a resident in the United States for many years, and as such, have never bothered anyone with accounts of my forefathers and their aristocratic blood. It was only when I saw how foolish it would be to remain quiet when my family and I could have the good things in life—rightfully ours, too—that I made my claim known."

And Oscar Gradenigo, direct descendant from Giovanni, Doge of Venice, went to work with a will, hammering on dull metal, the while he dreamed of his family and the automobile he is going to buy to replace the bicycle on which he now rides from his home to the shop.

OSCAR GRADENIGO, Oakland machinist, and GIOVANNI GRADENIGO, 57th doge of Venice. The local man claims direct relationship to the ancient ruler and part of his $35,000,000 estate.

Fund to Defray Fete Bills Asked

A five thousand dollar appropriation resolution was filed with the city council today by Mayor John L. Davie, the money being asked to be available for the Oakland welcome to the Pacific fleet and to President Wilson when he visits the coast. Invitations have already been wired by the city council to the President to be a guest in Oakland while on his trip.

FIRE MENACES ENTIRE UNION SHIP PLANT

Blaze Starts in Oiled Waste and Thousands of Dollars in Damage Is Done Before the Flames Are Quelled

Fire, starting in a pile-driving apparatus owned by the Healy-Tibbits Company, threatened the shipbuilding plant of the Union Construction Company today and was only extinguished after a lively fight, in which the Southern Pacific and San Francisco fire boats, summoned from across the bay, finally got the flames under control. Two large oil tanks near the pile drivers, which were at work on the pier being constructed by the company, for a time were nearly reached by the flames. Had these been ignited burning oil on the water would have spread the fire to all parts of the big plant.

There was considerable delay in getting the fire tugs to the scene, this allowing the flames a chance to spread. In the meantime the Oakland fire department fought the fire from the shore side.

According to Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead the blaze proves the absolute need of an Oakland fire tug. The delay in getting the tugs from across the bay was intensified, he said, by the fact that the crews did not know the Union Construction Company's channel and had to travel very slowly, feeling their way along the route.

The cause of the blaze is a mystery, the firemen finding no apparent reason for the start of the fire. It is believed that a poor electrical connection might have started the blaze, or that a cigarette on oiled waste might have started the fire. Several thousand dollars' worth of damage was done to the pile driving machinery.

Cyclist Hurt in Automobile Crash

Colliding with an auto at East Twelfth street and Ninth avenue, L. E. Hayes, a machinist of 1094 Twenty-first avenue, suffered lacerations and bruises and was removed to the emergency hospital.

The automobile was driven by C. Monge, 307 Broadway. Hayes was riding a motorcycle. He was injured on the left hip and knee.

BILL LARUE TAKES DECISION OVER JIM BARRY AT AUDITORIUM

HOWARD'S MEN BREAK LOSING STREAK BY GIVING EDDIE HERR'S BUNCH FINE DRUBBING

ARROUSEZ-LANDON BATTLE PROVES A REGULAR THRILLER

By BOB SHAND

Bill Larue did not fight his fight last night but he fought well enough to earn the decision over Jim Barry in the main event of Tommy Simpson's weekly slugfest at the auditorium. When Simpson was criticised for using Barry against Larue after the poor showing of the former against Lloyd, the little promoter predicted that Barry woud prove a surprise. This is exactly what Barry did, as the San Francisco boy kept right after his heavier opponent in every round and he did not lose by very much at the finish.

There was a reason for Larue's lack of "pep" and fighting spirit. His father died this week and rather than disappoint the fans Bill consented to go on. Some of his friends advised him to call of the fight. but Bill is a sensitive soul and refused.

"If I call it off they will say I am scared or something so I will go through with it," he told the promoter. Simpson said it was all right with him to postpone the fight. but Bill was afraid of criticism and went through with his contract No wonder the big fellow's mind was not on the battle. Even when Barry called him some extra choice names in the second round Larue did not get mad He didn't let his right hand go and he used his left sparingly In the third round he turned to the referee and remarked "I can't fight tonight,' and after the scrap he admitted he felt like jumping out of the ring. The fans who were aware of the loss the big fellow suffered sympathized with him, while those who did not know wanted to know why he did not knock Barry for a goal

Larue Can Put Up Better Fight.

Larue can do a lot better than he showed last night. He won't fight for three weeks but when he starts again he will be in a fighting mood Milo, the strong man. saw him go last night and knowing the circumstances, predicted that the local boy could whip the English heavyweights Milo is still willing to take Larue to Europe and Bill stated this morning that he was game to go There is a match with Meehan in the offing and after this fight Milo and Bill will pack their suitcases and board a rattler for the east en route to London

There were no knockdowns in the fight. Larue slipped to the floor in the second but there was no punch landed at the time. Barry was willing to carry the fight to his larger opponent but Bill met him with a left hand that sent him back abruptly Even when Barry stuck out his tongue and then told Bill he was a rotten fighter Larue failed to lose his temper and tear in. Larue took the first pair of rounds by a slight margin and Barry had a lead in the third Larue came strong in the fourth and most of the cash customers agreed with the judges when they handed up Larue slips.

Arrousez-Landon Bout a Thriller.

As predicted in these columns yesterday, the Johnny Arrousez-Eddie Landon fight was the real battle of the evening There was bad blood between the pair of little Frenchmen and it showed right from the start. The bout was called a draw which was plenty fair enough The boys went to it hammer and tongs as soon as the bell sounded and it was a free-for-all in the second round Landon surprised by uncorking a right cross that floored Johnny and he cracked his man even harder when he arose. Johnny hit the floor with a thud and it looked as though the lights were out for poor Johnny Everybody expected the scrap would end right here but Arrousez is a game bird and he came back fighting and at the end of the round was carrying the fight to his opponent.

Arrousez got stronger as the fight progressed while Landon weakened and Johnny was having all the better of it when the final gong rang It was a beautiful battle between a pair of real gamesters and the return bout which is sure to be arranged will be a feature of any man's card

Jimmy Duffy stepped around Jimmy Marshall like a master workman and won easily In the first round Duffy cut loose a cross that caught Marshall right on the chin and shook the Sacramento boy from head to foot Marshall fought back hard but Duffy had his number Marshall tried to get in close where he fights more effectively, but Duffy was too strong and crafty for him and made an open battle of it. Marshall was game, but Duffy had too much class for him.

Reaves and Herman in Hugging Match.

Tillie Herman and Jack Reaves engaged in a hugging bee that had something on the Londos-Rogers wrestling match of the previous evening Herman couldn't protect himself in the clinches and begged the referee to pull Reaves off him and when Reaves felt in need of a rest he clung to Tillie. It was a rotten fight and the draw decision did not hurt either of them

Young Sylvester and Billy Lester crowded more action into one minute of fighting than the average four-rounders display in the entire journey Their fight lasted exactly one minute and there were three knockdowns. Lester, who was making his first appearance in the ring, came out swinging both hands much the same as brother Cliff used to do A right hand swing caught Sylvester on the chin and he went down in a heap When he got up he crossed Lester and Billy hit the canvas. When he arose Sylvester handed him another wallop that put him down and this time the referee stopped it before Billy could hear the pretty birdies sing Lester was on his feet when the fight was stopped but he was practically "out standing up"

Vierra Takes One From Eddie Gorman.

Young Vierra's left hand played a tattoo on Eddie Gorman's nose and when the Lisbon scrapper got tired using the left he shot some rights into Eddie's good looks Gorman forced the fighting but this did not get him anything as Vierra was given a well-earned decision.

Jimmy West picked Kid Romeo to pieces in the curtain raiser and won all the way

It was a great night's sport and the cash customers were more than satisfied Jack Murphy changed his mind about resigning as a judge and acted with Billy Brackett Louie Bernstein was back on the job keeping time and the writer refereed

While Manager Pete Nolan and Frankie Denny still aver that Denny should have received the decision over Billy Shade at Martinez Tuesday evening, Frank Tabor comes to the bat with a long story about how Shade was entitled to the verdict. Denny and Nolan state that the matchmaking and refereeing at Martinez is too much of a family affair and that unless you are a Shade you can't do any good for yourself That's their version Here is Frank Tabor's Sporting Editor

Dear Sir—I called upon you this afternoon, but you were out I don't know who gave you the info as to the Denny-Billy Harold (Shade) match, but whoever did is unsportsmanlike In the first place the bout was not called a draw, but the decision, a proper one, was given to Shade

I will give the first two rounds to Denny on account of his goatlike agressiveness but the last two belong to Shade

When the gong sounded for the end of the fourth round, Denny was hanging helplessly over the ropes facing the audience, with both hands down at his sides and his head dangling, while Shade was showering blow after blow at him

The bell is all that saved Denny from a K O or perhaps being stopped by the referee

SAYS DENNY FELL.

In the course of the four rounds Denny fell to the floor no less than three times when Billy easily avoided his (Denny's) wild haymakers by sidestepping. True Denny in the early part of the fourth caught Billy off balance with one of his wild swings and sent him to the floor, but Shade arose immediately

As a matter of fact, I believe, Denny held this younger brother of George Shade too cheaply The kid hasn't lost in a coon's age and has fought them all Last Friday night Denny approached me in Dreamland rink and in a joking way said that I had better grease Billy's face well when they boxed at Martinez Denny said Billy was such a young, innocent kid, that he'd almost hate to batter his face up

Several hundred of fans will bear me out on what I say about the bout, and the decision was not hooted, as the write-up in today's TRIBUNE states.

If Denny or his manager are not satisfied with the above I am ready to give him a return match with my boy here in San Francisco or Milpitas—anywhere Billy Harold is also open to meet any other welterweight or light middleweight on the coast Thanking you, I remain, yours truly,

FRANK TABOR.

Miller will work out with Lottie Guisto, Harry Krause and Billy Leo who were left at home by Foreman Howard.

Successor to Al. T. Baum Not Selected

Have you filed your application for the presidential job in the Pacific Coast League? If you haven't you'd better hurry for the mails are filled with nominations. Every town on the circuit has the right man for the place and the boosters have already gone to the bat. Allan T. Baum, who has occupied the chair since 1911 sent in his resignation to the directors yesterday afternoon, explaining that he had obtained a good position with a commercial firm and was anxious to quit at once. An eastern glass firm has offered A. T. the job of western representative and Al says there is more kale and less worry in the job than in trying to please the fans and managers of eight cities and a few score disgruntled newspapermen on the side A special meeting of the league will be called shortly for the purpose of electing a successor. There is some talk of Danny Long being the candidate from this section

ALLAN T. BAUM.

BAUM MADE GOOD.

Baum has made a good president. Certain writers criticised him because he did not take their advice when assigning his umpires, but Baum played for the good of the league and not to satisfy a certain clique. In the past few weeks he has been panned to a finish for not chasing Bedford and Finney from the league, but Baum stood by his umpires and accepted the resisting rather than show up the men he hired At showed a lot of gameness here and earned the respect of all fair-minded fans However, the criticism had nothing to do with his resignation says the prexy. He has had his new job in sight for several weeks and waited until he had a contract signed until he filed his resignation. Baum was at one time a telegraph operator and later was the baseball expert for a San Francisco newspaper.

The Seals had a lot of luck yesterday when they defeated Portland two to one in eleven innings Half the Beaver boys were limping on one leg before the finish Some of them were crippled before the fray and others got theirs during the hectic combat. In the ninth inning with two down and the tying run on the bases Carl Zamlock went to bat for Pitcher Tom Seaton and Carl solved the mystery of why he is a Seal by hammering a two-decker against the right field wall tying the count In the eleventh inning Jimmy Caveney hoisted one in front of the plate that both Blue and Naker went after Neither of them reached it and Caveney arrived safely at first. Willie Kamm sacrificed and Red McKee faded infield Then came Casey Smith, who had relieved Baum and Casey entered the hall of fame by slamming a single to the outfield to win the old ball game.

A CLOSE DECISION.

The Beavers should have won the game in the tenth but Don Rader was so lame he could only crawl down to first base. With the big run on third Rader took a solid smash at the apple and Bill Guthrie said he was thrown out at first. There was doubt in the minds of the fans, but what his umps said "went" However, had Rader not been hurt he would have beaten the throw by a couple of steps at least. The Seals should have scored a tally in the ninth, but Jimmy Caveney forgot to slide when he came into the plate and he ran right into the ball. Jimmy had singled and reached second when Willie Kamm sacrificed. Then came Red McKee with a long hit that should have scored Caveney, but Jimmy ran into Baker when he could just as easily have slid under the ball. The base running of the Seals was a joke all through the contest They couldn't advance a runner with a bunt and their attempts to steal were silly.

Jones went the route for the Beavers and he lost a real tough luck game.

Tractors and Shipbuilders May Play Series

By EDDIE MURPHY

The news comes from Vallejo that the C L Best Tractors of San Leandro are to meet Nealy O'Hara's Shipbuilders in a game a week from next Sunday at Beach park, Vallejo, but Bill Wagner, manager of the Tractors, says it is news to him. Wagner sent word to Manager O'Hara telling the terms on which he would take the Tractors to the navy town, but he has received no reply Wagner would like to meet the Shipbuilders in a series of games.

This lad Metten, pitcher for the Kimball Electrics, appears to be a real find. He was with the Pittsburg (Columbia Steel) and the St. Dominics before going into the service and last Sunday was the first full game that he has pitched in more than a year. For a fellow who has been out of the game as long as he, he showed a lot of class and will be hard to beat after a few more games. Bill Wagner had him signed for the Best Tractors, but with Artie Schimpff and Johnny Gillespie on his pitching staff, I had no room for him, so turned him over to Clark with the understanding that he can recall him later on. He fanned eleven artillery boys last Sunday and got a hit in the ninth inning that helped win his own game.

The Kimballs will step out to Bushrod playground next Sunday and play the San Francisco Elks at diamond one. The game will start at 1 10 o clock.

The attendance at the game last Sunday between the San Jose Bears and the Shasta Limiteds was the largest of the season at San Jose, but we'll bet that the attendance at San Leandro next Sunday when the Shastas meet the Tractors will be just about double.

G C Bradford, manager of the San Jose Bears, is showing that he is out to give the fans of that city a real winning team. The Bear manager has Billy Menges, the local boy, appearing in his lineups and the presence of the little fellow has more than put new life into the San Jose outfit Last Sunday Billy did a lot to beat the Shastas, handling ten chances without a boot and hitting a double and single.

We said the other day that Carlisle Perry, the fellow playing short for the Shasta Limiteds, would show some class once he hit his stride, and Carlisle is doing his best to back the words up. Last Sunday at San Jose he hit three out of three, scored two runs, stole two bases and was all over the field to accept seven chances.

Wonder what some of these wise bush fans think of Artie Schimpff now It is nothing new to hear some fellow talk about the luck that Artie Schimpff has in winning his games, but wouldn't some of those talkers like to have a little of that luck themselves All that Artie has is a good strong right arm, plenty of brains, a small assortment of funny curves and lots of ambition to get out on the mound to pitch whenever a fellow wants him to. Friday he fanned nineteen in a game at Richmond and came right back at San Leandro on Sunday and easily beat the St Dominics. Artie is an old fellow who works like a youngster.

Ben Kelly, who pitched for the Wright-Dixons at Alameda and defeated the Halton-Diders, looks like one of the most promising young pitchers in the bushes. He gained many good boosters by his performance. He has the curves and the nerve needed to make a regular pitcher. He put his nerve on display in the ninth inning by fanning Clark Boldt when the bags were full. Kelly not only had the satisfaction that he had won a game from one of the best teams in the state, but he had a grand laugh on Boldt, who had a few innings before robbed him of a homer by spearing his long drive with one hand.

The Alameda Y M I. team which lost a tough game at Fruitvale Recreation park last Sunday will travel to San Francisco next Sunday and tackle the Kenealy Seals. The game will be played at Southside playground, Seventh and Harrison streets Bennallack and Clement will be the Y M I. battery while Reeves or Lorrigan will chuck for the Seals

The Oakland Elks traveled to Vallejo last Sunday and were handed a fine lacering by Nealy O'Hara's Shipbuilders Frank Fodder Dolan was in the box for the locals and his shoots were hammered harder than they had been any other time this season. The score was reported as being 13 to 1

The Shipley Constructors stepped out for a contest with the Great Western Power team and proved themselves good hitters, although they suffered a 12 to 10 defeat. Elmer Martinoni was in the box for the Power boys and allowed sixteen hits, the same number secured off Kister for the Constructors. The Shipleys would like to meet the Power boys in a return game.

Next Saturday at Bushrod playground at 3 o'clock, the Great Western Power will meet the Bank of Italy team.

Catcher Drolette is Given His Release

VALLEJO, July 24.—Al Drolette, who has been catcher for the Mare Island shipfitters since early this season, has been released by Manager C. E. O'Hara and his place will be taken by Daddy Rohrer, formerly of the Oaks and at present with Salt Lake.

Eldred had singled, was sacrificed to second by Wolter and Griggs walked to set the stage for the costly boot by Niehoff.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

By MAURY PESSANO.

The plate shop team of the Alameda Bethlehem will play their first game of the season one week from Saturday at Lincoln Park, Alameda against the Shasta Limiteds of Oakland. After playing several practice games Manager Hyne of the Alameda boys is convinced that his team is ready to step out and give the best of them a real battle He sure picked on a tough one, but with the lineup that Hyne has gotten together he thinks he will give the colored boys a tough battle. All that worries the manager of the Bethlehems is his pitchers and if he can land the man he wants to do the chucking the Shasta boys are going against a real ball club Handsome Jack Killilay is the chucker that he wants to use in this game with Daddy Rohrer behind the log With these two boys doing the bulk of the work and a fast infield and outfield to back their hurler, the fans who take a liking to Saturday baseball will see a battle Such stars as Pete Starasinich, Billy Menges, Clark Boldt, Jimmy Devine and a few others will wear the unie of the Alameda Beths.

Manager Hyne states that six thousand tickets have been printed, and is looking forward to a big crowd The Alameda band will be there to furnish music.

Baseball in the bushes is getting better every day More teams are showing up every Sunday. Toots Bliss, one time a catcher in the State league, is going to start a team in Alameda Already he has a good line-up and is ready to travel as they have not home grounds Toots wants a game right away, and any teams wishing to play his club can arrange by writing to him at 1305 High street Alameda Cal Toots, with the help of Johnny Hayes, can claim a fast team They have two good pitchers in Barbeck and Moore. Both are right-handers Al Ross and Bliss do the receiving Bill Quigley, Galena and French are in the infield, while the outer garden is well taken care of by Hayes, Fleiger and Ross.

Joe Rodgers like the rest of the Fruitvale Natives, took a day off Sunday and traveled to San Jose to see the game there Joe states that a big crowd witnessed the game, and the next battle ought to see one of the biggest crowds of the season at the San Jose park Perhaps the rest has done Joe some good

Carol (Dummy) Land will not be with the Fruitvale Natives for some time to come. Carol is pitching for the Merced Bears Last Sunday was his first game with the club and the tall right-hander showed the heavy batters of the Modesto Elks some classy pitching He allowed but three hits He also slammed out a hit with two men on the paths to put his team in the lead. Land whiffed nine of the visitors If the young right-hander can pitch a few more games like that he may get another trial in the Coast league

JACK DEMPSEY SEES OAKS HAMMER HIS HOME TOWN TOSSERS

SALT LAKE, July 24.—The Oaks celebrated the breaking of their losing streak, which was nine games, by hammering the slants of Sailor Stroud and Cliff Markle of the Bees all over the local ball lot yesterday afternoon, winning the game, 17 to 4, Ray (Wiz) Kremer, the Oaks' mainstay on the mound, being the winning pitcher. It was a grand old slugfest for the fans to watch, the Oaks clouting out twenty hits, while the locals found Kremer for eleven. The Oaks cinched the game by scoring four runs in the first and two in the second, but they were taking no chances, and kept picking on Markle right along.

Not being satisfied with having a 9 to 4 lead going into the ninth inning, those Oaks trotted to the plate and slammed out nine hits to make eight runs. After the game the scribes concluded that the Oaks suffered their long losing spell because they were saving all their base hits and runs until yesterday, they probably having some little reason all their own for the celebration.

Grover Back in Game And Helps in Win.

Roy Grover the young new infielder of the Oaks and who got off to a poor start in his first game by making three errors which cost the Oaks the game, did a real comeback yesterday by getting into the lineup, handling seven chances without a boot and getting on the bases four times in five trips to the plate He got two hits and scored three runs

The Oaks started out for their revenge in the first inning Lane singled and reached second when Grover was safe on Sheely's error It was a bunt that Grover ran out and Sheely dropped the ball. The two runners advanced on Cooper's out. Denny Wilie, who starred with four hits in as many times at bat, got his first hit to score Lane and Grover went to third Johnson's error gave Murphy possession of first base and Grover scored Bohne fanned and Bill Stumpf bounced the ball off the center field fence to score Wilie and Murphy

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion fighter was a spectator at the game and maybe it was because the champion told Manager Del Howard how bad the fans at home thought of the Oaks losing that his boys woke up and scored so many runs Dempsey came from Oakland the other day, so there may be some truth in the above information

After two were out in the second inning for the Oaks, Grover worked Markle for a walk and the Oaks got two more runs when Claude Cooper hoisted the ball over the right field fence.

Earl Sheely stepped to the plate to start the Bees' half of the inning and put his sixteenth homer of the season in the records by making a long drive over the left field fence That swat seemed to worry Kremer and the next three batters got hits. Johnson doubled and scored on Mulligan's single and Mulligan went to third on Spencer's single. Mulligan scored on Maggert's sacrifice fly and Spencer scored on Krug's single to center

Rumler's double and Johnson's single gave the Bees their fourth run in the fourth inning.

Walter Johnson Could Not Stop Hitting.

From the way those Oaks were hitting the horsehide, it would probably have been useless to send Walter Johnson against them In the fifth Wilie singled and went to third when Bohne reached second on Rumler's error Again Stumpf doubled to send the two runners home. Lane's single two infield outs and Wilie's single gave the visitors another in the sixth and then they waited until the ninth to do the rest of the scoring, which left the locals all played out to step to the plate for their licks in their half of the ninth

Smith was sent in to bat for Stroud in the eighth inning so that meant for Cliff Markle to do the pitching or at least try, as he did Claude Cooper greeted him with a double and advanced on Wilie's out Captain Rod Murphy scored Cooper with a single and stole second Bohne tripled to score Captain Rod and Bohne scored when Stumpf got his third hit Elliott and Kremer also caught the hitting fever and connected for singles scoring Stumpf Lane walked to fill the bags and Grover singled scoring Elliott. Kremer scored on Cooper's out and Lane and Grover scored on Wilie's single Captain Murphy got his second hit of the inning, but the side was retired when Bohne fanned

Coast League Clubs Not to Play Games on Vallejo Lot

VALLEJO, July 24.—Vallejo base- all fans will have to do without oast league baseball for some time come as the directors of the Mare sland shipfitters' aggregation of ball ssers have been informed by the ast league magnates that it is out the question to send Coast league ams here on Monday evenings to eet other than organized league ubs. The managers of the yard am had hopes of staging games be- ween the Fitters and Coast league ams that were in the metropolis n Mondays. However, the Coast eague moguls are not at all adverse the Fitters arranging a champion- hip series with the San Francisco, akland and Sacramento teams after he season comes to a close, and it more than likely that three out- town teams will be brought here is fall.

TAGGING THE BASES AROUND THE CIRCUIT

The Angels have now got a finger-nail hold on the top rung of the Pacific Coast league ladder, and they will be doing well to regain a stronger hold without letting the Vernon or San Francisco teams step ahead of them. Less than one game is keeping the Vernon club from leading the Angels and a win for the Arbuckles today with the Sacramento Coyotes keeping up their good work by beating the Angels, would put the "movie actors" in first place.

Sacramento spotted the Angels a 3-to-0 lead in the first three innings, but Otis Crandall, who was chucking for the Angels weakened in the seventh and five hits, coupled with a stolen base and an error, allowed the Coyotes to tie the score. Crandall was allowed to remain in the box and from the seventh until the eleventh inning he engaged in a pitching duel with Walter Mails, who pitched the full game for Sacramento. Niehoff's error allowed the winning run of a 4-to-3 score to dribble across the plate.

The playing by the Sacramento club is surely surprising the fans around the circuit. Bill Rodgers had the same club all season with the exception of a couple of pitchers and a catcher, Walter Mails and Schang, two players who were made castoffs by Bill Clymer of Seattle, are now a couple of the Coyotes' best-bets.

Bert Niehoff and Fabrique were turned loose by Clymer and right away they made good with the Angels, practically saving the leaders from falling from the top until now. They tell us that Clymer knows a ball player when he sees one, but it seems funny he has let those men along with Mails and Schang slip away from him.

Vernon scored five runs off Harry (Lefty) Gardner Schorr, in the box for Seattle finished up with only two runs, while the Tigers had eleven.

Byron Houck allowed six hits, and after allowing the Purple Sox to make a run in the first, he shut them out until the ninth when they made another.

One of the Seattle runs was a homer by Francios Hosp.

Chadbourne, Meusel, Borton, High and De Vormer got two hits each for Vernon.

Marty McGaffigan handled nine more chances at second for Sacramento. The batters are sure making Marty hustle around that keystone bag.

High scored four of the Vernon runs.

Lefty Mails showed good control for a left-hander. He walked three, the same number as did Crandall in the eleven innings.

Thanks to the Seals. They beat the Beavers and allowed the Oaks to regain possession of sixth place, which looks a lot better than seventh.

Local fans have been boosting for Earl (Red) Baldwin to make good with the Seals. Red's work behind the plate has been high class, but up until a week ago he was delivering few hits. However, he seems to have regained his batting eye, and connected for two hits in as many trips to the plate yesterday.

It is a nice looking race with only five games separating the leaders from the Bees who are in fourth place, and not to overlook the fact that those Sacramento Coyotes might prove real dark horses.

Big League Gossip

Alexander the Great has hit his stride for the Cubs. Pitching in the first game of a double-header against the Dodgers, he defeated Mammaux in eleven innings, shutting out Brooklyn with five hits.

Douglas duplicated Alexander's pitching feat by blanking the Dodgers in the second game, with only five hits.

When two freight trains come together something gets smashed up. Rube Benton ran into the Cincinnati Reds and the Reds got the worst of it.

The Rube, remembering that he was once a Red, helped win his own game by slamming out a homer off Sallee with two runners on.

Miller's great pitching, a four-hit shutout, gave the Pirates an even break with the Phillies in yesterday's bargain bill. Meadows won the first game for the Cravaths.

Hooper, Scott and Shannon pounded the horsehide effectively against Detroit, while three Tiger errors helped the Red Sox to victory.

There were no casualties among other clubs. The Boston-Card. wading contest was postponed by the management.

Bugs Reisigl Gets Hammered by Togs

The Emmington Togs of Pittsburg had a lot of fun chasing around the bags at the expense of Bugs Reisigl's All-Stars at Pittsburg. The Togs defeated the All-Stars by a score of 23 to 4, touching the slants of Reisigl for seventeen hits. The support given Reisigl was poor, twelve errors being made. Frank Taormina, manager of the Togs, thinks that his boys would have been able to defeat the Shastas or Best Tractors last Sunday. Buckley, who hurled for the Togs, fanned seventeen. The score:

Falkenberg Is In Form and Oaks Beat Bees

SALT LAKE, July 24.—Four thousand Salt Lake baseball fans celebrated their first half of Admission Day here by going out to the ball park this morning and watch the Oakland club slip the Bees a 6 to 2 defeat, making it two wins for the visitors out of the first three games of the series.

Big Cy Falkenberg was on the knoll for the Oaks and pitched his best game since joining that club. He kept seven hits well scattered, one of them being a homer by Carl Maggert in the eighth inning. He fanned nine of the Bee batters, three of them in a row in the eighth inning after Maggert had hit his homer and Krug singled. Claude Cooper, Oak left fielder helped Falkenburg out of a little trouble in the early innings, making two sensational one-handed catches off the boards.

Sammy Bohne and Roy Grover each got two hits off Leverenz, who twirled for the Bees. Both of Grover's counted in the run scoring, while one of Bohne's was a homer in the eighth inning. The score:

Kimball Electrics Shake Losing Streak and Beat Soldiers

After losing three games in a row, due mostly to bad breaks, the Kimball Electrics came back at Bay View diamond and put over a 6 to 5 win at the expense of the 57th Coast Artillery team. It was a tough battle all the way, but the Kimballs were there with the old pepper which was needed to win.

The local electrical workers took the lead in the first inning by scoring three runs. Woodworth was hit by a pitched ball and scored on Ward's hit. Singer was safe on an error and he scored with Ward when Goldbeck got a hit. Andy Pine, former outfielder for Santa Rosa, gave the Kimballs another run in the second when he hit a homer. Pine made three hits and scored three runs. Manager Clark made a good hand in Pine. The soldier boys scored one in the second and third and took the lead with three more in the fifth. The Kimballs tied the score in the seventh and won out in the ninth.

H. Metten pitched his first game for the Kimballs and allowed five hits besides fanning eleven. Bailey pitched a good game for the soldiers and fanned fourteen. The score:

Outfielders Needed by Yanks, Reds

By JACK VEIOCK.

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 24.—It is a strange coincidence that the Reds and Yanks, who have been injecting competitive pep into the major league race, are both short of outfielding talent.

Pat Moran has been S. O. S.'ing for an outfielder for the last two weeks and today from Boston comes the news that Miller Huggins is hunting high and low for a capable gardener.

The illness of Sherwood Magee, who is with the Reds but not fully recovered from an attack of pneumonia, forced the playing of Pitcher Bressler in the outfield with Roush and Neale.

The Yanks, with Sam Vick out of the lineup because of a severe Charley horse, are likewise handicapped. Duffy Lewis is their ace. Duffy is doing grand as usual. Ping Bodie is holding down an outfield berth, but it is keeping him out of breath. Al Wickland, newest Yank recruit, is anemic against left-hand pitching and inconsistent against the right-handers.

The Yanks will try today to shake the jinx which hauled them from first to third place during their western trip. Huggins and his men will try to make a new start. It is whispered that Huggins may take something out of Boston—perhaps Carl Mays, recalcitrant pitcher. Mays refuses to play another game with the Boston club and it is said that the Yanks stand ready to give Boston the most for him.

The Giants welcomed the sunshine here today. They also welcomed the lowly Braves. McGraw's men hope to make mince meat of the Braves and fatten their margin on the Reds before leaving for the west on a long road trip.

S. A.-Chateau Thiery Memorial Association. France recently offered a site for a United States national memorial.

ARREST GROCER TO TEST MILK LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The Supreme Court, sitting en banc, will, on September 2, hear arguments on the application of B. Reineger, a grocer, arrested by Chief of Police D. A. White yesterday for the purpose of testing the recent law regulating the sale of imitation milk and imitation milk products.

The complaint against him was based on an act of the legislature approved April 16, 1919, prohibiting the sale of certain commodities. Attorney Theodore A. Bell and the law firm of Thomas Beedy and Lanagan are defending the case for the milk company. The petition for the writ of habeas corpus claimed that the act of the legislature, under which the arrest was made, is unconstitutional.

Justice Angelotti ordered Reineger's release on bail in the sum of $250 pending the argument as to the constitutionality of the law.

BRUTALITY IN U. S. CAMPS ADMITTED

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Admission that American soldiers, held in prisons and camps in and near Paris, suffered brutalities for which several minor officers were convicted in court-martial proceedings was obtained from General March, chief of staff, by a special House war investigating committee.

The prisoners, as far as the records showed, were held because of absence without leave late last year from their military units and a cablegram from General Pershing sent three days ago from Paris declared "some of these men were among the hardest characters in the American expeditionary force."

General Pershing's cablegram disclosed the conviction against four officers at prison farm No. 2 and its adjoining stockade. Two of the officers, it said, were imprisoned after being found guilty by court-martial. onviction of four other officers was disclosed by reports of Brigadier General Edward A. Kreger, acting judge advocate general.

Lieutenant Frank H. Smith, the well known "hard boiled" officer in charge of farm No. 2, it was disclosed, is serving an eighteen months' sentence at Governor's island, because of his maltreatment of prisoners. Smith, the chief of staff explained, came from Kentucky, and was sent to Europe after he had tried to get a commission in the Philippine Scouts. Smith's original sentence of three years was reduced by reviewing authorities.

To Whom It May Concern:
I have had female trouble for over a year and could get no relief. I have doctored with several doctors and have been in the hospitals at different times, but could get no help.
I finally heard of Dr. Sing through a patient of his who had been cured of piles by the doctor. I went to see him and after taking 5 weeks' treatment I am nearly cured of my trouble, but am still doctoring with him.
I can never thank or express my appreciation of Dr. Sing and all he has done for me. Sincerely,

San Francisco Exchange

Oil — Mining

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Irregularity of the Divide stocks and a late strengthening movement in the Comstocks provided features for the mining shares market during the morning session. Divide Extension advanced at the opening, but quickly reacted. Operator, a recent strong feature, broke sharply from 13c to 8c, while Toggery, which reported a strike in the property, sold as high as 45c. Brougher Divide recovered to $1.60 and Tonopah Divide changed hands a point higher at $7.02½. Ophir took the lead in the Comstock advance, selling from $1.50 to $1.90 in a very short space of time. Mexican failed to follow the movement, but Con Virginia remained strong around $2.85.

Goldfields displayed a firm undertone. Favorable reports sent Rescue prices higher to 23c, while other West Tonopah stocks displayed little activity.

BETHLEHEM PAYS USUAL DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on common stock, classes A and B, payable September 15.

The extra dividend was eliminated, directors announced, feeling it wise to conserve the corporation's resources against a somewhat uncertain future."

The statement said the shipbuilding plants of the corporation are producing at capacity and that mills are running at about 60 per cent. In some important lines capacity is being maintained. Small orders from railroads, normally the largest buyers of steel, has held down production, it was stated.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, July 24.—Dry weather tended today to give an advantage to bulls in the corn market. Opening quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜c higher, with September $1.95 and December $1.66⅛@1.67, were followed by moderate further gains and then again reaction.

Word that new high price records for corn had been established in Argentina was something of a bullish factor, but was more than offset later by domestic reports of cloudy conditions and cooler temperatures. The market closed unsettled, ½c net lower to ⅜c advance, with September $1.95⅜@1.95½, and December $1.66⅜@1.66⅝c.

After opening unchanged to ¼c off, including September at 79⅞@80c, oats hardened a little and then sagged again.

Provisions were firmer for ribs but easier for lard.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, $1.95½; No. 2 yellow, $1.95@1.99½.

Rye, No. 2, $1.60@1.61.

Barley, $1.25@1.35.

Timothy, $8@11.50.

Clover, nominal.

The close:

Corn—Sept., $1.95⅜; Dec., $1.66⅜.

Oats—Sept., 80¼c; Dec., 83c.

Pork—Sept., $51.80.

Lard—Sept., $34.63; Oct., $34.47.

Ribs—July, $29; Sept., $28.50.

TRIPLE FETE ON BAY WHEN FLEET COMES

Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and, in fact, virtually every city and town in the Eastbay district, will join San Francisco in extending a welcome to the men and officers of the new Pacific fleet, which will arrive in San Francisco bay about the middle of next month. At the last meeting of the executive committee in San Francisco plans were discussed for War Women's day, the fleet welcoming and the reception to President Wilson.

That no one community is to monopolize this celebration was the sense of the meeting.

John F. Chambers, member of the civil service commission of Oakland, Mayor F. H. Bartlett of Berkeley and Charles R. Smith of Alameda proffered the aid of these communities in entertaining the quarter of a million visitors who are expected in the bay cities at the time of this celebration in mid-August.

BIGGEST BAY CELEBRATION.

A motion was passed requesting the supervisors of San Francisco to appropriate $10,000 for general entertainment purposes for the biggest celebration that the bay has known.

A combined executive committee was formed upon the amalgamation of the War Women's day, municipal fleet welcoming committee and supervisors, which will direct the triple celebration.

Gavin McNab, a vice-chairman of the combined executive committee, presided over the meeting and expressed Mayor Rolph's wish that a great civic banquet be tendered to the officers of the warships and certain representatives of the enlisted personnel of each vessel. That the enlisted men be represented at the banquet appealed to the committee as eminently appropriate.

Colonel Thornwell Mullally, director general of War Women's day, had a motion passed that it be the sense of the executive board that the enlisted men of the navy be in every way the particular guests of the community.

DOWNTOWN HEADQUARTERS.

Proffers of the Y. M. C. A. and War Camp Community Service to provide downtown headquarters for the men were announced. The Y. M. C. A. has maintained a sailors' headquarters at the waterfront for many years. War Camp Community Service is organizing an important meeting place and club for the men at 220 Post street.

The headquarters for the Women's Day committee, opened two weeks ago in the Palace Hotel building at 665 Market street, was adopted as the official working headquarters of all combined committees for the celebration.

Another meeting of the executive board will be held next Tuesday at 3 o'clock. The executive board now includes: Mayor James Rolph, chairman; Gavin McNab, vice-chairman; William Sproule, vice-chairman; William F. Benedict, executive secretary; Horace Allen, Harry Bogart, Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, Paul T. Carroll, Phil T. Clay, John L. Davie of Oakland, Herbert Fleishhacker, J. Emmet Hayden, William B. Hamilton, William F. Humphreys, John D. Hynes, William L. Hughson, Marshall Hale, Andrew G. McCarthy, Colonel Thornwell Mullally, Major Robert A. Ross, Charles S. Stanton, Charles R. Smith of Alameda.

OAKLAND WOMAN IS LEADER.

An organization whose patriotic work through three wars has made them an essential part of the War Women's Day festivities to be held in San Francisco next month is the "Women and Girl Workers of the Civil War."

Mrs. S. H. Wilson of 1902 Castro street, Oakland, is the representative of this organization who is making the plans for their participation in the big triple celebration of War Women's Day, the fleet welcoming and the presidential reception to be held in mid-August.

400 WOMEN, ALL OVER 67.

Mrs. Wilson reports that there are 400 members of this order in the bay cities and that so far as they have reported to her they wish to be a part of the parade on War Women's Day. All these women are over 67 years old, but their enthusiasm is as young as it was in the days of the civil and the Spanish wars.

Mrs. Wilson received the assurance of the committee that provision would be made for the Women and Girl Workers of the Civil War.

According to present plans the women are to review the parade. However, if they do not march place in the reviewing stands will be made for these heroines of three wars.

Eastbay Fete Committees Named Will Aid in Triple Celebration

The following named persons from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda will constitute the committee appointed by Mayor Rolph of San Francisco to Welcome President Wilson, the men and officers of the new Pacific fleet and in general act as assistants to the festivities consequent upon the observance of War Women's Day:

DOUGHBOYS CIRCUS.

COBLENZ, Tuesday, July 22.—(By The Associated Press).—The circus of the First Division, which recently gave shows at Montabaur, is going on the road in Germany and perhaps will continue its tour in Belgium, France and England.

WANTED
NEWSPAPER CARRIER BOYS
GOOD PAY
APPLY GEO. W. BOYD, 34 East Santa Clara street, San Jose, Calif.

STRIKERS WILL GET $72 EACH AS BACK PAY

Official advices of the payment by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company of the retro-active wage scale to January 1 last for the period from that date to June 16, the day the linemen and operators on the Pacific Coast walked out, was received this morning by the company and International Vice-President L. C. Grasser, for the workers, from Washington.

This payment, which averages $72 each for the 12,000 operators on the Pacific coast, figures slightly in excess of $160 each for the linemen and preparations to pay it will be immediately made so as to be concluded before July 31, when the lines are returned to private ownership.

Postmaster-General Burleson's statement included not only the lines of the Bell system on the Pacific coast, but also the workers in the independent companies in Southern California, whose wage scale is automatically increased, though they took little or no part in the strike concluded yesterday.

Telephone conditions here, according to the traffic department of the company, had virtually returned to normal at 8 this morning, all of the exchanges operating with their old forces, except Bakersfield, which is still defiant. Grasser said this morning he expected the local there would return to work tomorrow morning.

Coastwise Trade to Be Closed to Aliens

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Included in legislation which the House expects to dispose of before the proposed recess to begin next month will be a bill for the deportation of 500 enemy aliens, now at internment camps, and a measure to prevent foreign ships from engaging in coastwise trade.

WOMEN HELP MEN IN FIGHT WITH BANDITS

Following an unsuccessful attempt to rob two men and two women, and a pitched battle, in which the women joined, near the Harrison-street railroad tower in Alameda, two footpads are being sought in Oakland and Alameda. John Purcell and John Ford, of 1227 Twenty-first avenue, Oakland, and two women companions put the thugs to rout last evening.

According to the story of the four near-victims, the two men stopped them as they approached the tower, one leveling a revolver, and demanded their valuables. Purcell struck the man who had the revolver, knocking him down, and the second man jumped on him from behind. Ford and the women then joined in the attack.

A towerman, Raymond Henderson, heard the noise and telephoned the police, then leaving his tower to help the attacked party. The two bandits, seeing his approach, fled.

The police believe that the bandits were the same who recently have held up several people about the Webster-street bridge.

Jailbreak Plot in L. A. Is Thwarted

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Plans for a jailbreak at the Los Angeles city jail were frustrated early today when a sailor held for desertion from the San Pedro submarine base, told detectives of the plot.

He told his story while being taken to the submarine base at San Pedro after having been in incarceration here. The detectives immediately telephoned jail authorities and an investigation was followed by segregation of the prisoners, an increased guard and other precautionary measures.

A party of fifteen prisoners had originated the idea, according to the police, planning to seize the jail keys, overpower the jailers and effect a general jail delivery. Leaders had told their plans to other prisoners and a large number had joined the plot, it was declared.

St. Mary's College Buys New Site School to Locate at San Leandro

St. Mary's College which since 1889 has been a landmark at Broadway and Hawthorne street is to be abandoned within the coming two years. Rumor is confirmed that the great Catholic institution for young men is to be moved from the center of population into the foothills and the ambition of the brothers of the faculty is to be realized. However, Alameda county will not lose the educational institution for the board of trustees today announced the purchase of a 250 acre tract of land consisting of a section of the Duhrst estate in San Leandro close to the city limits.

When St. Mary's college was established the Broadway site was considered on the edge of the city's population. The swift development, however, of Oakland and her suburbs has brought the several acres within a business district. Even before the recent fire a plan to remove the college was discussed to which the catastrophe gave emphasis. The buildings have been remodeled to accomodate the students until the newer structures are completed. The deed to the new site was signed on July 22. James J. McElroy and Bert Shine, attorney, represented St. Mary's College in the transaction.

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN SOON.

The college will begin the immediate construction of a magnificent series of buildings. It is estimated that from one to two years will be necessary to complete them.

The encroachments of the city and the growing popularity of the college has forced the purchase of the property.

Speaking of it, Brother Gregory, president, said:

"It is our intention to establish a permanent location on the newly purchased site. We shall build, not only for the present, but for future development and expansion. We hope to erect a group of college buildings of which California shall be justly proud."

Included in the plans for construction are a theater, an athletic stadium, baseball and football fields, an outdoor swimming tank, a library, dormitories, a chaped, and a group of class buildings and halls.

Work on the drafting of the plans for the buildings and the preliminary work on the land will commence immediately. Meanwhile the college will be conducted in the building built in 1889 at the present location.

FIRST MOVE IN 1889.

The college will move for the second time when the Christian Brothers take charge of the planned edifices. The institution was founded in 1863 by Archbishop Alemany. It was conducted by the secular clergy until 1868, when eight members of the order of Christian Brothers, including the famous Brother Justin, arrived from New York and took over the college. In 1889 it was transferred from San Francisco to Oakland.

The college was twice razed by fire, once in 1894 and the other in 1918.

At the present time the college is one of the leading Catholic institutions on the Pacific slope. Hundreds of young men from all of the western states and the Hawaiian Islands attend the institution every year.

Just what is to be done with the present block on which the college is located has not been decided. The institution occupies the entire block bounded by Broadway, Hawthorne, Webster and Orchard streets, consisting of eight acres. This property is in the direct path of the fast growing Oakland "automobile row." It has been bid for several times by various automobile concerns.

STRIKE ENDED AS DOUGHBOYS' COIN GAVE OUT

PARIS, July 12 (By mail).—The strike of the midinettes in the fashionable costumer shops of the Rue de la Paix lasted until American soldiers' money ran out, according to some of the Parisian weeklies.

The doughboys gave all their sympathy to the strikers, whirled them about in taxis and took them to the races at Longchamps. When their supply of francs ran low the girls returned to work.

WHITLOCK TO RETURN.

BRUSSELS, July 24 (by the Associated Press).—Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, will leave for the United States Saturday on a two months' vacation. It is generally believed that Whitlock will not return to Brussels, but will proceed to Italy to replace Thomas Nelson Page as ambassador.

POLICE ADVICE MIGHT CAUSE HIM TO STEAL

The romance of William Kiff, with its pugilisitc embellishments and police decorations, is still fermenting like a piece of yeast in a hogshead of brew, and the police, the courts and a local express company are figures in the second chapter of the story of love that has a path as smooth as a file.

Kiff wants his clothes. They're in his wife's trunk—and her landlady won't turn it over.

He's hired lawyers and threatens suit.

Kiff appeared last night before Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen, following his arrest several days ago in Chico, when his wife and Sergeant A. M. Sanderson found him in company with Mrs. Kate Ryan, and when Mrs. Kiff inflicted personal chastisement on the rival charmer. He informed Petersen that his clothes were in his wife's trunk, in a rooming house operated by Mrs. J. H. Collins, at 2111 Webster street. He said his wife had left town. He wanted to know how to get his clothes.

"Well, under the law a wife can't steal from a husband or a husband from a wife," said Petersen. "That's about all I could suggest."

Kiff went to the rooming house and demanded the trunk. Mrs. Collins refused to turn it over. Kiff appealed to Petersen again.

"Sure—she's right," siad the captain. "The trunk was left in her custody by your wife; she can't deliver it to any one except on your wife's orders."

"But you said—" began Kiff.

"I said that a husband can't be arrested for stealing from his wife," said Petersen. "I didn't say anything about landladies."

Kiff patched up a reconciliation with his wife and this morning the case was dismissed by Police Judge George Samuels. The couple appeared in court. Kiff said he had not seen Mrs. Ryan since the night of his arrest.

In 1917 we said:
Fifty-eight per clock-tick
Every time the clock ticks, fifty-eight Fatimas are lighted somewhere in the United States. No other high-grade cigarette has so many unchanging, unswerving friends.
The Fatima Turkish blend is so carefully balanced that it has none of the after-effects of heavier, less skillfully blended tobaccos. That's why Fatimas are sensible—as your first package will prove.
FATIMA
A Sensible Cigarette
now 79 a clock-tick
—a gain of 21 per clock-tick since 1917
FATIMA'S big gains are mostly among men who like the Turkish tobacco taste but who tire of the over-richness of too much Turkish.
One way of proving this is to point to the fashionable clubs and hotels of the country.
Until a year or so ago these places had little call for any but straight Turkish cigarettes.
Today at nearly all of them, East and West, Fatima is a leader—at many of them, in fact, the largest seller.
If you want just enough Turkish, try Fatimas.
